THE HEADMASTER'S ADDRESS

105th Annual Prize Day

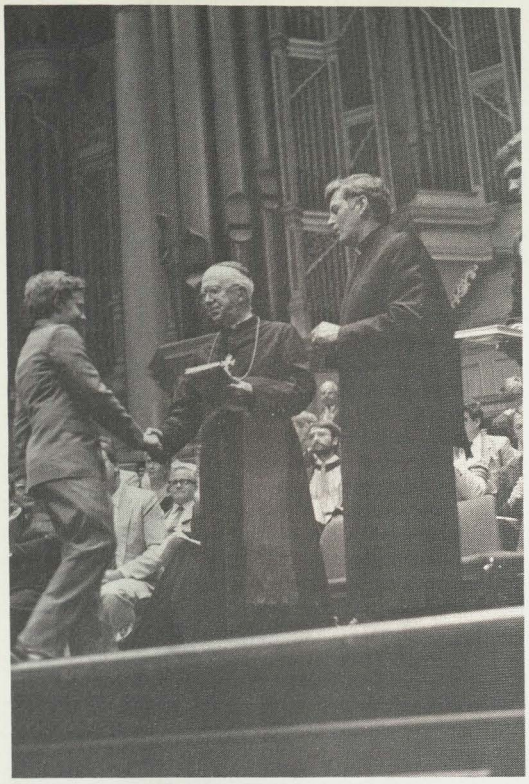

October 11, 1984

Your Eminence, Rev. Father Rector, masters and ladies of the staff, fathers and brothers of the Jesuit community, parents and students of Saint Ignatius' College, Riverview;

As we go into our 105th Speech Day this afternoon, it does not need too much imagination or experience to realize that the Riverview College community has reached that stage where it can find anniversaries and centenaries for all sorts of occasions. For example, we celebrated the one hundred years of rowing a couple of years ago, but this year were also able to mark the occasion of the 100th Regatta hosted by our Sheds, and we will have the one hundredth Gold Cup Regatta yet to come! As with Rowing so with Cardinals, Your Eminence. On September 22nd, 1884—just more than one hundred years and three weeks ago—Cardinal Francis Moran who had arrived only a few days earlier as the new Archbishop of Sydney visited "The College of Saint Ignatius at Riverview" (as it used to be termed in an age of more flourish) and was received with much Hibernian pomp and circumstance. Whatever of that, we trust that Your Eminence is well aware of the affection and warmth with which you are regarded in this community, a warmth that was well expressed in the applause you received when you last celebrated Mass for us. You have been a friend of the school and of individual Jesuits for many years and you honour us with your presence. We are a bigger crowd now than the one Cardinal Moran saw, and there is still some pomp in these surroundings and I take the circumstance of your kind presence to ask the College community now to welcome you in the customary manner.

This Speech Day marks the second occasion in recent times when the whole student body has been able to be present to acknowledge those who have done well at school in studies, and studies are of course basic to the life of the school. "Education is the key to leadership. . .", as the last Father General wrote. It has always been a part of the Jesuit thrust in schooling that the scholar is a leader, can serve society. A man with an idea can change a community, can affect one or more ages, be he Vincent de Paul, or Karl Marx. What the giants can do on the world stage each of you can do in your own scene, ad maiorem Dei gloriam. We have all sorts of ways at school for showing our appreciation for those who do or try well in music, debating, sport or theatre. Speech Day provides the occasion for the school community to salute those who have also undertaken the pursuit of academic excellence. The applause for the class dux, and especially for the Dux of the College, should be especially strong.

Expectations and exhortations for leadership can appear to be a tyranny for any of us, yet alone the young men of Year 12 who are to leave us to go into a world they did not form. Few of us want to lead, because of the discomfort and because it is too daunting. Also, because it requires an ability, a talent. The qualities of a leader as listed by Plato or by Thomas More seem to require the super-human, for utopias far less complex than twentieth-century Australia. But if any of you before me do have that flair, that gift, then you must work to exercise it when the right moment arrives in God's plan for you in His world. "Come, I will make you fishers of men", said Christ to a most unpromising lot. So do not underestimate His plan for you.

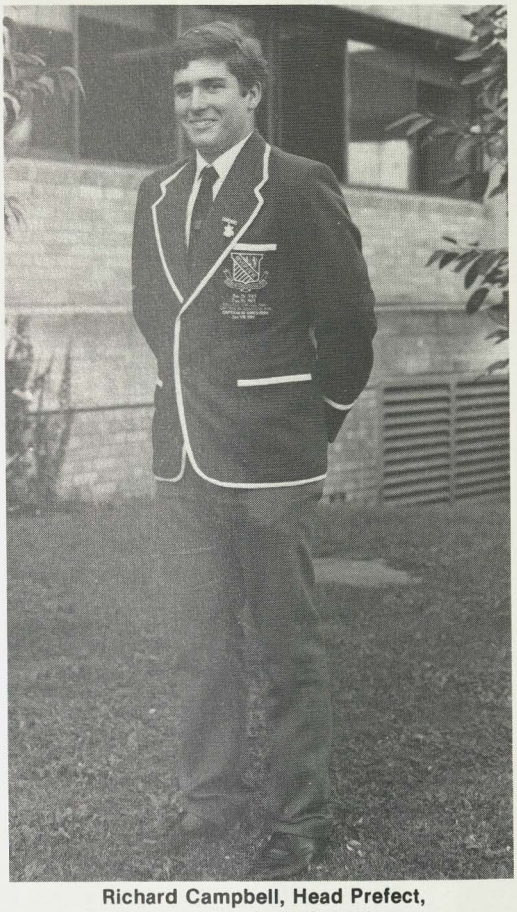

His Eminence Cardinal Sir James Freeman on Prize Day

However, there is a leadership by example that is open to all of us, no matter what large or small degree of personal charm or talent we possess, and that is the leadership this school has urged on you from the day you began here. Some of you should look very seriously at the prospect of leadership roles in politics or media or the Union movement or the local district or the Arts or the academic world; leadership for service of others as part of your Christian vocation, sharing the giftedness with others for the sake of a better society. If you have talents in any of those areas then you must ponder seriously your obligation to fulfil them. Each of our Year 12 students is called to the perhaps less spectacular but indispensable leadership example of being your own Christian man, a leadership of self-reliance, not a following of the crowd, the leadership of a man with his own set of strong values based on faith and integrity.

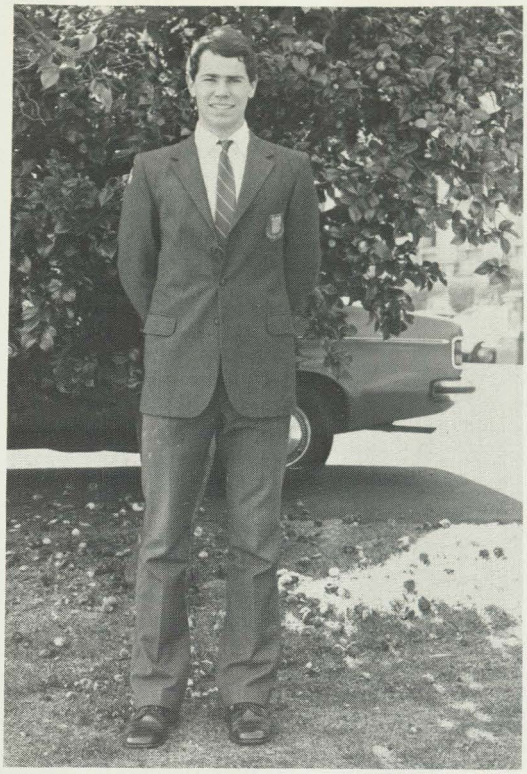

And each of you hereafter should be involved in some form of community organization at each stage of your lives, just as Christ came not to be served, but to serve. It may be the Parish Council, it may be Amnesty International, it may be the Shire Council, whatever. Increasingly, we each of us need antidotes to self-centredness. And, increasingly, you will need to be your own man, not dictated to by others, if personal rights and individual freedom is to flourish, even in our own Australia.

The history of individual freedom in European Australia is interesting when one recalls that we commenced as a gaol, with little scope for individual freedom, even for the free settlers. Government control was the accepted order of things, necessarily. We developed in our history and the range of individual freedom grew as Government assumed a less supervisory role.

In the Church's social theory the State exists only to provide what the individual cannot. There must be a balance between the individual's freedom and the common good so that the former does not destroy the latter, of course. It seems however that our senior students are to go into a world where State interference and intervention is increasing. The Australian who would not allow conscription in the First World War did allow it for Vietnam, and has perhaps continued to lie down in the presence of the State. In New South Wales, for example, there is an extraordinary amount of interference in school curriculum by the State, far more than elsewhere, and yet school principals seem nonchalant about it; we are currently being informed of the precise number of hours per week that a subject should be taught, even though a school might have a proved tradition of its own. When all of the schools are forced to teach all of the prescribed subjects for all of the prescribed hours then there will be no diversity, no differentiation of individuality for differing styles or traditions or insights, but rather the flavour of each school will be bland, a clone of its neighbour. Vive la difference say the French, and so must any democracy which cherishes freedom.

Richard Campbell, Head Prefect, Captain of the School

The imposition on the majority of the favoured option of a minority seems to be on the increase in our society as we become more controllable through the media. That is why I have urged you, our senior students to be your own men, to be self-reliant men, being critical thinkers and trusting your own principles and Christian faith. We who have taught you would not want to see you in later life as categorized into a people of a predictable and prejudiced reaction as Right Wing or Left Wing, Liberal or Conservative, uncritically accepting a viewpoint pushed on you by a pressure group which has secured some control over the means of media or Parliament. Jesuits schools, especially those dealing with students of your varied backgrounds, need to produce self-thinking men (that is what I mean by self-reliant) with a commitment to justice, men able or at least willing to try to assess the social movements of the time so that they are not swayed uncritically one way or the other, for or against, and yet committed to work for individual rights or the common good in serving the wider community. This is the ideal of "the young scholar. . . able to walk alone" given out by the Riverview Prefect of Studies in 1883, and the idea of Fr. Arrupe with his exhortation that our Jesuit students become "men for others". Our work for Christ will need to be wholehearted and generous, and necessarily incomplete "until He comes". The Father General furthered this idea of our Christianity showing itself forth in deeds of justice when he wrote in another document that if there is someone hungry somewhere in the world then the celebration of the Eucharist is diminished everywhere in the world.

In 1984 the programmes to serve and to raise the consciousness of boys on social issues continued. The year began with the annual Indochinese Camp, designed some years ago as a Riverview venture to assist the settling in of refugees, using College facilities and organised mainly by Miss Bayldon and attended by a significant number of recent Old Boys from here and ex-students from Loreto as assistants, playing host for refugees, offering them the rare opportunity of an early and sustained contact with young Australians. The backlash against Asian immigration that we are currently experiencing may make such Camps even more important after an evaluation next year.

Each school has what is called a "hidden curriculum"—it is not the curriculum that is published or talked about necessarily, but the one that is noted through observing how the school operates, what it actually spends time and money on, as time and money are obviously key instruments for any priorities. I would hope that our students and parents would note the effort given to the community awareness programmes, designed to introduce our boys to people who have much to teach the boys about the richness of life, as they have been taught it through age or sickness or handicap, so that our boys may be helped to grow into young men of compassion and appreciation.

For numbers of class days for Year 10 and for numbers of Friday afternoons for Year 11 ordinary classes were suspended and the boys taken to dozens of centres over many weeks. The logistics of transport and arrangement are horrific as the lay and Jesuit staff involved organised 360 boys into so many centres in Sydney and in the country, not once but many times. Numbers of highly appreciative letters were received from some of those places, and I know that some of our students continue to visit people they met, but what the long-term good effect of such programmes will be remains to be seen; some of the answers will rest with you who are about to leave us.

The collecting for causes such as Austcare, Red Cross, Project Compassion and the Salvation Army has its part in our plan of effort to help make our students aware. The recent formation of the Amnesty International Group at school, and the fund-raising evening, was another form of activity.

Through the House system we saw the largest involvement of boys for many years in the mammoth work of the Indian Jesuit Mission that is represented by the Indian Bazaar.

A challenge quite close to us because of our large number of country boarders, and a challenge which we appear to continue to fail as a Christian school is that of our attitude towards Aborigines. I am not speaking of land rights or mining rights, but simply how one talks about them as people. "It's all right for you, Father, you don't have to live with them." Yet even when Fr. Brian McCoy, S.J. who has lived with the Aborigines for years and far more closely than anyone here, and who spent six weeks of his tertianship working with our boys this year, even when he pointed to his experience, it did not seem to count greatly. Boys pick up their attitude towards Aborigines from somewhere, and parents and teachers must examine their consciences on this point; it is surely to be expected of us as Christians to speak of others in a manner that is not a consistently derogatory one. If we downgrade a group of people in speech, then is this not anti-Christian? Are we not part of the problem rather than, with our view of man as made in the image and likeness of God, part of the solution? For some years we have sponsored some Year 11 boys to go to Thursday Island or to Townsville to live with those who work alongside Aboriginal people, but little effective spin off has been noted from this programme beyond that of the impact on the individual students. Appropriate attitudes towards Aborigines as people is an area of great concern to us as a school because it affects so many of our families directly, as it has for 104 years. It is an area of justice and Gospel values for us, and one in which we must continue to do much thinking and action before we can claim that we are rising to the challenge.

In this same area, of the need to link the vision that our senior boys have of themselves with the need to be committed to justice in the world, the Pro Life Group has been the source of much consolation. Now in its second year and run almost entirely by the senior boys, with help from Mr. Bowie, the Group sponsored a series of talks on issues affecting the quality of life, such as drugs, alcohol, abortion, and these talks were given to most of the classes over a week. The Old Ignatians Union this year sponsored two young old boys to attend an interstate conference on social justice, and will repeat the sponsorship next year. And throughout the year, in Form Masters' Assemblies, in Chapel services and at Mass, at Headmaster's Assemblies, there has been the exhortation repeated time and again, that you pursue excellence for others; a Riverview graduate who leaves us with ambitions that are simply self-centred does so in the face of much and many reminders for the opposite—the generous man, the man concerned to be and do "the more" for his Lord and for his community.

There are 176 of our Year 12's who are to leave us this year. Know your sense of mission. If this was a Communist school in Australia, graduating such numbers each year, I wonder what social impact we might make. You have far more to offer to the world than a communist; you are disciples of a far greater Person than Marx. You have done well in your school career; may you live your Christian mission to the world well. A Sydney priest wrote recently, "our Catholic schools still produce their quota of racists, sexists, capitalists and war-minded". I am not sure that there is anything antiChristian in either Capitalism or Socialism in theory; in practice in some countries both have been just as bad. For the rest, however, the racists, the sexists and the war-minded, many students of Riverview need to take the warning seriously and show in their adult lives that such descriptions are false.

It is a strange world into which you go. Whatever of the dignity of secular humanism as a philosophy the results have been disturbing in terms of what we hope for in society. While a secular humanism is the only alternative in schooling there will be an urgent need for Christian schools. We have ended up with a society of diminished values where Sunday trading is forbidden but terminating of pregnancy is permitted, also on Sundays. Our politicians concentrate on scandals, to hurt of the body politic. We have a new puritanism of health, a new righteousness of bodily perfection while we allow a permissiveness that destroys abiding relationships, and the soul. That is paganism. On Sunday mornings a new symbol can be seen—non-church people jogging past churches with great fidelity and self-sacrifice, justified by a new non-faith.

Minority viewpoints are able to dominate through lobbying or entering the parliamentary process and individual liberties are threatened as such views are foistered on all. That is why you Year 12's, and all those who follow, must be your own men, deciding your own mind, so that individual liberties may persist. The Centenary Hymn ends, "We honour liberty". Liberty from coercian; liberty for availability for others. I am no longer allowed to advertise for a groundsman, but it must be a groundsperson. I must acknowledge a de facto relationship to be esteemed on parity with a public marriage for two people. In employing I must prefer membership of a Union to competence in teaching. I must pretend that a homosexual lifestyle is normal. Minority pressure groups representing single issues are dictating to me as they secure control of sections of parliament. To this one adds the increasing claims of the local Councils, informing me whether or not a diseased tree may be lopped. In the Lane Cove municipality we have the paradox of a tree preservation order, but also an abortion clinic.

A challenge we face is over-reaction and rejection of the good, the prophetic element in many of the single issue movements. You must be able to think critically to discern the good in whatever cause. Prejudice has made life a misery for various groups. As I said last year movements like the Conservationists and the nuclear disarmament groups need your presence. As groups they attract extremists but they also attract people of vision who see that we are to be stewards of God's earth, not despoilers, who realise that the earth cannot grow a second crop of minerals. Over 120 of you marched in the Peace March on Palm Sunday as young people all over the world (where they are free) show in increasing numbers their dread of the nuclear possibility. We are on a course of madness. The number of buttons able to be pushed to commence Armageddon is too many, totally. In talking of Australians the poet A.D. Hope wrote:

> In them at last the ultimate men arrive
> Whose boast is not: "we live" but "we survive",
> A type who will inhabit the dying earth.

He wrote that fifty years ago, but it may be more apposite now. You are to be men of life because Christ came that we might have life, and have it to the full. Too many people do not live, relishing life; they simply survive, fill in the waking hours. Unless you become active in movements for life and peace then those groups will lack a further Christian presence and reason for hope. Hope is the gift of the Christian. They need your conviction that good can overcome evil, your knowledge that just as Christ has overcome death so Christians may be able to help the world avoid the horror of nuclear war. The challenge is now yours as it is now to be your world.

The year has been reported on in details elsewhere, in the weekly Viewpoint, in Circulars to Parents at end of Term, in our Alma Mater, and there is no need here this year to list the accomplishments of the year in studies, cultural activities and sport. Our academic results were again very solid and we have done very well in that area for some years. In last year's H.S.C. the dux of the school, Simon Evans, gained an aggregate of 480. Sixteen per cent of our students placed themselves in the top 5% of the State. Twenty-five out of 158 candidates earned 400 or over. Maths is strong; out of 243 entrants for the Westpac Competition, 209 received Distinction or Credits. I pay special tribute to John Graham, of More House, Year 11, who came first in the State competing against Year 12 students as well, in the difficult IBM Maths Competition. There were thirteen Year 7 students who earned Unicef Art Awards, and that augurs well for the future.

Sport was a rich experience this year. 1984 saw all schools very conscious of the need for safety in football and steps were taken to make Rugby safer. We made history in introducing six Soccer teams and two Australian Rules teams, both codes doing very well in their first year, though it was a second occasion for Australian Rules after a ninety-two year lapse. Will Cummins broke a record for the number of tries in a G.P.S. match, a record that had held since 1917; we must pay tribute to his former coaches! We had Michael Delany as an Olympian and Silver Medallist for his country in swimming. We had premierships in the 2nd XV Rugby and the Senior Athletics. Our record in Athletics has been strong and we have gained Junior or Senior in both premierships since 1978. I wish to pay tribute to two Year 12 sportsmen; Anthony Dempsey this year captained the 1st XV, was selected for the G.P.S. Firsts and was made captain of the Australian Schoolboys' Rugby team, playing against Japan and New Zealand. Ray Smith has been an outstanding champion athlete. The number of victories Ray has won over the past six years has not been calculated by me, but I know that he won 95 of our 266 points at the G.P.S. sports this year and a total of 492 points in 6 years competition. I congratulate you both.

Drama was strong for another year now and this was most heartening; it is an area of personal development that we need to emphasise more. This year several hundred boys were engaged in the five dramatic productions that we staged and hundreds more in the music concerts and debating activities. The Debating Society grows in numbers to its present 250 boys and that is a most reassuring growth. Music flourishes in the Bands and Orchestra, the Concerts and Eisteddfods.

1984 was dominated by other events. Great tribute must be paid to each of you for the extraordinary success of the Greg Moran Appeal; of the $388,000 raised some $71,000 was raised by you students. I thank the other schools who showed such solidarity and charity with us and for the generosity of their gifts. Especially I thank the President of the O.I.U., Mr. Adrian Miller, for his outstanding work in organising that successful appeal. And of course the whole College pays tribute to Greg—we have heard some of his poetry, have seen his paintings but we have never heard him complain and always see him smiling. Greg Moran in your first year since the accident you have been a powerful influence for good for all of us: You are an excellent example of the school motto and on behalf of the College I pay tribute to you.

I touch lightly on one topic here that affected our year, the death of Jude Bunbury, "one of Riverview's outstanding sons" as he was described in a Staff Notice. I am pleased to note that his name is now linked to a music prize as he was the first Captain of Music at the College.

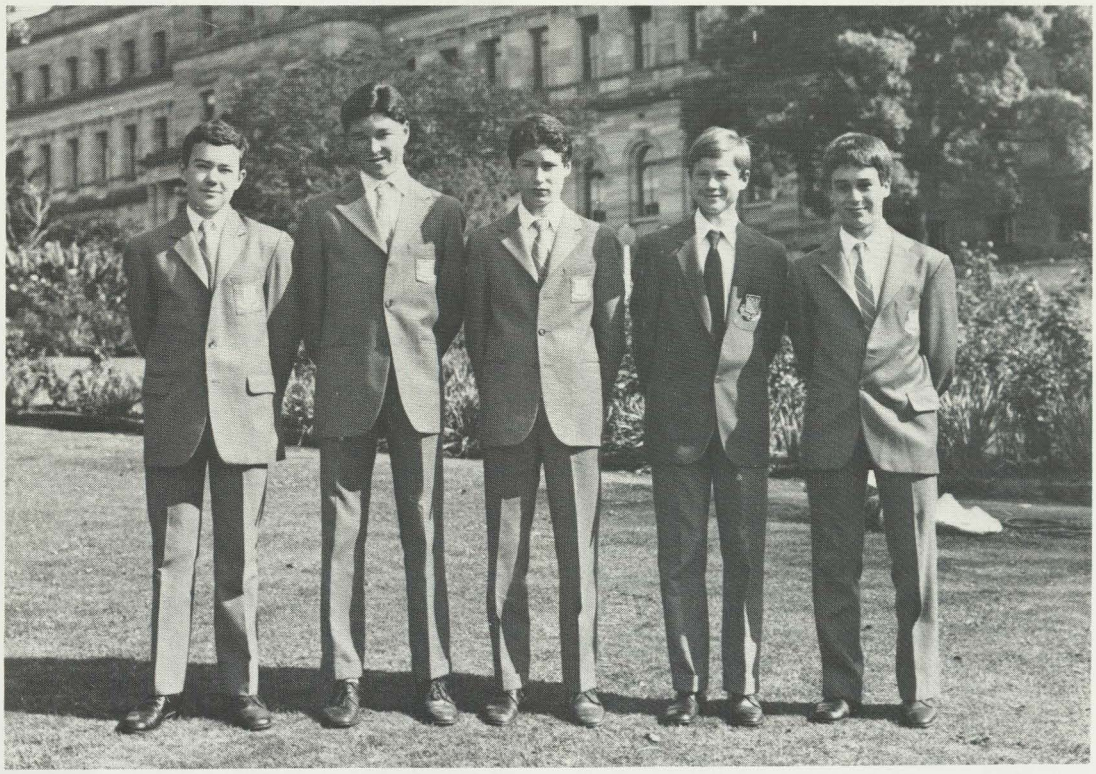

To Richard Campbell I offer our thanks for his Captaincy of the school. You will recall the enormous ovation he received here on this occasion last year, an indication of his popularity with you. I found him a loyal, dependable and utterly unflappable Captain of School! So thank you Richard—it was a good choice and you fulfilled your task well.

Fr. Norden, Mr. Van Bergen, Mr. Hughes, Mr. Whiteman, Mr. Bradshaw and Mr. Hayes are to leave us. Some are going to new schools, some to new studies, one to build on his experience here and work as chaplain to prisoners. To all of you, for the years, the words "thank you" are so brief but we do thank you now and wish you every blessing. Mr. Kinnaird is to resign as Master-in-Charge of the Junior School. He will take up new work in Years 8 and 9, assisting with maths. For the calibre of your leadership of the Junior School over the last nine years the College is indebted to you, Sir, and on its behalf I thank you.

Brother Leonard has been on our staff for sixteen years, and for fifteen of those years has been the much appreciated Fifth Division Prefect, the Boarding Master for our Junior Boarding. Faced with parents entrusting their young sons to us Brother Leonard has earned a very high reputation. Over nine hundred boarders have commenced their days at Riverview under Brother's care. Many of those nine hundred would have forgotten the hours he spent on them, or taken it for granted that someone should gather up their dry cleaning or check their sports gear or spend hours with them when they were sick or give up his own day off to take them for a drive—and all this for fifteen years. Brother Leonard is to undertake some studies in Melbourne next year—I hope he will return to Riverview but no one can predict that yet. For those many hours and on behalf of all those young boarders thank you Laurence and may your year be very fulfilling.

Year Twelves—a significant phase of your lives ends tomorrow at the Dismissal Blessing at the end of the Valete Mass. Remember us with affection as we will you. For all you have given us—your goodness, loyalty and generosity—we thank you. May the Lord bless you all your days. May Ignatius and all the Saints of the Society of Jesus intercede for you. May you live worthily of your parents who gave you life and love and nurture, and of us who taught you.

The Captain speaks to the School

Your Eminence, Father O'Kelly, Members of Staff, Parents and Fellow Students:

The academic year of 1984 is drawing to a close. Another Form of boys is leaving the school for the last time as students of Riverview. There are in us all mixed feelings of trepidation and expectation; perhaps some are even counting the days! There is, however, more to the end of our school days than the week or, in some cases the weeks, which people spend at parties or the beach. It is a time of great change and some sadness. For us who are leaving it is the end of our days of being protected and we must be prepared for this. To those of you who are remaining goes the responsibility of maintaining and uplifting the school. It is also your responsibility to instill the traditions of Riverview into the younger body. We of Year 12 wish you luck in every aspect of school life next year.

The end of our academic year is a time of assessment. Have we been a fully participating community or have some carried the burden for many? Have we individually furthered ourselves in all the fields this school offers us? At risk of overworking the phrase, have we "dared to do as much as we are able"? We must make our own assessment about this; Conduct Reports are only a guide to our parents. Only the individual can know the truth of his actions. Let us hope we can answer that we have progressed in knowledge and awareness.

Bruce Campbell laying down the Law

Tony Dempsey, Captain of the Australian Schoolboys' Rugby Team.

As a school we have had a successful time, if not in actual results, at least as an involved group of young men.

Our Head of the River results, since the Fours were all well placed, is encouraging for future years. Throughout the day we demonstrated our unity. The Riverview sector of the bank was not a noisy rabble, but a cohesive, supportive gathering. We certainly did not disgrace ourselves at any stage because of the dignity and strength of all on the bank, as well as of those on the water.

We had a good year of football culminating in Anthony Dempsey's selection to represent our country as Captain of the Australian Schoolboys' Rugby Team. All our teams played in the true spirit of the game, although we had to contend with new rules such as the "no push" scrums. The Second XV, led by Ticka (alias Damian Tynan), are to be congratulated on their premiership. There were also numerous players selected for the Combined G.P.S., and Allan Magrath and Will Cummins were both picked for the N.S.W. Schoolboys' Rugby Team. It would be sad to see this strength diminish.

The cricketers were a strong side and were lucky in a number of cases. The aggressive batting by the big men, Ian Harris and Dom Frawley, provided us with some exciting matches. Here, too, there were a number chosen for the Combined G.P.S. Teams.

The basketballers began the season well and finished by having a number of enjoyable games. The lead given by the Firsts has strengthened the game throughout the school.

The Athletics also showed the ability of the school to unite for one purpose. It was mentioned to me after the competition by one of the officials that the boys showed what the spirit of sport was really about and that it is competition that counts.

Moving away from the great Australian interest in sport to the more cultural spheres of the theatre and music. Our 'King Lear' production was outstanding for professionalism of its presentation, not to mention the budding young Oliviers in our midst. Another production which involved very many in the orchestra, in singing and dancing and in over-all theatrical experience was 'Carousel'. Furthermore, due to the great involvement of the younger men of the school we are assured that this standard will continue.

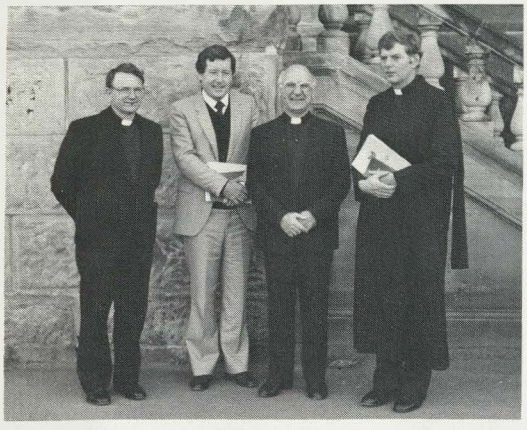

On a purely academic note some of my fellow students are to be congratulated for their achievements. Firstly the Dux of the school, Andrew Bridger; then the students who have achieved Merit Awards and those who have achieved such great success in other academic events, such as the Mathematics competitions. Not only is this a reflection on the ability of these boys, but it is an important lesson in what a non-selective school may achieve through the dedication of everyone involved in maintaining the high standard of our school. The events which I have mentioned and many which I have not time to mention show the reason for the continuation of this school as it is. It shows why we must not let it be destroyed by any group of politicians.

A thought for next year could be to prove to society the value of our school through the boys' respect for it and a willingness for involvement within the school and the wider community. We have all seen what can be done if we join together as we did in the case of Greg Moran. The resources of the school are there; it is for us to prove their worth.

CHAPEL NOTES 1984

January 29th: The Rowing Camp ended this morning with Mass in the college for oarsmen, coaches and parents. Masses of this kind have over the years been a course of unity and strength to the Club.

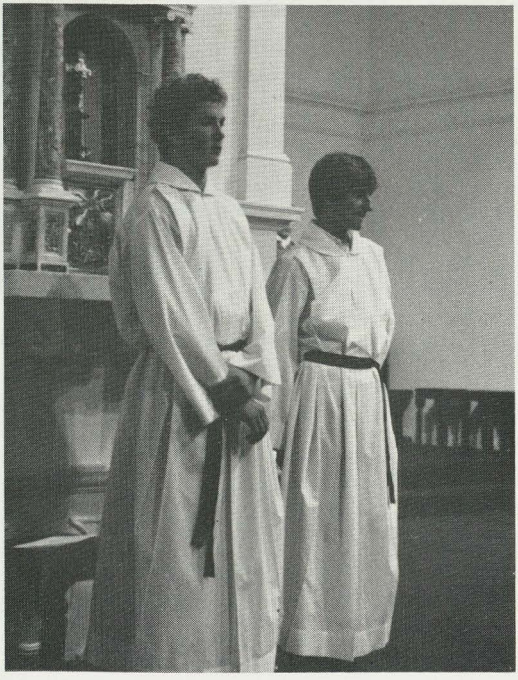

In the evening the chapel was filled with new parents, whose sons will begin school at Riverview this year. The celebrant and preacher was the Headmaster, and he was assisted by several concelebrants. The way in which the parents participated in the ceremonies and singing was heartening for members of staff who attended.

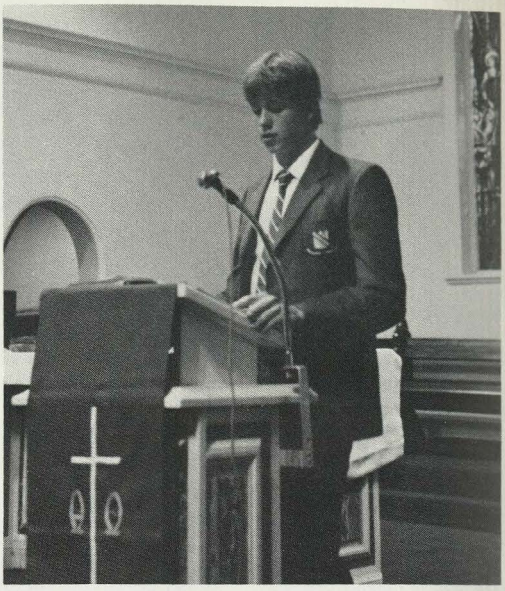

January 31st: Boarders returned to the school this evening, and the whole boarding community assembled for Benediction in the chapel at 9.00 p.m. In some places the custom of having Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament seems to have lapsed. This is a pity for the boys seem to like it and it is a good way to begin the term.

February 1st: Classes began this morning. The practice of having Morning Prayer for one Form (Year) each day in the chapel before classes begins continues. Jesuits and lay-teachers take turns in leading this prayer.

The Masses of the Holy Spirit to ask God's blessing on the year's studies were celebrated this week with great solemnity.

February 5th: The first Sunday Mass for boarders for the year was celebrated at 10 a.m., which a large number of parents also attended. A sheet, containing the hymns to be sung and the prayers to be said at these Masses, is printed each week. Jesuits from the college staff take turns in giving the homilies.

Preachers have often commented on how well the boys listen to them when they are speaking.

February 29th: As part of the activities connected with the House system, there are to be House Masses involving boys, masters and parents in First Term. The first of these Masses took place this evening, with Campion House responsible for the liturgy and the music. It was well attended. Eight such evening Masses took place, one for each House.

March 7th: Ash Wednesday. Ashes were blessed and distributed to boys and staff, form by form, through the day. Boys were encouraged to do something extra during Lent by attending one of the optional Masses offered each day. There are Masses at 7 a.m., 7.10 a.m., 8.30 a.m., 12.45 p.m. and 9 p.m.

March 19th: Feast of St Joseph, Patron of the Church. There were year Masses, since next Saturday is the Feast of the Annunciation and it is also the day of the Gold Cup Regatta. Usually there would be Masses for Lady Day, but it was not possible this year.

March 31st: G.P.S. Regatta. Our rowers stayed at St Columba's Retreat Centre at Springwood since Thursday. Each morning they offered Mass in the beautiful chapel.

April 15th: Palm Sunday. Palms are blessed and distributed at the 7.30 a.m. Mass. Then at 9.30 a.m. the Anzac Day Mass of Requiem was offered, followed by the laying of wreaths at the War Memorial in the quadrangle. The celebrant and preacher was Fr Bernard Callachor R.A.A.F., a former student of St Aloysius College. The musical accompaniment for the singing was provided by the Brass Band, conducted by Mr H. Kellett. The moving ceremony of reading the names of the scores of Old Ignatians who died in war was done by Mr Adrian Miller, President of the O.I.U.

April 17th: A Day of Recollection for mothers of boys at Riverview and St Aloysius and their friends was held today. Fr Norden conducted the exercises. The number of ladies who attend these days is a clear indication of how much they are appreciated. Another such day is to be held in Third Term.

April 19th: Holy Thursday. The Mass of the Lord's Supper was celebrated in the school chapel at 7.30 p.m. All the Jesuits at Riverview took part, and the priests renewed their priestly commitment. Fr Bradford was the principal celebrant.

April 20th: Good Friday. The chapel was packed for this afternoon's celebration of Our Lord's Passion. The whole congregation took part in the solemn reading of the Passion and in the music of the ceremony. The Year 12 boys who had remained at school to make a retreat also attended.

April 21st: Easter Saturday. The Vigil began at 7.30 p.m. with the Headmaster as principal celebrant. A new arrangement of the ceremony was used this year with the Exultet sung by one of the priests. The joy of the Resurrection was evident in music chosen for the occasion and the hearty participation of the congregation. The school is deeply indebted to Mr Errol Lea-Scarlett, our organist, for the help he gives to our singing by his leadership on the organ, as well as for the incidental music that he provides.

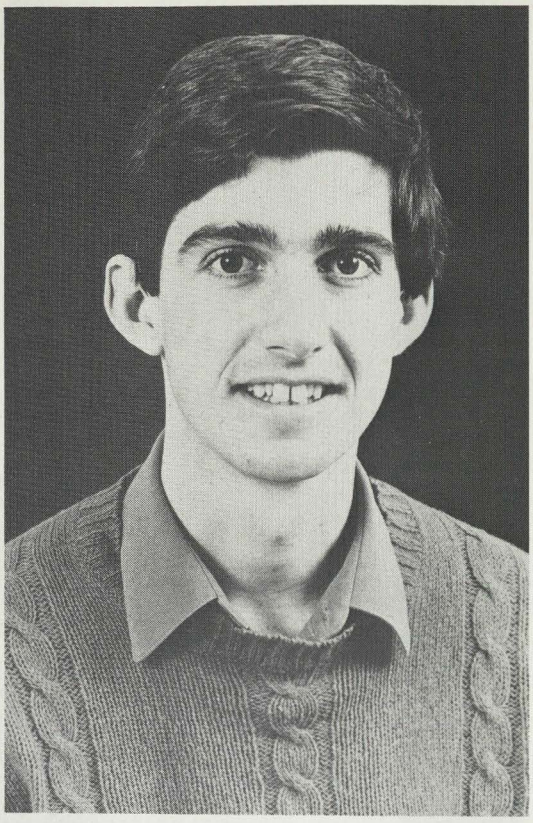

May 24th: Feast of Our Lady Help of Christians. This year the Feast was observed on a Thursday, but for some years it had been kept on a Sunday. It seems a pity that the change has been made, since on a Sunday the Feast could be brought to the attention of all attending Mass. Mary is the Patroness of Australia, and Australians experienced the power of her protection during World War II. The battle that saved

Australia from invasion—the Battle of the Coral Sea—was fought at the beginning of Mary's month. This year the practice of ringing the Angelus bell each day at midday and at 6.00 in the evening has been reintroduced, a wholesome restoration, a reminder of the greatest event in human history and the need we have for praying to the Mother of God.

May 28th: Requiem Masses. Boys and teachers took part in funeral Masses for two people who during their lives had served the school loyally and had won the love of those who knew them. Leon San Miguel, a former member of the Headmaster's Advisory Committee, died on the Feast of Our Lady, Help of Christians and his Requiem took place today at St Mary's, North Sydney. The ceremony was a very beautiful one, attended by a very large congregation, with Fr P. Quin as celebrant and Fr T. O'Donovan preaching the homily. In the evening a Requiem Mass was offered for Rosemary Nicholls, a trained sister who worked in the Infirmary for more than twelve months, during which time she became very much a part of Riverview. Though stricken with cancer while still a young woman, and fully aware that her life expectancy was very limited, she won the admiration of us all by her cheerfulness and the great kindness she showed to all who came under her care. Her Mass was attended by all the boarders and Fr O'Kelly spoke movingly of what she had done for Riverview. She will be remembered here with great affection.

June 3rd: Vigil Mass for Jude Bunbury. Jude, a recent Old Boy of Riverview, was killed in a tragic motor accident on Tuesday last. He had an outstanding career while he was with us, and the great promise he showed was fulfilled in a remarkable way during his years at the University of Sydney. The Chapel was crowded to overflowing tonight with his many friends, teachers and friends of the family for the offering of this vigil Mass for him. His parents, sister and brother must have drawn great comfort from the heartfelt way the Headmaster spoke of Jude. Moreover, they must have been strengthened by the participation of all present in the offering of the Mass. It was one of those occasions when everyone could feel the love that goes out from the school to all who are connected with it.

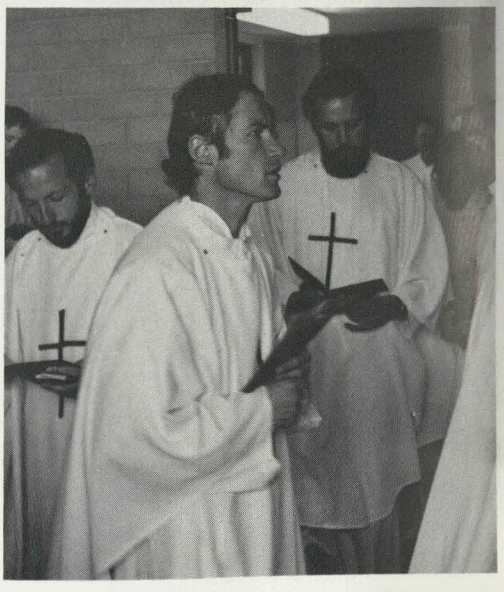

June 4th: Jude Bunbury's Funeral Mass took place at St Mary's, North Sydney. The school was represented by Prefects and Jude's brother Luke's companions from Year 10. The church was filled to capacity by people from Riverview, from the University and the various activities in which he had engaged. Afterwards many spoke of the strength they themselves had drawn from the reverence and dignity of the ceremony, the beautiful readings and hymns chosen by Jude's family and the deep faith of those who were present. Fr Quin was the principal celebrant and there were a large number of concelebrants. The homily was preached by Fr T. O'Donovan. After the service the casket was carried to the waiting hearse by former class-mates of Jude. The recessional hymn was Parry's "Jerusalem", and the words of the second verse seemed to speak to us about Jude's life and work:

"I will not cease from mental strife,
Nor shall my sword sleep in my hand,
Till we have built Jerusalem
In this our green and pleasant land."

There were so many of Jude's former class-mates present that they were able to form a guard of honour almost as long as that composed by our present Year 10 boys.

June 27th: The Feast of the Sacred Heart of Jesus falls on next Friday. But the Mid-Term break begins this afternoon, and, since the boys will not be at school on Friday, Masses for the feast were celebrated today. Jesuits have always tried to spread devotion to the Sacred Heart since one of their number, Blessed Claude de la Colombiere, was associated with St Margaret Mary in spreading the devotion in the 18th century. Honouring God's love for His people has been part of the Christian tradition from the earliest times.

July 31st: Feast of St Ignatius. Once again the whole college of students and masters walked on pilgrimage to St Michael's Church, Lane Cove, which was made available to us through the kindness of the Parish Priest, Fr John Farrar. The principal celebrant for the Mass was Archbishop Clancy. A large number of parents and friends also attended, so that there was standing room only. After the ceremony our Archbishop praised the behaviour of the boys in the church, their reverence, their silence and their singing. Two features of the ceremony should be mentioned. All the Jesuits present renewed publicly their vows before receiving Holy Communion; a reminder to us all of the importance of the life-long commitment to a worthwhile cause. The College Choirs, Senior and Junior, contributed to the music for the occasion, and the soloists, Nick Wright, Campbell MacBean and Michael Phillip, sang very well.

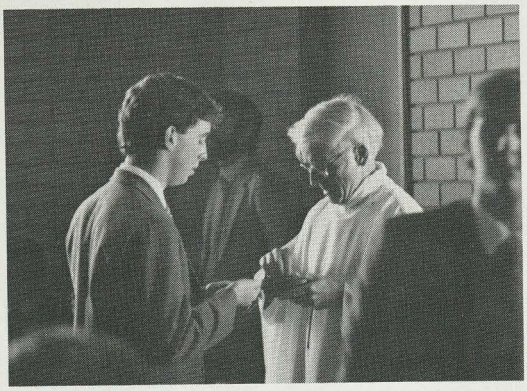

Year 12 leads the annual procession of the whole school to the parish church for the Mass of St Ignatius

August 15th: The Assumption of Our Lady. There were Masses all through the day for the various Year groups, with the singing of hymns in honour of Our Lady. We prayed for safe travelling for all during the holidays, and that the weeks at home with our families will be happy ones for all.

September 11th: The Indian Bazaar took place today, and Masses were offered in the chapel at suitable times. The involvement of the boys this year was probably greater than in previous years. The work they did before the bazaar in the setting up of stalls and the carrying of goods, the help they gave on the day itself, together with the fund-raising activities they had devised and then their generosity in cleaning up so thoroughly on the next morning won high praise from the mission organisers.

October 12th: The Valete Mass for Year 12 was celebrated in the chapel this evening, with the Headmaster as principal celebrant. Each boy was presented with a crucifix, the gift of the Jesuit community, to serve as a lasting reminder of what Riverview has always regarded as the most important gift it has to offer to its sons—their Catholic Faith.

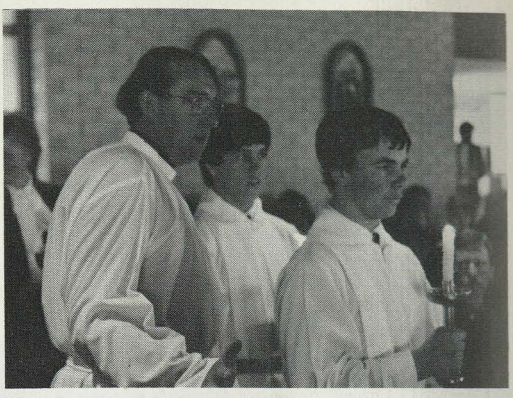

October 23rd: The H.S.C. will begin today—after we have gone to press—and one thing is certain: the number of boys visiting the chapel before school will increase considerably today! One of the good things of this year has been the steady increase in the number of those who visit the Blessed Sacrament each day. May the day come when all the boys will be accustomed to pay their respects to the Lord in the chapel each day.

November 1st: All Saints Day. There will be Masses for all classes today, since it is a Holy Day of Obligation. Riverview Old Boy, Fr Joe Dooley, S.J., will be the principal celebrant. During this term the feasts of many of our Jesuit saints occur. We are reminded of them by the stained glass windows in the chapel and by the names of some of our Houses.

December 3rd: Feast of St Francis Xavier, Patron of Missions. Riverview has always been a mission-minded school. The number of Old Boys now serving on the missions and the very generous support given to the Indian Bazaar by the Old Boys, the present boys and their parents testify to this.

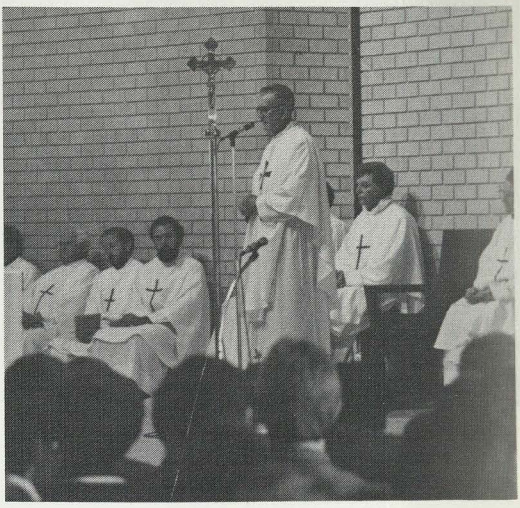

December 5th: This year's Carol Festival will be held once again in St Michael's Church, Lane Cove. The ceremony provides an excellent preparation for Christmas and is a useful reminder of what Christmas is really about.

Our Gratitude: These notes would be incomplete if mention were not made of those who have contributed so much to our worship of God during the year. The College Organist, Mr Lea-Scarlett and Miss Lynn Rawlings have played for our Masses and have helped us to learn the music to be sung at them. Mr Murray Holmes has made his contribution through the choirs, Mr Harold Kellett through the brass band, Mrs Marlene Jones through the guitarists and singers from the Junior School. Father Frank Gorman and Mrs Bridie Leonard have cared for the sacristy and decorated the Chapel for the various ceremonies. Miss Barbara Hume has provide the printing and art-work required for our many Mass booklets, Miss Michelle Books has typed them and Mr Morris Lees has printed them. Mr Les Arthur has been responsible for the cleaning of the Chapel. To all the College offers its sincere thanks. In addition, our thanks to those boys who have served at the altar, who have been readers or singers during the Mass, and to those priests who have addressed us during the year. All have helped to make the College Chapel the heart of the school.

—Fr T. O'Donovan, S.J.

REFLECTIONS OF A CHAPLAIN

I want to take this opportunity to write about chaplaincy at Riverview. Fr Norden has written about his work in Years 12 and 11; my work has been mainly with year 10.

During the Second Term Year 10 boys took part in a programme designed to broaden their awareness of the needs of the Community in general, and to integrate this awareness into their prayer and faith.

Each student spent some time — three or four days — with people well outside those whom they would ordinarily meet while at school. Some lived with the intellectually handicapped; some worked in sheltered workshops; others helped with the St Vincent de Paul relief operations; some sat in the courts; others met elderly people. The point of all this was not so that the boys could contribute anything to these people, but so that they out of their own neediness could contribute to the boys.

Each student also took part in a camp up at Wiseman's Ferry. Castle Mountain Camp is a delightful, rugged and enclosed place where it is possible to develop the exercises proper to a retreat: meditation, silence, group-living and sharing.

These were the special events. They occurred and developed their momentum from the routines taking place at the school: we re-instituted the sodality which its members welcomed enthusiastically, there was the routine of liturgical celebrations when the word of God was proclaimed in all its fullness and bread was broken in the name of the Risen Lord.

In an effort to explain and evaluate these programmes I would like to suggest a rationale in faith as to the duty of chaplaincy in a college like this.

Karl Marx is reputed to have ridiculed Christianity because it was the opium of the people. I think that he meant that the levels of oppression and alienation are so prominent in our lives that they must be dealt with now and not postponed until some future after-life. Perhaps unwittingly Marx was affirming that God in Jesus Christ is a God of this life and this world; this is where we find Him and are guided by Him and where we live our lives in Christ in preparation for the next life. But for us it is "the now" in Christ that counts. The question is not how Jesus calls us in the next life, but how He calls us in this life. He tells us to be compassionate as His Father is compassionate, and that we love firstly His Father and then our neighbour as ourselves.

Yet our times do not always speak of compassion, nor of loving the Father by loving our neighbours, nor even of a healthy self-love. Our times often stress other values; our students (and many Families) can be culturally orientated away from compassion and loving others. We stress achievement and success, we stress winning. There is a line beyond which the self-dignity and self-esteem inherent in these qualities becomes damaging and hurtful. A Gospel (which is Good News) advocating sharing and compassion and tenderness is thrown into considerable jeopardy by a life-style characterised by consumer and personal success values.

And so there is this question. How is it possible for us to follow Jesus Christ and thus become manifestations of God's compassion? Do we need to enter into solidarity with our fellow human beings to do this? Do we need to offer them obedient and compassionate service in order to make the Gospel real? Will the life and power of Jesus Christ be in any way evident in us?

The message that comes to us in the New Testament is that the compassionate life is a life together. Compassion is not an individual trait, a personal attitude, or a special talent, but a way of living together. When St Paul exhorts the Christians of Philippi to live a compassionate life with the mind of Christ he gives a concrete description of what he means:

"There must be no competition among you, no conceit, but everybody is to be self-effacing. Always consider the other person to be better than yourself, so that nobody thinks of his own interest first, but everybody thinks of other people's interests instead." (Phil 2. 3-4)

So a chaplaincy is to lead Jesus Christ in the here and now of our life in 1984. It is to find His life, to enjoy it and share it. Most families fear the breakdown of their values; many lament their failure to transmit religious values. Yet they easily conform to the values of the world, rather than those of Christ. A real danger for this college is so to stress success, competition and achievement that we miss our ordinariness and shared lives.

When we devise programmes to help the students to discover the compassionate Christ life I confidently expect that we will run counter to a lot of established values. Experiences of "inefficiency" and "being bored" and "not being told what to do" certainly do run counter. Yet they contain the plain reality of most people's lives, and as we progressively learn to share these lives we do learn to grow in Christ as He actually lives in our brothers and sisters. If ever the privilege of this kind of education becomes an escape from the reality of people's lives then this sort of education is no education. If the privilege of this kind of education becomes the door to the reality of people and our times, then it is genuinely privileged.

I would like to conclude with the final paragraph a Year 10 boy wrote when he was describing his experience:

"Our trip has been very valuable indeed, — much more than I had imagined! I had expected it to be some sort of 'moral saviour', Instead I am just much more thankful for what I've got. I'll never have another fit of depression; that's for sure. I think that from now on I'll be a lot more grateful and I'll pray a lot more."

YEAR 12 RETREAT

"What does it profit a man if he gains the whole world and loses his very self?"

In the midst of a very busy year, burdened by the expectations of the Higher School Certificate examinations, thirty-four Year 12 students asked to take part in a three day retreat. Why?

Because they believed it would help them improve their mark at the end of the year? No. Because they were looking for approval from others, from the school, from their family? No. Because they were a group of particularly religious students, with clear convictions about their faith? No.

Rather, because they wanted to learn something more about themselves, about their world, and about the mission of that man Jesus who has spoken so deeply to the lives of so many other people over the last 2,000 years.

These thirty-four students were prepared to seek that message further through this retreat.

The three days were held at the beginning of the first term vacation, on Holy Thursday, Good Friday and Easter Saturday, at a time which made it difficult for many boarders to attend. The retreat was conducted at school under the direction of Fr. Stan Lim, S.J. from Canisius College, Pymble, who was assisted by Fr. James and Fr. Norden.

The three Easter ceremonies provided a centre around which the proceedings of the retreat developed.

"Why is this night different from all other nights?" asked the youngest of the students to the master of the house as we sat together for the Passover Meal in the First Division dining-room. "Why do we eat lamb on this night? Why do we eat unleavened bread on this night? Why do we eat bitter herbs on this night?" As the Ritual Cups of Blessing were poured and consumed around the one table, and the lamb and bitter herbs shared amongst the gathering, there was certainly a very deep sense of setting out on a journey, searching and discovering something anew, in a deeper and richer way.

During Good Friday and Holy Saturday, Fr. Lim led the group through a series of short talks each day, followed by a period of individual reflection and prayer as the students found their way around the deserted grounds and corridors, and in the peaceful quiet of the school chapel.

There were no discussion groups, no frivolous activities and games reminiscent of Vision Valley the year before. Instead a sense of quiet, a sense of relaxation, and a sense of prayerfulness.

As we concluded the three days in the Easter Vigil Service early on Saturday evening, the students took the opportunity of renewing their commitment to Christ, undertaken by our parents and godparents in infancy, at baptism.

Sixteen and seventeen year old young men, not certain what the future holds for them, searching for a deeper appreciation and understanding of their religious faith, and carefully taking the first steps towards an adult commitment.

COMMUNITY EDUCATION — 1984

A visitor to the College during second term might well have wondered at the chaos round the Archway at mid-day each Friday. Would this, could this ever be resolved, he might ask. Indeed, it was and it did and before too long thirty-six drivers had picked up their load and 176 Year II students were on their way to one of forty-five organisations scattered throughout Sydney, where they spent ten afternoons throughout second term. These visits constituted the hub of the Community Education programme which is offered to the students with the aim of broadening their perspectives on themselves and on the wider community in which they live — "to see the other side of the world" as one student put it!

And what did they see? I think it is best to let a few of the students speak for themselves — about the people they met:

> ". . . . . had been bedridden for six years and I have been visiting him for six weeks. He is outwardly ugly, being unshaven, in pyjamas and a smelly hovel of bedclothes with a varied collection of bottles next to his bed. He wakes up at 5.30 am for a drink and drinks himself out of reality all day escaping the bleak present. His attitude towards death was often revealed in conversation — an obsession or craving for death that frightens me. I believe he sees death as salvation, an escape from a confused, lonely existence. The surprising revelation of my visiting . . . . ., is that I can justify his alcoholism. Life without alcohol would be a living hell. Keeping sober would hurt . . . . . while his drunkenness hurts no-one."

and through the eyes of another:

> "My life (I am not 78) is a burdened one. To begin with, my mobility is restricted to my dependence on a walking frame. This, of course, limits what I can do and see. I no longer go out. This has stunted my social life. My life is empty of friends. All I do is sit at home in my little street and slip silently further into the void of loneliness. Going to the kitchen to prepare food is too much trouble now and that is why I get 'meals on wheels' each day. The food is nice, but sometimes I wish I could go and prepare my own. However dependence on others is one thing you have to learn to live with when you are old."

And about the institutions they visited:

"The way the residents are treated is dreadful; they are all treated like children and have no major say in what they do. They cannot plan what they want to do as there are people who are paid to decide for them. I felt that many of the residents were unhappy with the way they were living and how most of their free will was taken away from them."

and the staff:

"The most rewarding thing for me was watching the staff as they handled the retarded teenagers. It was surprising to me . . . that such institutions were peopled by real human beings, with emotion, the same as I have. Occasionally I saw them get angry or frustrated with the kids and this to me was a real humanising factor. Generally they were good natured, mature and extremely 'together' and sure of themselves and the rightness of the jobs they are doing."

They speak about the difficulties:

"The thing I found hardest about the programme was the time at the pool. It was a public one and the people were very inclined to stare at us as we worked with the kids. This was very embarrassing for me at first, but by the end of the term, I had learned to cope with this quite well. The kids are quite grotesque physically and you can't blame people for staring, I suppose. But the best way to cope with it was to just ignore them and get on with whatever I was doing."

and the achievements:

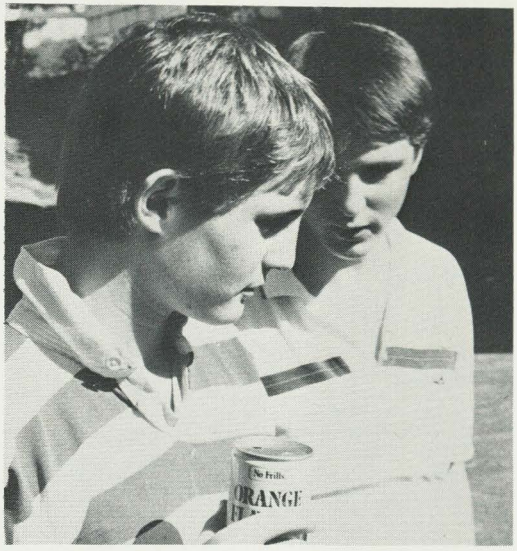

"One of the girls was heavily mentally retarded and her condition used to be described by the teachers as 'spinning out' — more or less contracting into her own world. I had a great sense of achievement when I 'reached' her and she actually responded to me with love and affection and we established a relationship where she would not allow herself to be handled by anyone else."

Of course, not everything was perfect and experiences differed, but most students gained some new sense of other people and more particularly, of how narrow is the gap which separates us. As one said,

"These children are no different from me. I put on a different hat and I become one of them."

Now we are two years into the house system, the benefits of the structure are increasingly evident. Parents and boys recognise the advantages — indeed, enjoyment — of working closely and continuously with housemaster and tutor. One proof of this was in the gratifying large numbers who attended the House Mass and the separate family barbeques for Year 8, Years 9 and 10, and Year 11.

A two hour planning session of the above staff and boys evaluated the achievements of our first year and decided on directions and activities for 1984.

Under Gerald Stack's meticulous management, a concert was organised for our house charity, Amnesty International. Old Riverview boy Nick Enright teamed up with Nimrod's Anna Volska and both donated their talents to present "Pen To Paper", an anthology of letters, humorous and serious. A packed theatrette enjoyed the performance and the splendid supper, stylishly served by our Year 12's. We were proud to give $756 to Amnesty. As well, over the year as a house, we wrote individual letters on behalf of a variety of political prisoners worldwide.

With Mr Sinclair as activator, our Winter Clothing Appeal for the Matt Talbot Hostel for homeless men produced an excellent response, while in the September holidays, a small group of volunteers donated a morning to selling buttons for Legacy.

Our Campion Mad House now seems an established part of the Indian Bazaar offering to children of all ages a range of forbidden and forbidding delights: stocks (throwing and copping), macho telephone book balancing (on a skateboard, naturally), darts, money table, apple bobs, Dr Fraudo the fortune teller, peg aeroplanes for kids (David Lynch's inspired and lucrative contribution) and pillow fights. This year the Mad House raised $484, which at twenty cents a throw represents a huge effort from many generous workers. Indispensable to the success of the Mad House were our unflagging Year 12's, together with Matt Connors, Ian Ward and Michael Lyons.

With a view to challenging our brighter Year 8's, the XPT Group was started. Once a week at lunchtime, the XPT's (exceptional persons of talent? extraordinarily perceptive terriers? . . . no one will ever know) met with a different member of the house staff to discuss issues arising from a short story all had read during the preceding week. The meetings were popular and lively. Next year, the scheme will be expanded.

Under Andrew Rennie's vigorous editorship, Campion's Brag proved itself the most consistently provocative — and produced — of the house newspapers, all six issues being as much in demand outside the house as within.

Copies of "To Be A Pilgrim", Cardinal Hume's excellent spiritual notebook, were bought and given on extended loan to boys in Years 11 and 12. Again, the idea will be developed more carefully next year.

The House noticeboard was used for twelve different displays by boys from Years 10-12, with significant school interest in the challenging presentations of Mark Chan, Edmund Lynch and Andrew Ashton.

The Leavers' Year 12 Barbeque was a delight, not surprising, given the marvellous spirit of commitment and involvement by this year's vintage crop. With such leadership, no wonder there was the air of annus mirabilis touching everything.

Our committee had two original stabs at running the house meeting by themselves, staff guaranteeing to remain silent! Unorthodoxy and irregular elements of spontaneity marked these singular events. Hope springs eternal, and the experiment will continue.

In sport, we did well in 1983 inter-house cricket: the team comprising Years 9-12 put show business back into the game. We won the Cross-Country and the Tennis (Adam Gazzoli), while we basked in the reflected glory of Anthony Dempsy, Captain of the First XV and of the Australian Schoolboys' Touring Team. In Swimming, we improved to fifth place, while in next year's Athletics, no house can improve more.

All the above involvements are valuable aspects of house life, but in the end, what must distinguish the system is the one to one relationship between student and housemaster, student and tutor. This is what cura personalis is about, and we place it as the priority above all others. Our aim is to offer the maximum number of individual interviews for boys, while appointments with families, currently about two each week, are conducted, wherever possible, with parents, tutor and housemaster.

Campion's motto is "I lead by example". Exceptional examplars indeed have been our outstanding House Captain, Stephen Shepherd — the Olympic Gold Award — stalwart Vice-Captain, Matthew Ball — Rough Diamond Trophy — and our valued Committee, the Three Wise Men.

All in all, a year of consolidation, initiatives and increasing confidence.

Melvyn Morrow
House Master.

CHESHIRE HOUSE

1984 was a most successful year for Cheshire House. The Captain of the House was James Hunter and the Vice-Captain Andrew Meagher. The committee elected by the House to represent the various years was as follows: Matthew Frawley (Year 11), Roger O'Keefe (Year 10), James Macken (Year 9) and Martin Baggott (Year 8). All these boys did well the different tasks asked of them throughout the year and our thanks must go to them for giving their time to help organise the House activities.

One of our major activities was a House raffle. Under the direction of Paul McGivern and Chon Yin Lam from year 11 the boys raffled a cassette player at lunch time in Second Term. Fr O'Kelly drew the winning ticket during a school assembly. The success of the venture can be gauged by the fact that the House was able to send to the Ryder-Cheshire Homes a cheque for $100.

We are fortunate to have six A V tapes on the life and work of Leonard Cheshire, the patron of our House. These show to the boys the work that he has done throughout the world for the sick and handicapped. It has been possible to view these tapes during the House meetings and then to discuss them in the smaller tutor groups. Such discussions have led to a deeper understanding of the Cheshire House Spirit.

In other areas we have had a successful year. We began by winning the swimming competition and then the senior basketball. Our juniors did not fare so well. During the St. Ignatius day celebrations Cheshire outtugged all comers and won the annual inter-house tug-o-war.

The school athletics were a big event with much inter-house rivalry. It was only with the last race of the day that Cheshire won the day by two points.

However, to prove that our house is not just good at sport we have managed very creditably with the list of Gold, Blue and White Certificates for application in studies in First and Second Terms.

We have gained much by having Greg Moran with us. His generous and cheerful attitude in adversity has been an example to all members of the House.

Our House Mass was a special occasion and one into which was put much time and effort. It was reasonably successful, though not as many attended as we would have liked and did expect. During the Mass the House Captain consecrated the House to Mary, the Mother of God, who was chosen as our Patron.

In future we hope to make this Mass the high point of our activities for the year.

R. Hanley
House Master.

CLAVER HOUSE

In Claver House the year began with 112 students. Some of them were new to the school this year. Garry Maher and Richard Ouvrier came into Year 11, Tim Shaddock into Year 10 and James Fallon into Year 8.

Mrs Sandra Sinclair joined the group of tutors, so too did Mr Barry Hayes when he joined the staff. They came to assist Sister Josepha, Mr Chris Gillett, Mr Greg Whealing, Mr Keith Saines and myself in our work.

On March 21st we celebrated a House Mass for our students and their families. Robert Morrison, Michael Phillips and Monty Bowyer made a musical contribution to the liturgy which was greatly appreciated. In the homily it was pointed out that one of the many features of Peter Claver's life that was very positive was the routine way in which he went about his work of caring for the negro slaves. Day in day out he met ships, washed slaves, acted on their behalf, baptised them. A great example for our students as they grow into their various Christian communities. All of us need to appreciate the ordinary and routine and commonplace in our lives. Here we form our relationships, express our hopes, lament our failures, mature and develop into our adult lives.

We were delighted with the response to this Mass and grateful to the parents who provided such a tasteful supper after it. Richard Campbell's mother was unable to come from Warren, but sent a most delightful contribution to the supper which matured en route. It was an enjoyable night.

At the beginning of the year I planned to focus on the tutor groups. I really wanted to strengthen these groups; I felt it was necessary to emphasise above all the relationship between students and tutors. Consequently I have tried to keep house meetings short so that there would be plenty of time to meet in our groups and to get to know our students well. I am particularly pleased with the way this has happened.

There has been an excellent rapport between students and their tutors which has been evident in two ways. One has been the quality of the reports each term. Reading through each report I have been impressed by the personal knowledge and care each tutor has shown in communicating to parents their son's successes and failures. Secondly I have been happy with the readiness and the quality of trust parents have shown in approaching tutors. I sense that there has been a genuine bonding of masters with their students and families.

This is in accordance with so many parents' expressed wishes for their sons to receive a Jesuit education, and very helpful for the many decisions to be made and encouragements to be offered.

Our 112 students have some very obvious achievements. One is academic progress. Each term we receive a good number of merit cards. These serve to reinforce the academic integrity of the House and so of the school.

Again I notice those students who improve and develop despite real limitations, mistakes and difficulties. It is easy to be embarrassed by failure. It is a real temptation to be like the ostrich and put one's head in the sand after failure. The rate of improvement is most encouraging and rewarding.

There is also considerable musical talent in the House. Our students play pianos, violins, guitars, flutes and trombones; they sing and they sing carefully. There is a quality of positive and cultural growth that is very wonderful.

So as I evaluate 1984 I do so easily and confidently. Some boys criticise the fact that nothing much seems to happen, that I am tardy in many matters, like designing House T-Shirts. I plead guilty to these criticisms, but only because there seem to be so many more important aspects of school life. These, as I say, are connected with the process of becoming adults who can think and speak and sing; young men of character and purpose who can develop through the routine of daily school life and who can confidently aim their lives for God's greater glory.

This is happening and I am grateful to the teachers who make it possible, and to the students for their patience and openness.

Geoffrey James, S.J.

MORE HOUSE

In last year's "Alma Mater" some ideals for More House were outlined — ideals which stemmed from a brief look at the heroic life of our House's Patron Saint — Sir Thomas More. It is my fervent hope that the qualities that made Thomas More "a man for all seasons" — his courage and magnanimity, his love of learning and of his fellow men, his ability to combine demanding family and professional responsibilities with holiness — continue to inspire all of us.

I believe that the coming together week after week of boys and tutors has had the effect for the boys of counteracting the anonymity that can go with being part of a large school. In a day of "massification" within our society, the personal quality such a system can bring to the total education provided is, I believe, a treasure. Through the efforts of the tutors, over time, each boy in the House feels himself known and respected for the person he is, with strengths a-n-d weaknesses; if this knowledge overflows into his wider school, family and social experiences then the House System is worth every effort.

The regular mingling of boys and tutors has convinced the boys that teachers really are human! Tutors have appreciated the opportunities to spend time with the boys outside the confines of the classroom where we all carry out predetermined roles. They are glad of the opportunity to talk to the boys in a more casual and friendly atmosphere and can, in part, come closer to the ideal of educators of the whole person and not merely teachers of narrow subject disciplines.

All members have contributed to the life of the House and I must mention in particular the House Captain, David Oates, and his assistants, Ian Harris and Andrew Burges. Several of the matriculating year have brought their skills to the House in special ways and among these I would like to mention John Studdert, Tim Cain and Stephen O'Dea in particular.

More House has had several fine achievements in inter-house competitions during the year but, while we certainly enjoyed ourselves, victory avoided us. I hope the boys of More House will be well rounded, educated men and, while we enjoyed our sport, our academic achievements have been second to none. The members of the house have won many Merit Certificates and mathematics prizes by the score and have also raised much money for the missions. Thanks also to go the initiators and helpers at the Indian Bazaar.

I am very grateful to the tutors — Fr Brennan, Mr Bowie, Mr Lowry and Mr Bortolotti for their help during the year and also to the staff attached to More House, Miss Burkett and Dr Morris. The friendly and relaxed atmosphere which characterises More House is largely due to the efforts of the staff. May I remind parents that they are welcome at all times to contact myself or their son's tutor — to unite the efforts of home and school.

Mr F. Monagle
House Master.

OWEN HOUSE

This year, the number of Tutor Groups in Owen House was increased from four to six, as Miss Mary Bayldon and Mr John Hunter joined us as Tutors, a very welcome addition to our strength.

As boys become more accustomed to the House system, they are coming forward, in increasing numbers, both to avail themselves of the benefits which the House affords, and to offer their services in House activities.

During the Middle Ages, it became customary for the people of Catholic England to go to the church and become reconciled with the Lord in the Sacrament of Penance on the Tuesday before Ash Wednesday, as a preparation for the forty days of fast and abstinence leading to Easter Sunday. Having been shriven on Shrove Tuesday, the faithful had one last good fling: a feast of good things; a custom which survives — in an attenuated and almost de-Christianised form today — in our modern "Pancake Tuesday" and in Mardi Gras and Carnivale in other Christian and non-Christian communities. We of Owen House celebrated Shrove Tuesday with a feast of pancakes and pikelets, contributed by our House mothers, during our House meeting, a joyous occasion which was thoroughly enjoyed by boys and Tutors alike.

Our Owen House Mass, celebrated on April 12th, was an inspiring event. The attendance by boys and parents was most impressive. Afterwards, boys, parents and Tutors mingled and enjoyed a tasty, though Lenten, supper together. Our thanks go to the mothers who contribuuted such a wealth of good things for our common enjoymnt.

On June 19th, Owen House staged a Cake Stall during Recess, which provided a welcome boost for our House funds. The Year 12 boys and Tutors who manned the Cake Stall carried out their duties with exemplary good-humour and efficiency. Again, thanks to all those parents who contributed.

At this year's Indian Bazaar, Owen House, for the first ime, operated a Stall, selling "Frosties" in a variety of flavours. A great deal of credit must go to Mr Hunter, who conceived the idea, and to our Reverend Headmaster, who provided the ice-making machine. We were able to contribute a total of $342 to the Jesuit Missions in India; had the day been warmer, and the winds a little less blustery and chilly, the sum might have been greater. Our thanks go to the boys and Tutors who manned the Stall.

The prayers of our House members, and of their families, go up for the success of our Year 12 students in their Higher School Certificate Examination, and for the intentions of our Owen House community and of the Riverview family in general.

Philip J. Lee
House Master.

RICCI HOUSE

At the beginning of the year we lost one of our original tutors, Mr A. G. Hall, who began a year's study leave, and we received two new tutors, Mrs Ruth Wong and Mr Glen King.

The affairs of the house this year were effectively guided by Mark Crawford, its Captain, and Reg Beniac, its Vice-Captain, who monitored activities and reported to the weekly meetings. A feature of these meetings was the blessing imparted by our chaplain, Fr Bradford, S.J., before we broke into tutorial groups.

Although we pride ourselves on the general excellence of our members — what House in Riverview does not? — the achievements of some members came specially to notice during the year. We were, for instance, proud that three members of the 1st VIII were Riccians. We were honoured, too, to learn that Fr Headmaster had appointed Bob Tucker to be Chairman of the Debating Society. Then we had, in Troy Collins, a member of the Champion Under 16 Cricket Team. As we went to press David Lord was a winner in the Drama Sections of the City of Sydney Eisteddfod — the list could be made long.

Many hoped to see a repetition of the highly successful House Dinner that was held last year to Mark the Ricci Fourth Centenary Celebrations. A poll revealed that a majority was in favour of establishing the annual dinner, but there was, also, some strong opposition and we hesitated. That hesitation followed the familiar road to delay, with equally familiar results. There was, of course, a House Mass in First Term, in the series arranged for all houses, following which we enjoyed coffee and biscuits — not quite the same as last year's grand feast.

We were doing quite well in the inter-house cricket which began late last year and which was to continue into the first term of this year, but we never discovered what bedevilled the competition in 1984, and, with its collapse, our hopes of a cricket premiership were dashed.

As the planning for the Indian Bazaar got under way we received a request from the Mission Director, Fr Drumm, S.J. to try to repeat last year's effort, when we collected a total of 612 items of bottled, canned and cartoned provisions to fill the shelves of various stalls. The challenge was accepted, and we finished only about 12 items short of last year's total. The difference was more than supplied by the efforts of two senior members, Brendan Kelly and Matthew Brooks, who operated in the name of the House a highly successful dart-throwing competition during the bazaar. The darts attracted great numbers and raised a tidy sum to help the Indian Mission.

A recent research exercise carried out among our House members produced the following suggestions for the improvement of our House communications and spirit. There was the inevitable demand for more House and Inter-House activities, sports, Masses and dinners, debating and a grand House project that would consume our efforts all the year! Many students commented on the need for senior tutors to establish closer relations with the junior members of their tutor group — perhaps this could be partly achieved through study help. A plea for stronger ties with other tutors groups has also been made. The data provided by our members will no doubt create a favourable climate for further experiments next year.

Some have remarked that 1984 had been a year of consolidation for the Houses after the trail-blazing activities of the first year of the system. It did not seem that any of the impulse of 1983 was lost, and we had a strong sense of success in the most important, but immeasurable, reason for our existence: the pastoral and academic care of our members. Most of the boys continue to state a sincere belief in the efficacy of the system, and we know that there are some who have been helped out of loneliness and other problems by the concern of their tutors.

We have always before us the example of Matthew Ricci, S.J., who laboured quietly where opportunity offered, without the reward of knowing in his life-time how great was his success. Perhaps that will be the part reserved for the House dedicated to him.

Mr E. Lea-Scarlett
House Master.

SOUTHWELL HOUSE

The house system is yet in its infancy here at Riverview — this being its second year. Its primary purpose, as you know, is pastoral: to try and ensure that every boy is given the individual guidance and help he will need throughout his years here. There is, I think, general agreement that this has begun well.

Although this scheme (of boys being attached to a tutor) could well operate by itself, it does in fact function within the house system. In order of importance, the boys are first and foremost members of a house. Within the house they are members of a tutorial group.

As with all the other houses, we have been trying to build up a sense of House identity — a sense among the boys of having a unique relationship with Southwell House and with its other members. This has been a difficult task — difficult because this sense of identity is very largely the fruit of joint activity, of doing things together and our commitments (particularly in the sporting field) are such that it is very difficult to arrange inter-house activities.

Despite the problems, we have done much together. Apart from the inter-house swimming and athletics meetings, the barbecue and games on the feast of St. Ignatius, we have had our own House functions. There was a House Mass (regrettably, not well attended) towards the end of first term and a very successful barbecue in second term.

Fortunately not all the initiative was left to the housemaster and tutors. The boys in Year 11 organised an appeal for the McGrath Foundation and those in Year 12 (ably led by the House Captain, Sean Hogan) ran a stall for the Indian Bazaar. Earlier in the year the boys, on being informed of our parlous financial state, ran a cake stall. We are very grateful to the mothers who provided the cakes. We anticipated selling them during the morning break and lunch time. In fact they were all sold within the first eight minutes!

A constant problem is that of trying to find a role for our young members — especially those in Year 8.

House affairs are inevitably dominated by the seniors and the young ones see little way of making a positive contribution. They content themselves (as all schoolboys do) with the reflection "that their day will come".

The overall picture is a House of dedicated tutors and cooperative and generous boys. Between us we are trying to build up Southwell House and in so doing help build up Riverview. If we succeed we will be doing something to advance the Kingdom of God on earth.

Fr A. M. Walsh, S.J.
House Master.

XAVIER HOUSE

Xavier House contrived to build on the sound beginning made in 1983. There was a real effort to consolidate the genuine friendships and openness not only formed between boys but, more importantly, between the boys and their tutors. Indeed I am aware of many situations where individual boys, frustrated or confused as they inevitably must be at times both by social problems or academic ineptitude, have found the genuine concern and understanding of their tutors most helpful. In so many of these cases the situation is defused more quickly than in past years whilst an ongoing trust relationship is engendered.

Our regular Tuesday House Meetings continued. Earlier in the year we welcomed Michael Delany, our inaugural Year President, and wished him well for his Olympic venture. He spoke to an enthralled audience. Misha Shanks (Yr 11) also addressed the House in fine style during Term 2 outlining his heavy involvement in the world of Judo and his hopes for higher honours in the years ahead. Paul Roncolato (Yr 12) in his address in Term 1 told of the work he is doing each weekend with a community youth group.

The shortcoming I am aware of in our House at the moment is the failure to as yet successfully integrate the vertical structure. The boys in Years 8/9, even some in Year 10, do not know their Year 11/12 confreres. We have not as yet gained the full value of having Senior boys rubbing shoulders with the Junior boys of the College and the latter group can gain so much from that valuable experience. We will attempt to overcome this hurdle in 1985.

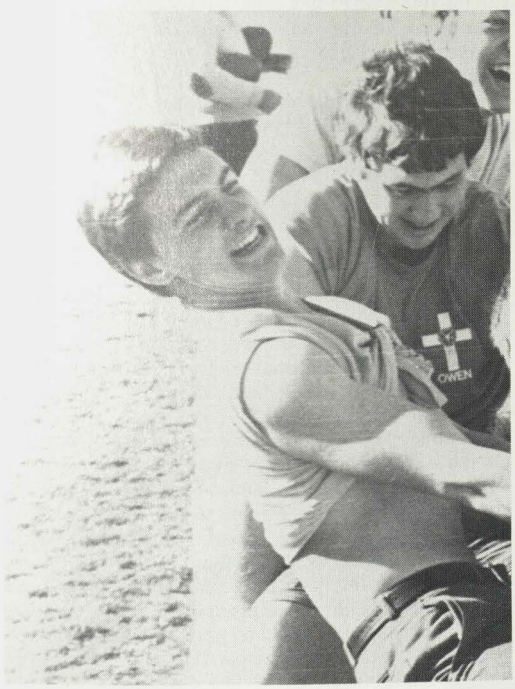

The House competed well in the Inter-House events. Our Swimming team led by John Ward (Yr 12), Adrian Grew (Yr 10) performed creditably and were placed 3rd.

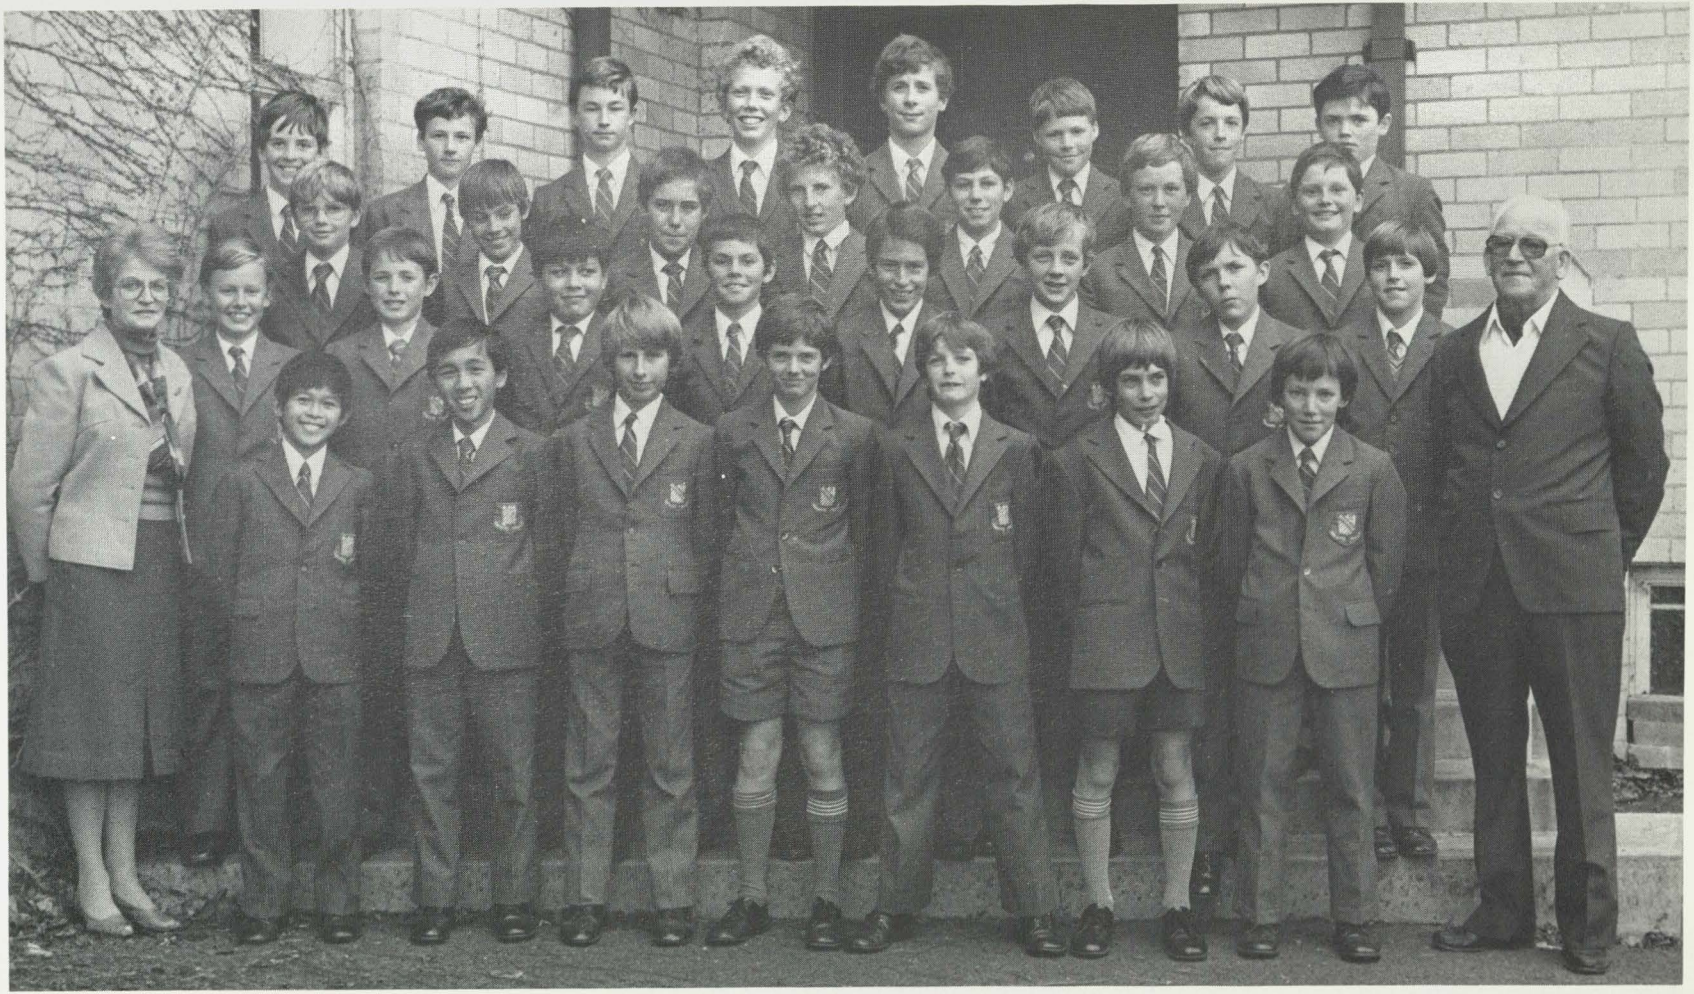

The Cricket team was captained by Matthew Bolger and won 2/3 matches, one by a controversial countback. The Senior basketball team, actually led by Matthew Alvarez and Stephen Munro, were beaten in the final of the Senior teams Knockout.

In Athletics the team was placed 5th. Tony Flanery was our standing performer winning the U17 sprint treble and setting a new 400m House record of 50.9 secs. Sean Coffin is a greatly improved runner at U16 level.

I am grateful to the tutors and boys for their wholehearted co-operation throughout the year.

The Donne Thing

a celebration of John Donne's poetry compiled and directed
Melvyn Morrow
with Dominic Frawley
Sean Hogan
Campbell Macbean
Andrew Meagher

The Woods auditorium proved an excellent setting for this thirty minute anthology produced for Year 12 students studying Donne for HSC. After a dramatic opening comprising a collage of Donne's arresting opening lines, Dominic Frawley as Dr Johnson berated the Dean of St Paul's for the perversity and triviality of his metaphysical verses while the other three members of the company demonstrated the power of the poetry with careful and well pointed renderings of the major poems.

Sean Hogan's forceful delivery of "The Canonization" was nicely contrasted with Andrew Meagher's original interpretation of "The Sun Rising" and Campbell Macbean's nicely phrased "The Anniversary". Meagher's sharp interpretation of "The Flea" was followed by Frawley's intelligent speaking of "A Valediction Forbidding Mourning". Macbean's authoritative sermon proved highly effective, calling on the congregation to recognise "occasional mercies" and reminding them in ringing tones that "no man is an island entire of itself . . . Any man's death diminishes me because I am involved in mankind, and therefore never send to know for whom the bell tolls; it tolls for thee". The words proved as telling for Australians in 1984 as they must have been for Londoners in 1630.

Following Donne's progress from profane—arguably—to sacred love (though the poet brilliantly links both in a way that dazzles and shocks even post-Christian critics), the entertainment concluded with sensitive performances of three Holy Sonnets, "O my black soul", "Batter my heart, three personned God" and, appropriately, "This is my play's last scene".

A capacity audience proved properly appreciative of this worthwhile literary and theatrical venture. The company's crisp, confident performance ensured that "The Donne Thing" was valuable as well as entertaining.

THE EIGHTY-SEVENTH ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING

The meeting was held on December 6th, 1983 in Tattersalls Club. The President, Mr Bill Russell, began the meeting punctually at 7.45 p.m.

Among those present were: W. Russell, A. Miller, R. Barry, E. Theodore, B. Clarke, N. Ledingham, R. Osborne, E. Shelton, A. Bridge, P. Doherty, P. San Miguel, C. Gower, M. Poirrier, R. Wilkinson, C. Fessey, D. de Carvalho, P. Hunter, N. Yates, A. Breslin, M. Shepherd, D. Culbert, T. Mason, S. Wells, T. Roberts, T. Meagher, P. De Baun, R. Farrell.

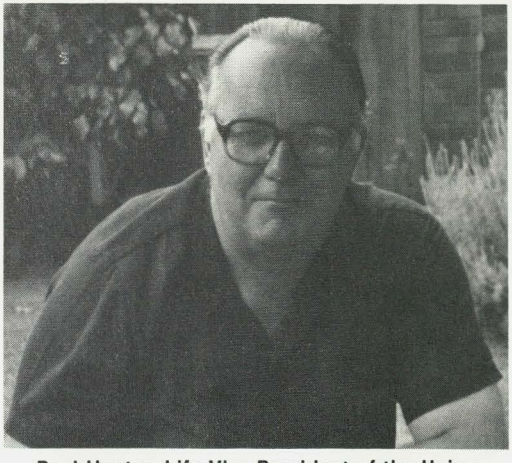

The minutes of the previous meeting were confirmed. The Secretary's and the Treasurer's reports were accepted without demur.

In the absence of the Headmaster, Fr Fraser gave an account of the school's activities throughout the year, mentioned all the changes that had been made and spoke of the Headmaster's admiration for the Union and his appreciation of the help it had given to him in his years of office.

The retiring President in addressing the meeting said that the Union had worked in close collaboration with the school's authorities in extending support for the present boys and Jesuit activities in general. It had held its usual functions, the Annual Dinner, the Retreat and Country Reunions, all of which showed had been well attended and made obvious the strength of the Union. He thanked the Rector and Headmaster for their example and support and his committee for their hard work, reliability and encouragement during his term of office.

The elections of the officer bearers for 1984 followed, the results of which can be read at the head of this report.

The meeting ended with a very pleasant, informal get together.

Paul Hunter, Life Vice-President of the Union.

The Season

The 1984 season was memorable, since for the first time since 1975 it fielded three teams and so gained promotion to the Third Division of Sydney Suburban Rugby Union. This meant a much better standard of rugby than had been the case in previous years.

The season commenced with a weekend trip to Mudgee for a trial against the locals (lost) and a cultural exchange (won). Plans are already being made for a return visit by Mudgee in 1985. Another trial was played against Macquarie University.

Despite having a large number of players to call on initially the club suffered from a shortage of regular, committed players, so that our resources were stretched and on some occasions players had to double up.

The McLean Cup (1st Grade) team had a mixed season, and finished fifth. Highlights included an unlucky draw against the premiers, Forest, two memorable games against traditional rivals (and grand finalists) South Sydney, and fine wins against Epping and Sydney Kiwis. The side was successful in winning the Brother Henry Cup from St Joseph's 9-4 on a cold and blowy day at Riverview.

Tony Curtin capped a fine season by playing for the successful Combined Sydney Suburban side, while Marty Wood, representing the Navy was picked for the Combined Services' Squad. Brendan Hunt, Marlon Freeman and Mark Tonge also played consistently good football.

The 2nd Grade (Grose Cup) had a season best summarised by referring to the name of their competition. It is true to say, however, that this side suffered most from the shortages and disruptions which hit the club at times. The side also suffered from a distinct lack of luck, as was evidenced by the number of their narrow defeats. Among the players who impressed opposing teams with their tenacity were Ian Simmonds, Matt Johnson, Rob Ryan and Rob Sutcliffe.

The Walker Cup (3rd Grade) was certainly "the one that got away". After a slow start the side began a roll that resulted in six wins in seven games. Unfortunately a break of four weeks brought about by postponements and byes broke the side's rhythm and a critical match was lost in the last minute at Fairvale. In the end the side came equal fourth, but missed the semis, and a real opportunity for premiership. This was most frustrating as the side beat both joint-premiers, Epping and Westpac. Players who should be pleased with their efforts were Tony Gapes, Gary Deanes, John Little, Peter Rogers and Stuart Clark.

Our Coaches, Warren, Mark, Pat and Tony deserve thanks for their efforts in persevering when they did not get as much support from players' attendance at training as they deserved. It is hoped that this area will be improved next season.

The addition of a third team to the club this year placed a greater strain on our finances, so fund raising became critical. We were fortunate in having better weather for our home matches this year and so improved our sales of food and beverages. A new fund raiser, run this year with reasonable success, was the '250' Club and it will be used again next year. The harbour cruise, fast becoming an institution, was held for the third time and proved popular. The sale of club ties, sloppy joes and t-shirts also brought in much needed revenue. All these activities helped the club meet its financial commitments. It is indebted to the O.I.U. who have promised to purchase for it two sets of jerseys for next season. This will thus give the club a welcome head start for the season.

Undoubtedly the highlight of the year was the most successful blacktie dinner held on September 7th at the Southern Cross Hotel. More than one hundred past and present players were on hand to mark the 15th anniversary of the club. All were entertained with speeches about the history of the club given by John Hickey, Peter Ryan and Paul Hunter and by the after-dinner video presentation of great moments from the past. All donors of trophies were on hand to present them to the winners.

The club plans even better things for next year. Coaches will be needed — a head coach and three assistant coaches/managers (one for each grade). If you are interested, please submit your nomination to Richard Mort (H. 817 3767, B. 609 4111). The club welcomes new players and hopes that anyone who enjoys rugby will come along. Last but not least, we welcome supporters, both moral and financial, to come along to our matches. (No admission fee!)

Finally, the club, as always, is indebted to the Headmaster for the use of 1B and its fine new facilities, and to the Sportsmaster and ground staff for their efforts on our behalf.

A special "Thank you" must be given to Paul Hunter for his continued interest in the club and the great support he has given. Richard Mort again performed as the club lackey and deserved the special mention he received at the dinner. The other members of the committee formed an effective team and felt particularly satisfied with the success of the dinner, the culmination of the season's effort.

So on to 1985, when the club will most certainly build on the base established this year.

John Bain.

Paul Scully-Power (61-62), our first aeronaut, as he was in the 2nd XV in 1962. When he learnt that he was to be a member of the U.S. space shuttle mission in October he wrote to his parents in Canberra to tell them to be sure to let Riverview know.

Three generations of O'Deas, David, Cec, Steve, all hookers for the 1sts, all Combined G.P.S. Reps.

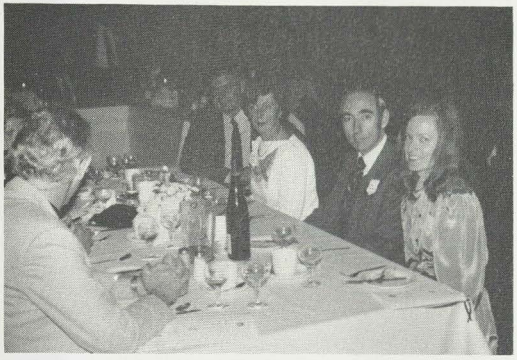

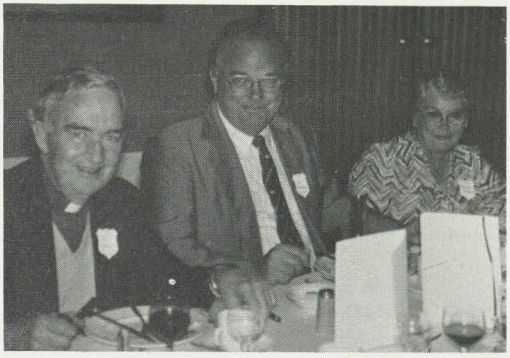

Melbourne Reunion, March 17th-18th

Tony Macken excelled himself this year by gathering together the largest number of O.I.U. members ever assembled for a Melbourne Reunion. As well as a large group of O.R.s exiled in Melbourne, there were representatives from Sydney and S.A. Barry Thornton was the genial chairman of the dinner, Dick Johnson, recently appointed Head of the Department of Education and Youth Affairs, was the Guest of Honour and proposed the toast to "Our Jesuit Educators". Fr G. Jones, S.J. replied suitably. There were other toasts and speeches, there were presentations and a warm spirit of friendship and great enjoyment. In all a splendid function and a most rewarding one for Tony and his generous band of organisers.

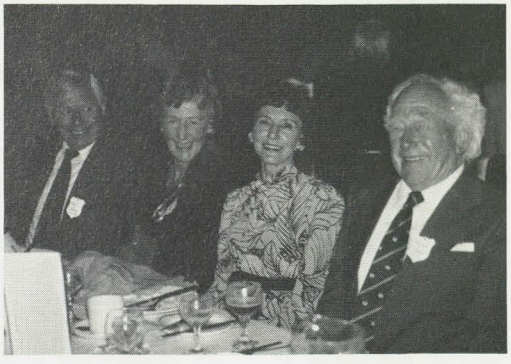

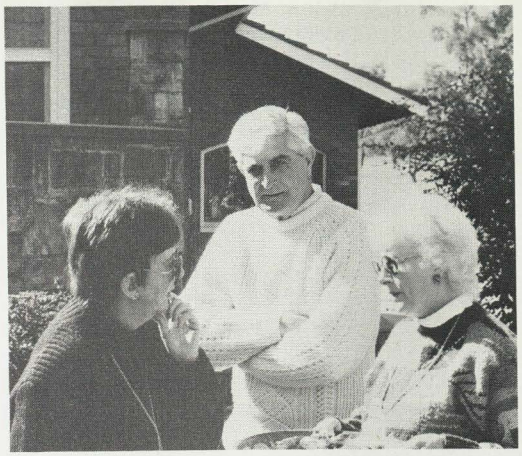

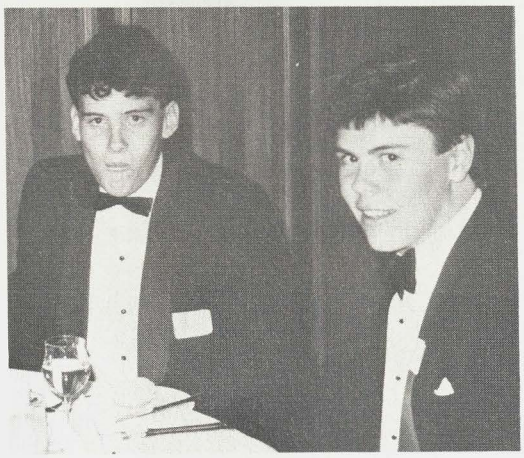

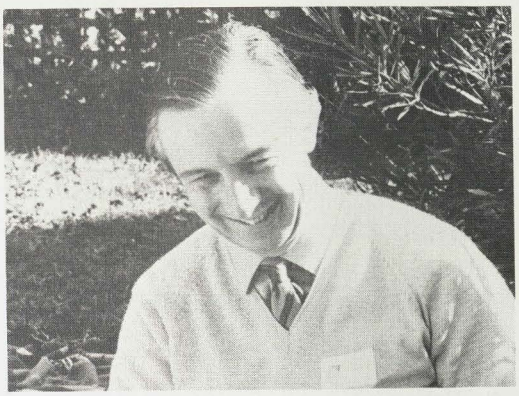

Canberra Reunion, May 12th-13th

The venue for our reunion this year was the Canberra Club, and it was there under the Chairmanship of Michael Ryan that a group of us sat down to an excellent dinner. There was a good representation from Canberra itself, the surrounding districts and Sydney. Once again it was the younger Old Boys who dominated the numbers and set the tone for a most friendly and lively evening, and one of them, Roger Fitzgerald, is to carry on the good work next year.

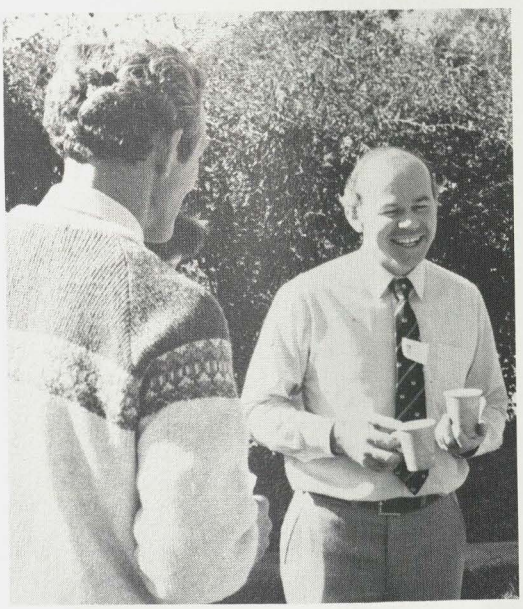

As usual we had Mass next morning in the Dominican Convent and the barbecue at the Jesuit residence. The weather was kind, the company excellent and the garden full of families from all round the countryside. Michael's mother, Margaret, came across from Wagga and spent Mother's Day looking after others. Typical. It was an excellent weekend and a good beginning to our Country Reunions.

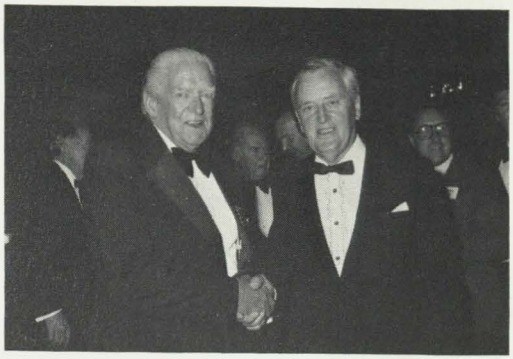

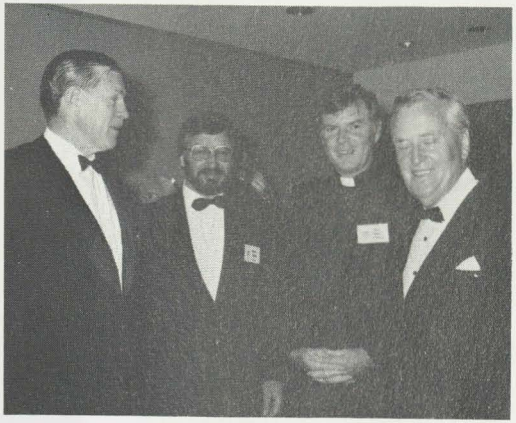

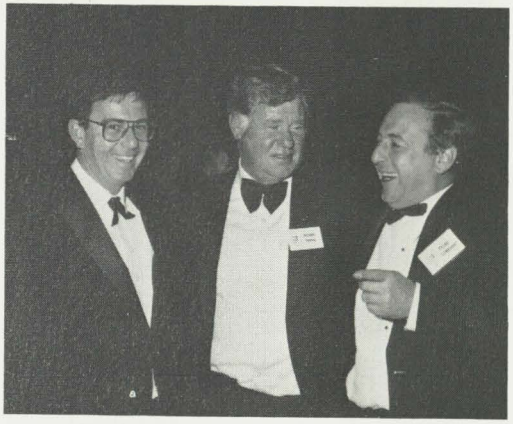

The Annual Dinner in Sydney

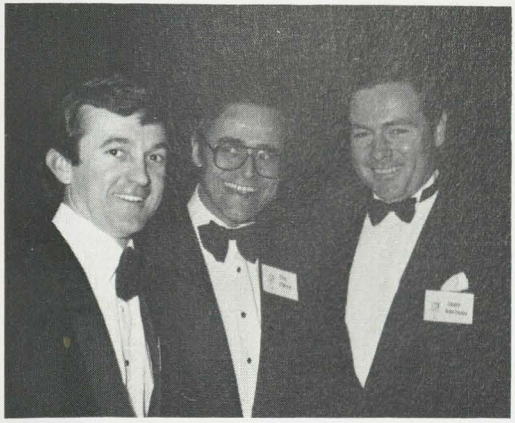

This dinner, held on June 29th at the Regent, was probably, apart from the Centenary Dinner, the most successful dinner the Union has ever held. The Guest of Honour, Sir Joh Bjelke-Petersen, was a large drawcard and we were delighted to have Mr B. H. Travers, retiring Headmaster of Shore, as our Special Guest. Nearly 500 sat down to an excellent dinner. There were representatives from all the other G.P.S.O.B.U.s and, while there was a wide spread of our own Old Boys from the early 1920s onwards, by far the largest group was from among those who had left the school in the last few years.

Both guests were given the warmest of receptions which set the tone for the whole evening. The speeches were few, but all of fine calibre, with Dr Bill Larkins at his wittiest and scintillating best. Many effusive letters of appreciation were afterwards received — a tribute to the success of the night and to the organising ability of Bob Barry, Charles Cuschieri, their social works group and indeed to the co-operation of the whole committee.

Wagga Reunion, August 18th-19th

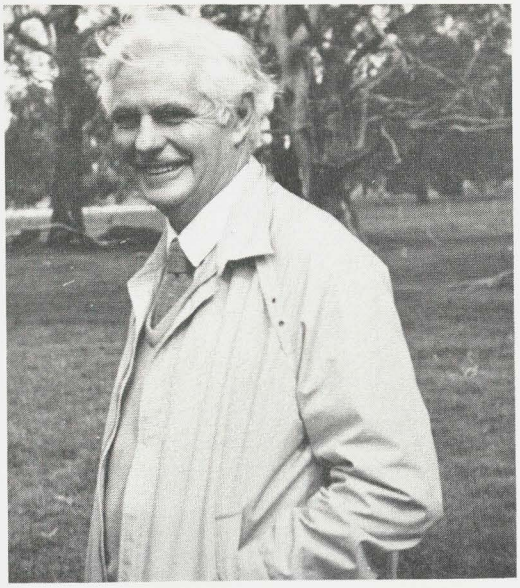

Lloyd Ryan, as Area Vice-President, did a fine job as organiser of this dinner. If the number at it was small, that was due to unforeseen circumstances beyond Lloyd's control, but those who were there had a most enjoyable evening. The Riverine's chef excelled himself, there were some excellent speeches and the company was most friendly.

As usual, we met for Mass next morning at Mangoplah where the Parnell families had everything organised, and then on to John Cox's property for a barbecue where Michael Knight provided the tenderest, choicest fillets for the very large crowd who gathered for the day. We congratulate Lloyd and his assistants for a great weekend and all those who attended for their generous help with the Bursary Raffle and the Indian Mission Bazaar.

Warren Reunion, September 9th-10th

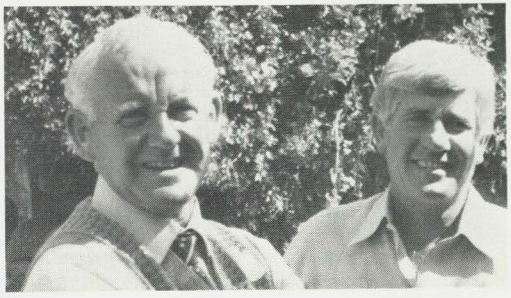

Once again Warren excelled itself. Ian McKay and his lovely wife Barbara organised a magnificent dinner. More than eighty Old Boys and their wives sat down to dinner in the Racecourse Restaurant, a very representative group from the district and as far away as Bollon, Queensland, and a good crowd from Sydney. The mood of the dinner was typical Western hospitality, made more festive by Warren's victory that afternoon over Coonamble in the Western Districts Rugby Grand Final. Western hospitality at its best! Next morning it was the turn of Mick McKay and his lovely wife Doone at "The Overflow". One of the most impressive parts of the Mass was the Offertory procession when the family brought up the gifts, Mick offered his newly-born grandson to the Lord and the dozens of children brought up and filled a basket with flowers from the garden. The Lord was pleased and gave us a perfect spring day. Most of the women of the West seemed to have come to "The Overflow" with salads, cakes and biscuits of all sorts, to which such ample justice was done that it was late afternoon before any Sydneysider thought of leaving. Congratulations to all concerned for the fine job they did.

DAVID AARON (56-59) is working with the John of God Brothers at Richmond and enjoying every minute of it. The photo shows what the well dressed Riverview boy looked like in the '50s.

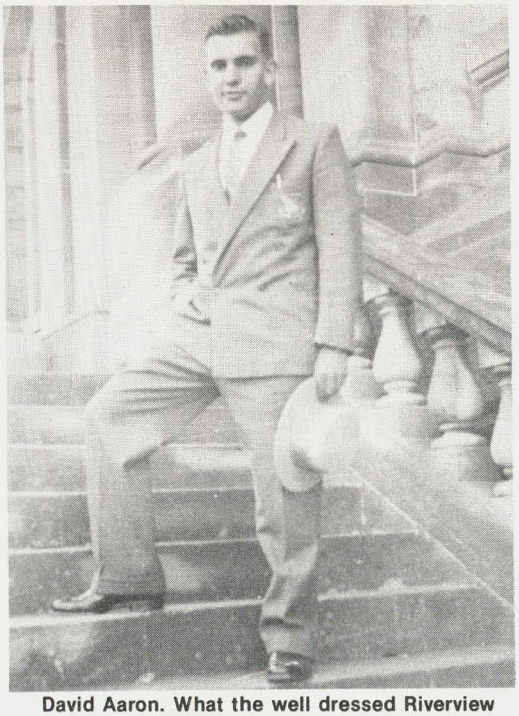

BILL ALLEY (62-65) is on the land at "Wirrana", Boorowa. JIM (67-72) commutes between the family property, "Yulgilbar", Yass and Queanbeyan where he works as a librarian. We congratulate him on his recent engagement and his marriage, to take place early in the New Year.

TONY ABBOT (70-75), home from Oxford at the end of last year, is now at St Patrick's, Manly, studying for the priesthood. We congratulate him on his choice of vocation and wish him every blessing.

JOE ALAGNA (20-31 & 33) lives in Cammeray, and enlivens his city sojourn by outings to cattle sales with Cec O'Dea. ROBERT (58-64) is Assistant Financial Controller for Seatainers. He brought his three sons up to inspect the place, though they have yet a few years to wait! RICHARD (68-74) is also an accountant and lives at Mosman.

JOHN ALEXANDER (22-23) a Newcastle stockbroker still swings a mean raquet to keep himself fit. MICHAEL (52-56) is with his father. Both are always with us for the Newcastle Reunion.

DR PETER ANDERSON (35-42) has had a busy year what with his ever growing practice and his Presidency of Hornsby Rotary this year, but he still found time to trip across to France to see how two of his sons were skiing. TIM (72-77) a pilot with Ansett and ROBERT (68-74) a dentist at work in Cambridge, England took a break to test the French snow slopes. MICHAEL (66-72) is an accountant with Cooper & Lybrand in far away Perth. He is married with a young two months' old son, a potential student here. ANTHONY (71-76) has graduated in Arts from Sydney University and is now doing Law. GEOFF (76-82) is a Year II science student at the same place.

David Aaron. What the well dressed Riverview boy looked like in 1959.

MICHAEL ANDERSON (70-76) is a relieving chemist in Sydney and its suburbs. TONY (71-76) is with L.J. Hooker in the Investment Department, and is still playing spirited football with the Old Boys' Club.

Tony Anderson, on Careers' Day.

BILL ANTICO (65-71) works on his father's cattle property in the N.T. STEPHEN (72-78) manages the family concrete business in Melbourne. DAMIEN (66-72) now married with two children manages, and very successfully if winners are any criterion, the family study property in N.S.W. Riverview still remembers the great work their father, Sir Tristan, did for the school as Chairman of the fund raising scheme in the '70s.

DAVID ARCHER (68-74) was recently married in the school chapel and is a company director managing a group of mining and mineral exploration companies from Australia Square.

FRED ARCHER (23-25) lives in Bridge St, Lane Cove, spends a good deal of his time driving for the Sunshine Home at Gore Hill and often calls in to see contemporary, Fr John Casey, S.J.

FATHER RAY ARMSTRONG, S.J. (43-45) of the English Province is still doing good work as a missionary in Zimbabwe.

DR RAY ASPREY (54-56) is in general practice at Willoughby. DAMIEN (70-75) is on the teaching staff of St Aloysius and is connected with the Dept of Sport & Recreation. NICK (73-78) works with the Occidental Insurance Co and, we think, still plays for the Old Boys' Rugby Club.

FR RODGER AUSTIN (49-57) chancellor of the diocese and secretary to His Lordship, the Bishop of Wollongong.

BROTHER ANDREW (GEORGE) AYLIFFE, S.M. (27-33) is still hard at work with the Marist Mission in Tutu, Teveuni, Fiji. He keeps in regular touch with the school and is anxious to correspond with any Old Boys.

BILL BAKER (61-66) is a solicitor with Deane, Deane & Nutt in Canberra, He has three small children and a property at Captain's Flat to occupy his spare time, but we were pleased to see him with us at the Canberra dinner looking as fit as ever. We have lost track of his four brothers.

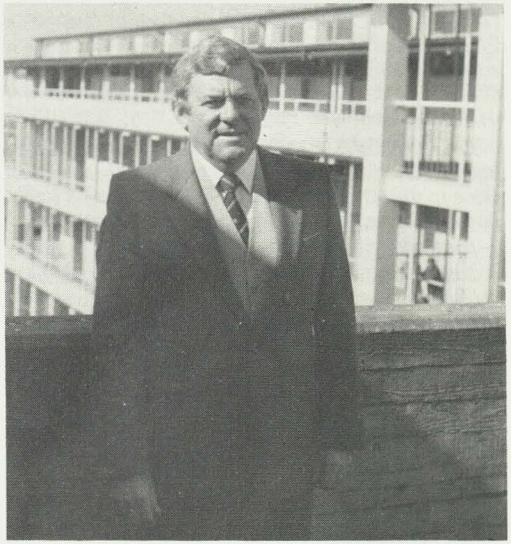

OTTO BALDWIN (51-54) of stately Durham Court, Manilla was with us for the Annual Dinner this year. His young son is on our rolls.

JOHN BARGAWANNA (64-66) is a Stock and Station Agent in Cowra. We hear from him regularly and he has his young son on our rolls.

BOB BARRY (36-40) of North Avoca is very much a part of the Riverview community and of the O.I.U. He is on the General and Executive Committee of the latter, never misses a Country Reunion and is Chairman of the Riverview Foundation. We don't know what we'd do without him. Thank God he is young and full of vigour. REDMOND (65-69) is on the Central Coast, still organising his Australia-wide Bus tours. TRENT (67-69) of Riverina Harvesting Co fame is equally nationwide in his enterprise.

HUGH BARTLETT (56-60) is an Inspector of Accounts with the Corporate Affairs Commission. He is an acolyte with the Chatswood parish. A great barracker for the Union he rarely misses any of its functions.

GREG BARTELS (39-42) is the recently appointed Executive Director of the Independent Schools' Association, is an acolyte for his parish, plays golf for the O.I.U. and attends most of its functions.

Greg Bartells, Executive Director of Independant Schools Association.

MATT BAYFIELD (73-78) has had a non-stop run through Medicine and is now a resident, but he did not tell us where.

GRAHAM BASSETT (67-72) lives at Neutral Bay and is a member of the teaching profession.

BARRY BEACH (47-50) is on the land at "Yarrandale" Warren, where his two sons MARK (69-74) and JAMES (73-78) do their share of the work. We rarely see them down here, but they never miss the Western Reunion.

LLOYD BEACH (50-54) is also on the land at Warren, on "Strayleaves"; he too has the help of his son RICHARD (74-79) to make his task a bit lighter.

DR PAUL BEAUMONT (57-60) happily married in the school chapel in September last year is a retinal specialist in Macquarie St and director of the Eye Vision Institute.

FR PETER BEER, S.J. (46-50) lives at Canisius College where he directs the Lonergan Centre, he lectures also at the Theological Institute at Hunters Hill. JOHN (46-50) is an orthopaedic surgeon with his rooms in Macquarie St.

DR DICK BELLINGHAM (52-57) one of our leading gynaecologists has his rooms in Macquarie St, is often out here to keep a watch on his son in Year 11.

DR JOHN BENECKE (38-43) retired medical practitioner still keeps an eye on some of his aged patients, when he is not swinging a tennis raquet. IAN (74-70) is a solicitor in the city. DR PETER (66-72) is an eye specialist at Concord. ANTHONY (66-75) is with the Merchant Bankers Samuel Hill. MARK (77-82) is doing Commerce, full time, at U.N.S.W.

MICHAEL BEST (44-48) is a solicitor in Lismore. Now that his two sons have left we shall not see as much of him as we have in the past few years. PETER (78-81) is a Johnsman, completing 2rd Year Economics at Sydney University. He has been back to school several times this year. So too has MARK (77-82) who has also come to St Johns and was with us for the Gold Cup Regatta.

PAUL BISBY (61-65) has his own real estate agency, "Northumberland" at St Leonards, lives quite close to the school at Kallaroo Rd, was with us for the Annual Dinner, has two young sons on our rolls.

ANDREW BLACK (53-56) is a company director and an executive of the Hospitals' Administration in Melbourne, lives in Brighton and is one of the "regulars" at the O.I.U. dinner each month.

RODDY BLAKE (45-52) is Queensland's Manager of Wynn's, well-known wine growers. He is always with us for the O.I.U. Dinner in Brisbane.

AUSTIN BOBBIN (29-32), a voice from the past if ever there was won, wrote this year to say that he has retired from his job as Shire Clerk of Boorowa and is enjoying his well earned rest.

PETER BOHRSMANN (51-56) is a lively member of the school staff, does his share of teaching, is assistant 1st Division Prefect and expert photographer to whom the editor of O.A.M. is greatly indebted.

MICHAEL CANNING (62-68) is a dentist at Frenchs Forest. He has one three year old son on our waiting list.

GEORGE CANNON (29-36) is working harder than ever, coping with a good season, plus blowflies, Bathurst burrs and grasshoppers. So far the mice have left him alone. MICHAEL (58-63) is back in the city, lives at Darling Point and has two sons to keep him busy. WILLIAM (63-69) has moved to Wagga and is a field officer with Monsanto Agricultural Chemicals.

BILL CAPE (44-51) very active in Canberra and tied into the racing business. RICK (71-74) finds time for golf whenever he can get away from work, is currently a manager with Coates Bros Ink at Auburn. PETER (76-81) is pursuing an arts course at Uni NSW.

JOHN CAREY (35-39) says that he is semi-retired, but doing freelance editorial work. His two boys went to St Ignatius, Athelstone; one of them is now a priest in the Adelaide Archdiocese.

NEIL CARRIGAN (38-44) practises dentistry at Artarmon, has three sons with us, one of them a star in Year 12 Latin. LAWRENCE (77-82) is doing economics and accountancy at Macquarie.

RICK CARROLL (47-52) has a pharmacy at Castle Hill; he has two sons with us in Years 12 and 11. TONY (50-54) is kept busy as a senior partner of Carroll & O'Dea, but still finds time to be very active in many charitable works. CHRIS (60-61) is still pursuing his technical courses. PETER (58-62) is busy in legal practice with Parry Ware and Carroll. He has two boys on our rolls.

PAUL CARTER (57-62) is with the Dept of Immigration and has moved from the ACT to Brisbane. ERIC (61-67) is still on the staff of the Faculty of Dentistry, Hong Kong University.

TERRY CARVER (53-59) is manager of the TNT shipping group, has a young son with us in Year 9 and does a good deal of work for the Indian Bazaar and excels in his organisation of the tennis played on Back to Riverview Day. JOHN (57-61) is back from Queensland, lives at Normanhurst and often gets down to see his nephew on our football field. Always welcome.

CARLOS CARVALHO (63) has come back from South Africa and lives at Gladesville. We congratulate him on his marriage in the chapel this year and wish him and his bride every blessing. MANUEL (65-71) is with the AGC. DR VASCO (65-70) is Medical Administrator at Westmead Hospital. Both he and LUIZ (65-69) who works for Ready Mix Concrete have sons on our rolls.

FR JOHN CASEY (23-26) is with us at Riverview, no longer on the teaching staff, but still playing a very active part in the life of his old pupils and their families. PAT (28-32) and FRANK (30-33) have also retired from business. JOHN (63-70) is Sales Coordinator for Stephens Travel, still does a good job for us as a referee in the football season. BRIAN (68-73) manages a hotel in Balmain. MICHAEL (73-78) is an accountant with Total.

MICHAEL CASHMAN (76-80) is Assistant Staff Clerk in the Premier's Department.

RICHARD CHALMERS (52-56) is Personnel Manager for McDonald, Wagner & Priddle, consultant engineers of North Sydney. He has a son with us. Richard is an Estate agent. PETRIE (64-70) is sub-contracting to Farley & Lewers in the concrete business.

ALBERT CHAN (56-60) has four sons on our rolls, lives at Killara and manages the Sydney section of the family business. He still has enough verve and speed to help with the coaching of some of our junior teams.

TONY CHATFIELD (50-55) is back in the main stream of Pharmacy and works at Annandale. PETER (55-60) is still on our staff, dispensing Latin and Ancient History to rapt audiences, and out of class leading by example our Cross Country and City to Surf runners.

DR DON CHISHOLM (55-57) endocrinologist of note is kept hard at work at St Vincent's in research. He has two sons with us, models of propriety. RICHARD (56-61) is Senior Lecturer in Law at N.S.W. University. ROBERT (62-68) is a journalist with the Daily Telegraph and now works for the paper in Canberra.

TIM CHRISTIAN (70-75) is a builder, works with Citra Constructions and for the last two years has done good work helping to organise the Odyssey Ball for the James McGrath Foundation. It was good to see him at the Annual Dinner.

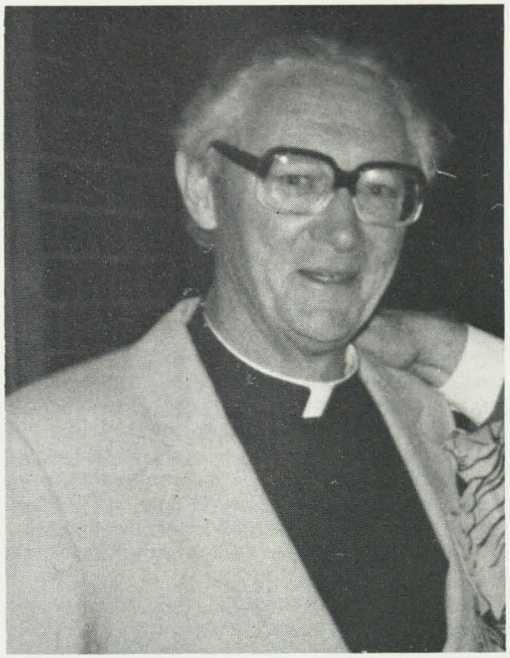

TONY CLARK (53-57) partner of Peat Marwick & Mitchell is Honorary Auditor of the Union, has done a great deal of work for the school this year, on and off our fields! He still, though, has time for his golf, tennis, garden and property at Rylestone, where poplars and roses are rioting with fat lambs and prime cattle. RODNEY (57-62) has an expanding chain of fashion shops in the city and suburbs. His son James is with us, an up and coming sportsman. He made 62 not out in under an hour at Shore this year. He has several brothers yet to come. LEIGH (58-63) is an insurance broker in the city, lives quite close by in College St and we often see him at the school.

BRUCE CLARKE (55-60) is a Director of Price Waterhouse & Associates, spends considerable time overseas, but still gets across here to see his son, Damien, in Year 8.

JOHN CLEMENTS (52-57) has a dental practice at Narraweena, lives at Roseville, was with us for the Annual dinner, has a young son on our rolls to whose arrival we look forward, especially if he is a chip off the old block. Times may be stormy again!

PAT CLEMENTSON (61-64) lives at Parramatta and sent his young son to the Junior School this year.

JIM CLIFFORD (19-23) is weathering better than most. It must be the bracing Tumut climate, where Jim is king of the racing club and a few other things! REV PETER, O.F.M. (46-50) is parish priest of Box Hill in Victoria. He gave his friends a few shocks last year, but is now as fit as ever. He was at the O.I.U. dinner at Xavier this year. MICK (50-54) has taken over the family business at Tumut, has many interests in the district, is a local acolyte, a great help to a visiting priest, still as debonair as ever. We enjoyed immensely our visit to the great cold south.

Fr Peter Clifford, O.F.M. P.P. of Box Hill.

JOHN CLIFT (39-41) Stud Master of Kia Ora spent some time overseas this year buying up blood stock. He has one son with us. JONATHON (68-70) is with his father on the famous property, but has been down several times this year to see if Simon is working as hard as he did. ADAM (78-82) working on the land in Queensland has been down, more often, also with the same purpose.

ROSS CLIFTON (44-47) finds it hard to get enough golf and tennis into his week because of his commitments to St Aloysius where he has completed his tenth year as a teacher. WARWICK (43-44) lives at Castle Cove.

DAVID CLIFTON (62-66) has taken over the reins from his father, Kevin, and is now Managing Director of Cliftons' Toyota at Tamworth. Kevin, as a result, spends more time on the golf course. RICHARD (59-63) is an accountant in Darwin. ROBERT (66-73) is now a pilot with Qantas.

TONY CLOUSTON (39-45) is with C.I.G. at Alexandria, lives quite close by in Lane Cove and was with us for the O.I.U. retreat. His son DAVID (75-80) is in the building industry with Girvan Bros.

BRYAN COLE (37-40) has retired from Newbridge, moved to Dubbo where he has more time for his golf and roses. He was with us and quite enjoyed the Annual Dinner!

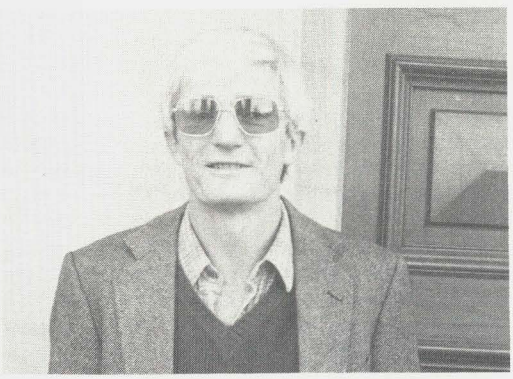

PAT COLLINS is a director of James Hardie. He has one son, Ben, with us in Year 11. The other three boys are following in the distinguished steps of their father. MICHAEL (73-78) is a mechanical engineer, rows a little for Macquarie and plays a social game of football. MATT (74-79) is an electrical engineer, plays a good deal of tennis with Killara. TIM (76-81) is doing civil engineering, plays for Gordon colts and does his best to keep us informed on the doings of his contemporaries.

DR JOHN COLLINS (41-43) is an orthopaedic surgeon, lives close by in Longueville and we often see him at O.I.U. and school functions. EDWARD (70-76) is working with Telecom. MICHAEL (72-78) is doing Commerce at U.N.S.W., PAUL (77-83) is at Sydney University reading for a degree in Education. REV. PETER, S.J. (74-80) is at Campion College, Kew doing his course in Philosophy.

DR JIM COLLOPY (62-65) is a radiologist practising at North Sydney and Mosman, and is a visiting medical officer at Royal North Shore. We often see him here at school where his young son is on the rolls. RICHARD (62-68) has resigned from Qantas, is based at Basle, Switzerland from where he flies the Sultan of Oman's private 707 to the ends of the earth. NIGEL (66-69) has graduated in Arts and has also gained his Dip.Ed. from Sydney University. He is now a Director of the Mosman Community Centre, but hopes to get into teaching.

BILL CONLEY (62-67) is practising law with Dawson Waldron and Co in the city, is a Bondi Iceberg, and does a great deal for our Indian Bazaar.

JOHN CONLON (54-59) is Senior Partner of W.P. McElhone & Co, solicitors in the city. He is a member of the O.I.U. Committee and a tireless worker for the Indian Bazaar. Head of the O.I.U. Sub-Committee for religious matters he organised a very successful retreat and has just begun with his committee an enterprise which many of us have for years wished to see begun, and we wish him and his fellow workers every success.

John Conlon, Chairman of the Religious Group.

DOCTOR TOM CONNELLEY (40-43) is one of our leading neurologists and does most of his work at St Vincent's. He has his youngest sons with us in Year 8. PAUL (68-74) and TOM (68-74) are both chartered accountants. MARTIN (76-82) is at work in the city. It was good to see him at the Annual Dinner with his father this year.

GEOFF CONNOLLY (47-49) sees quite a large procession of other O.Rs at the Law Society where he is the chief accountant. GRAHAM (47-52) is also an accountant with Forge & Partners. He has two sons with us in years 8 and 5. CHRIS (75-80) is with Maddison Advertising. RICHARD (75-80) is in Med II at Sydney Uni.

DES CONNOLLY (43-48) still runs his jewellery business at Newport. He was with us for the Annual Dinner. JOHN (59-64) is a freelance public relations man and journalist. We heard a lot from him last year on 2GB with reports of the America's Cup.

DAVID CONNOLLY (48-57) is the Liberal Federal Member for Bradfield, and is the opposition spokesman on the environment and public administration — a big change after the Diplomatic Service. He was with us for the Annual Dinner and has a boy on our rolls.

EDDIE CONRICK (53-56) is an accountant in the city with H.V. Quinton. He is usually at the O.I.U. retreat and swings a mean club for the Old Boys' golf days. MICHAEL (55-59) maintains a frantic work pace at his Colonial Bakery at Milsons Point. He too is a pretty fair golfer, but sometimes barracks for the wrong football team when it is 'View versus Waverley.

JOHN COOLICAN (67-72) is almost semi-retired from international football, but has a few lingering doubts. Otherwise he is busy with his dental practice in Corrimal. DR MYLES (68-73) lives in Naremburn and is, we think, back at Royal North Shore as registrar of orthopaedic surgery.

DAVID COSTA (74-80) lives on the Central Coast at sunny North Avoca, but each rowing season does a fine job at our sheds whipping our Fours into good shape.

NICK COULTHURST (70-76) is an Air Traffic Controller at Mascot. He also has his pilot's licence. ROBERT (74-80) is in his final year at Sydney University doing Computer Science. ROGER (74-79) graduated in Commerce — majoring in Marketing — from U.N.S.W. and is now travelling the world, indefinitely. As Bob says "He's got a tough life!"

FR JOHN COWBURN, S.J. (36-44) is attached to the staff of the Jesuit Theologate in Parkville, but commutes between St Patrick's, Manly and Holy Cross College, Mosgiel. In both these places he lectures in Philosophy.

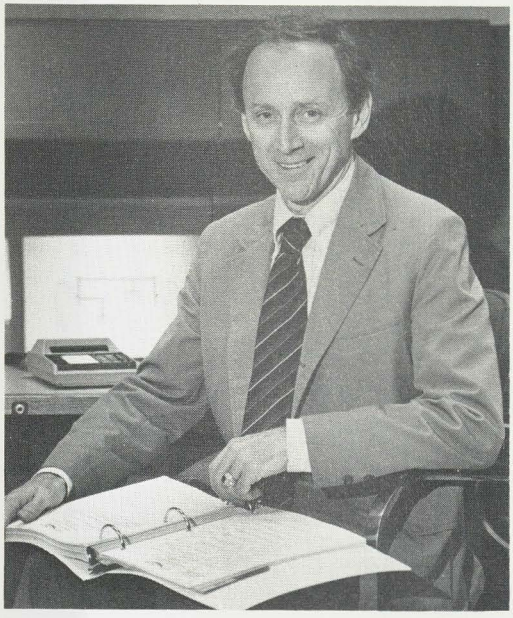

JOHN COX (51) of Mangoplah Station, Mangoplah was again the host of the O.I.U. Barbecue after the Wagga Reunion. The Old Boys are greatly indebted to him for his expansive hospitality.

DR LAURIE COY (42-50) is Area Medical Director of the Asian-Pacific region of G.D. Searle. LAURIE (76-77) is in final Year Arts at U.N.S.W. and is making a name for himself, working in his spare time as a comedian. PETER (77-82) is training as commercial pilot.

GRAHAM CRAWFORD (45-52) a busy barrister in the city, starred quite frequently on all the TV channels this year and bore it all as one to the manner born. He has three sons with us, one of them, Mark, is Captain of Ricci House. TOM (77-82), whom we hope to see later in the year at the Warren Reunion, is on the land out west and says he has marked just about every sheep west of Dubbo; and he was never given to exaggeration!

JOHN CRAWFORD (43-46) has a curtain retailing business at Hornsby, has two boys with us in Years 10 and 7, who "both are enjoying it immensely". MATT (75-80) with his sunny disposition is with Amoco Oil at North Sydney, plays good football for Gordon — last year they were joint premiers. We have not heard how they fared this year.

BILL CRITCH (46-48) according to The News Tribune of Tacoma "lives in the company of eagles". He is Director of Instructors of all pilots and crews of Boeing 757s and 767s at Seattle, U.S.A. He flew in here early this year for a visit which we enjoyed as much as he deemed to. Not so long, Bill, before the next trip!

Bill Critch, Chief Instructor of Boeing, Seattle.

MURRAY CROWE (41-44) while still maintaining his insurance business in Canberra, maintains that he is the rouseabout on his property "Kirawin" near Yass. True or not he looks as fit as ever and is always good value at the Canberra Reunion. PETER (71-76) apparently cracks the whip on the property. He also appears to be in an excellent paddock! TONY (68-73) not an ounce behind his father or brother is very active in the insurance business in the A.C.T.

FRANK CROWE (44-46) has his newsagency at Campsie and when he can get away from the business carries out his duties as President of the Gliding Club at Camden. We're glad it's Frank, not us. MARK (73-79) is just about through Commerce at U.N.S.W. and still displaying his football skill with 3rd Grade at Sydney University, where PAUL (75-82) is doing an Arts degree, no doubt astonishing the natives there, as he did us here, with his knowledge of Latin!

FRANK CRUISE (28-32) has retired from business, would have been with us for the Wagga Reunion but for a trip at the time which found him in the middle of Australia. What better way to spend a retirement? BRUCE (67-72) is an engineer working with Bechtel Corporation in San Francisco as an engineer.

DON CURCHOD (50-56) an engineer with Automotive Engineers of Palo Alto, California commutes between there and Whale Beach where he has a home on this side of the Pacific. He has a son with us in Year 10.

DANNY CULBERT (62-68) and MARK (66-69) have their hands full running the family firm Everett Worthington. Danny lives close by in Kallaroo Rd, is a keen jogger and golfer who upholds the honour of the O.I.U. in various tournaments and is now a keen member of the General Committee.

JOHN CURTIN (59-65) is back now in Sydney, lives at Northwood and is chief accountant with Barclays bank in the city. BRYAN (61-67) has travelled extensively for the Bank of America, spent two years in Korea then one in New York and is now Corporate Finance Manager with Frank Renouf & Co in Wellington, N.Z. RICHARD (63-69) is just finishing a Commerce degree at Kuringai C.A.E., has three sons, lives very close by in Tambourine Bay Rd. STEVE (68-74) is just about through his Honours degree in Child Psychology at Macquarie and is a specialist as a Youth Worker. AUSTIN (64-60) just back from a year in Belfast, is planning to go abroad again next year. He has his cherished F.R.A.C.S. and is Senior Surgical Registrar at R.N. Shore. FRANK (66-72) married last year, lives in Waverton and has his own renovating business. ANTHONY (69-75) works with Hambrose, Merchant Bankers in the city, is on the O.I.U. General Committee and is still captain of the O.I.U. Football Team. ANDREW (72-78) has graduated in Economics and works with J.B. Were & Co, stockbrokers in the city.

CHARLES CURRAN (47-54) as a member of the school's Advisory Committee does invaluable work for Riverview. He is Chairman of Greater Union and Datronics Corp., has a property at Canowindra to which he retires when he wants some peace and quiet.

PETER CURTIS (38-47) is now enjoying one of the plums of the Diplomatic Service as Australian Ambassador in Paris, richly deserved too after all the time he spent in such troubled spots as Laos, Lebanon and New Delhi.

JOHN CURTIS (29-32) still practises as a solicitor in Muswellbrook, he has a grandson in Year 7, so we may see him down here a bit more often. STEVE (60-65) with his father in the firm is always a delightful host whenever the O.I.U. Committee are passing through and he also does a good job looking after the Union's interest.

CHARLES CUSCHIERI (60-65) has his own catering business at Chatswood. He did an excellent job for the Union in organising the Annual Dinner and the Back to Riverview Day — a most valuable member of the General Committee. He has a young son with us in the Junior School.

Charles Cuschieri, Organiser of the Annual Dinner.

TOM DALTON (45-56) is on the land at "Delgany", Mullion Creek. He has a young son with us in Year 9.

NUMA DALEY (21-23) spent some time in Sydney this year, but is now safely back home in Noumea. BOB (46-47) still has a great interest in the school. He manages the family firm, Maison Barrau. Charles Olliffe spent Bastille Day with Numa and Bob and gave a good report on his return home.

JOHN A DALTON (58-62) is an ophthalmic surgeon, works in partnership with Dr Peter Anderson in Hornsby. JIM (57-61) is Manager of the Financial Systems Project for Esso in Sydney. DAVID (61-65) is a retailer in the wine trade.

BRIAN DALTON (15-22) has put his property "Kangaroobie" up for sale and is going up north to enjoy a well earned retirement in Queensland. He and J.B. were with us for the Annual Dinner. MICK (44-51) still has his own property adjacent to the old family property. JOHN (58-62) is back from the Philippines, but we don't know what he is doing.

GERRY DANGAR (56-61) has his business in Moree, is a great barracker for the school and does good work for the Union in the North.

FR BILL DANIEL, S.J. (42-46) after a year's study leave abroad is back now in his Chair as professor of Moral Theology at the Jesuit Seminary in Melbourne. He lectures also in other seminaries. We were pleased to have him with us for a few days in the August holidays.

PAUL DANIEL (48-49) is a chartered accountant in Newcastle, but has a property at Upper Rouchel for when he wants to get away from it all. BRIEN (71-76) is Manager of the Whitsunday Yachting World. He lives in Mosman. MICHAEL (73-78) has graduated in Commerce/Law and is spending some time overseas before joining Allen Allen & Hemsley. JOHN (78-83) who left at the end of last year is having a good look around before deciding on a university course.

JOHN d'APICE (32-36) is the school solicitor, ever ready to do his best to help both Riverview and the Union. DR TONY (55-60) is a physician at the Royal Melbourne Hospital and has his son at Burke Hall — the loss is ours. RICHARD (57-62) and MICHAEL (68-74) are both with the family legal firm. MARK (59-63) works with Viva Travel. ANDREW (66-71) is with Hawker de Haviland, and doing very nicely, too!

HUGH d'APICE (32-37) is one of the senior partners in the family legal firm. He has a double knighthood from the Holy Father in acknowledgement of all the hidden good work that he does for the Church in N.S.W. He has kept alive a family tradition. BILL (65-71) is also a partner in the firm, has a young son on our rolls who looks as though he will make a good second rower when he gets here!

IVO d'APICE (38-46) is also with the family firm, lives now at Cremorne, but has a home at Palm Beach for when he needs extra relaxation. LEON (67-73) is a computer salesmen and lives at Wahroonga. PAUL (68-75) works for Tooths.

DAVID d'APICE (38-42) works with the Lisgar Building Company, lives at Lindfield where he is one of the pillars of the St V. de P. Society and the parish activities in general.

DAVID D'ARCY (54-60) was with us for the O.I.U. retreat and told us that he was about to move back to Melbourne. Killara parish will miss him, for he was a very active acolyte. MICHAEL (68-71) manages the family property, "Wirrawang", Bega.

KEVIN D'ARCY (32-36) still does a full day's work on his property "Daisy Bank" at Bega. But he has the help of two of his sons, TOM (65-70) and JOHN (67-72). PETER (70-75) is down in Sydney making a name for himself as a Cordon Bleu chef.

BRUNO DA ROZA (36-42) is a medical officer with one of the state departments. He was with us for our Anzac Ceremonial in April. GEOFF (66-69) is out in the West doing research into cotton. We congratulate him on his approaching wedding (December, this year) and wish him and his bride every blessing. CHRIS (74-79) has graduated in Naval Architecture and left this year for England where he hopes to get work. TIM (76-81) is a green-keeper for the Palm Beach Golf Course (nothing but the best!) and studying his subject at Ryde Horticultural College.

GRANT DAVIS (67-70) is on the land at Gunbar Station Merrwagga. His phone number Black Stump 676230 may give you some idea how far out he is!

RICHARD DAY (52-58) is, we believe, an accountant at work in North Sydney. His son began this year in Year 5 in the Junior School.

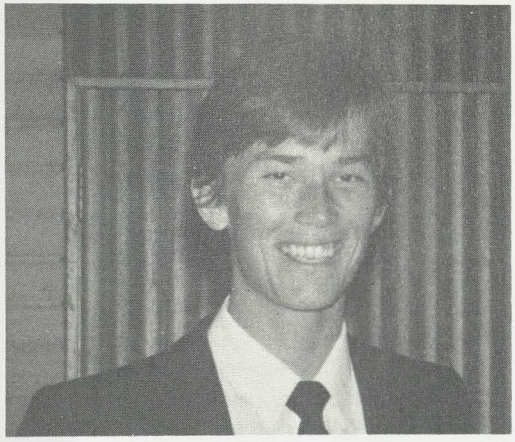

PHIL DE BAUN (51-55) is with Westpac, but as Treasurer of the Union he does a mighty fine job, not only on our books, in keeping a restraining hand on those who think that money grows on trees. He has an infallible remedy for dealing with transgressors!

Phil De Baun, Hon. Treasurer of the O.I.U.

SONNY de CARVALHO (40-41) still has his real estate business in Newcastle, but now that DANNY (68-72) is with him he spends a good deal of his time overseas. RIQUE (66-69) is an architect in Newcastle. DREW (70-75) is in Sydney.

DAVID de CARVELHO (42-48) is one of the senior partners in Carroll & O'Dea, solicitors in the city, is a Councillor of the Law Society of N.S.W. and does a great job each year for the Indian Bazaar. The REV DAVID S.J. (75-80) is at Campion College beginning his studies as a Jesuit. In his spare time he plays cricket for Newman College and rugby for Melbourne University. PAUL (76-81) is at Mitchell College studying media communications. RICHARD (78-83) is at Sydney engaged in Arts.

Rev 'Deccy', S.J. sometimes at Campion, here at the O.I.U. Melbourne Dinner.

BRIAN DELANEY (51-54) is on the land at "Koolinga" where TIM (76-81) gives him a welcome hand. Ian is with us in Year 11. JOHN (63-66) is a stockbroker with Reynolds & Co on the Sydney Exchange. Both GEOFF (69-73) and DAVID (64-69) are carrying on the family property "Lachlan Valley" Cowra.

PAT DELANY (73-80) has graduated in Economics and is now doing Law and working with his father. MICHAEL (78-83) of Australian Olympic swimming fame has accepted a scholarship with the University of Southern California, so we shall miss his cheerful, modest presence for four years, but he has all our good wishes.

DR MICHAEL DELOUGHERY (53-59) is a consultant paediatrican at Blacktown and Westmead hospitals. He has two young sons with us in Years 6 and 5, both already showing their father's flair for rugby.

BRIAN DEMPSEY (46-49) is managing director of the Dempsey Group. He has two sons with us in Years 12 and 10. Tony the elder has captained our 1st XV for two years and played in the Combined G.P.S. 1st both years. We shall miss his powerful leadership next year. MICHAEL (73-79) is an auctioneer and real estate agent.

JOHN DENNIS (58-63) is on the land south of Wagga at "Maroubra Park", Collingullie. He was with us for the Riverina Reunion and paid the school a visit earlier in the year.

JOHN DEPPE (44-53) is the Newcastle Manager of A.F. Bambach, electrical wholesalers. John lives at Cardiff Heights and is one of the stalwarts of the O.I.U. in Newcastle.

MARC DESMARCHELIER (46-50) is on the land at Cooroy Queensland where he is raising cattle and growing tropical fruits.

MICHAEL DEVENEY (77-82) lives at Lindfield and is a Gem Dealer.

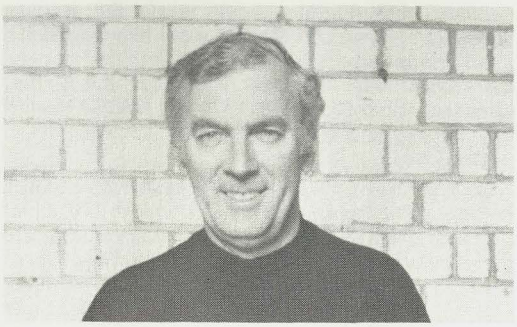

MIKE DILLON (65-70) is on the land at "Millewa", Moree, and came down, as cheerful as ever, for the Annual Dinner.

DAVID DOBBIN (64-70) has his own business Stationers, Office Supplies and Printers. We don't know what has happened to MICHAEL (62-68) since the take over of Nock and Kirby, but we have great confidence in his ability to look after himself. Both boys were at the Annual Dinner.

HUGH DODWELL (59-63) is on the land at "Bundidjarie" Narrandera. He generally calls in when he gets down to Sydney, but he works so hard that is not often.

FR PETER DOHERTY (42-50) is a full time administrator and lecturer at the Adult Education Centre in the city. He was kind enough to come and give the Old Boys their annual Day's Retreat and won high commendation at its end. PETER (35-45) is a proprietor of McCalls Pattern Service and swings such a skilful club that he has just been voted Captain of the Australian Golf Club.

VAN DOHERTY (45-52) lives at "Riverview".

Fr Tony Doherty.

(strange name!) just outside Bega where he has the biggest pharmacy south of the Federal Capital. He has many other interests in the district: is on the Monaro Shire Council, a member of the Guild, a breeder of fine race horses. In short doing his bit for the country. PATRICK (78-83) to whom we said a reluctant goodbye at the end of '83 is at Mitchell College doing a Bachelor of Business course.

TONY DONELAN (57-60) has his own Insurance business at Glen Innes. PETER (54-56) is a business consultant in Brisbane.

BARRY DONELEY (58-64) is head of the Victorian branch of Nationwide and does a handsome job for the O.I.U. Dinner each time we have a Reunion in Melbourne.

DR MICHAEL DONNELLAN (57-59) is one of our top surgeons and has his rooms in Macquarie St. He has one son with us in Year 11.

BRIAN DONOVAN (54-60) lives quite close by in Lane Cove and is one of our well-known barristers in the city.

JOHN DOOLEY (24-29) is enjoying his retirement at Forster, a change from Murrurundi where he worked for so long. JOHN (62-64) keeps the family name alive in that town. REV FR JOE, S.J. (63-68) is actively engaged in parish work in Hawthorn. He calls in here as often as he can, not often enough for us or for Joe!

FR FRANK DOUGLAS (30-31) is at Archbishop's House in Brisbane and is a consultor of the Archdiocese.

PETER DOUGLAS (65-68) crops up in unlikely places. He has just moved to Wagga where he was with us for the Reunion, prior to his sojourn in Wagga he has seen a fair bit of Victoria, the ACT and southern N.S.W. He is an accountant.

JIM DOWS (26-30) is still keeping Gulgong on the straight and narrow as one of its legal luminaries. JIM (56-63) is a business agent in Gosford. Although so young he is a keen bowler for Gosford City Club.

FR LEON DOWDEN (38-43) has responsibility for the biggest parish in N.S.W., Hillston in the Wilcannia diocese. It does not seem to worry Leon. RICHARD (45-50) is Professor of Physics at Otago University N.Z. and has just become a Fellow of the N.Z. Royal Society.

JOHN DOWNEY (30-36) whom we usually see several times a year has this year so far eluded us — not surprising since he has so many interests — but we know that he was at the Annual Dinner.

MICHAEL DOWLING (74-79) is with Citicorp, skis, sails and windsurfs when he gets a chance. He is also President of the Willoughby Young Liberals. MARTIN (76-81) is a Real Estate Valuer.

FR JOHN DRURY, S.J. (35-36) is stationed at St Leo's, a University college in Brisbane. Most of his work is done in giving retreats and promoting the C.L.C. JIM (28-30) has retired from work, lives at Merrylands and keeps fit swinging to great effect his golf clubs. TOM (36-41) is on the land at Moombi where his son TIM (68-73) is also at work. JOHN (59-60) after some happy years in Sydney has been posted back to Canberra where he is the Senior Customs Official. He left his son behind here in Year 10. MICK (61-62) is with the Customs Dept at Sydney International Airport. PETER (66-67) is a school teacher at Toronto. CHRIS (70-71) is a solicitor with Smithers, Warren & Tobias.

BRIAN DUCK (53-58) continues to flourish in Orange, both as a solicitor and in parish matters. He has a young son with us in Year 7.

JOHN DUNFORD, Q.C. (49-53) is one of our senior barristers, has a son in Year 10 and does good work in coaching our Mock Trial team.

DR JOHN DUNSTAN (52-58) practices in Launceston. We have his son Nick here in Year 11.

FR CHRIS DUREAU, S.J. (55-61) is Manager of the Asian Bureau, which he runs from the Theological Centre at Parkville, Melbourne. MICHAEL (55-59) is Managing Director of Kent Instruments, suppliers to power stations and industry. He recently organised a successful international conference on water and pollution control in Sydney.

PAUL DYER (73-76) as pianist, organist and harpsichordist is one of the luminaries in the Sydney musical world, with a string of degrees to his name. He is at present in The Hague enjoying the scholarship at the Koninklijk Conservatory granted to him by the Netherlands Government. ANTHONY (73-79) is in his final year of the S.A.B. Law Course.

FRANK DYNON (29-30) has retired to Mona Vale and enjoys his time sailing on Pittwater. TONY (53-58) is a civil engineer, is site manager for Tomago Aluminium Co, lives at Lake Macquarie and is a regular at the Newcastle Reunion.

JOHN DYNON (45-54) is a solicitor at Dee Why, devotes his spare time to squash and jogging — hence his fit look, though he is considerably grayer than when we first knew him. He has one son in Year 12 and two younger boys booked in.

WALLY EDWARDS (58-59) is a solicitor in Melbourne, does his bit always for the O.I.U. Reunion there — one of Tony Macken's mainstays.

JOHN EGAN (34-40) runs "Kiameron" Warren, a much easier job now since he has his three sons MICHAEL (70-76), JOHN (72-78) and OWEN (74-79) to take some of the weight from his shoulders.

DAVID EGAN (34-40) is on "Goolgamble", Warren, where he has PETER (70-74) and DAVID (74-79) with him. BRYAN (66-71) is down working in the city and living at Manly. BRUCE (71-78) lives in Narromine and has just finished his apprenticeship as an electrician.

JOHN EGAN (58-62) is a mechanical engineer, working with the Hunter District Water Board in the computing field, but he still has close ties with the family property "Springfield" near Gunnedah. He lives at Coal Pt on Lake Macquarie.

JOHN ELL (41-45) is a dentist in Newcastle, and one of the mainstays of the O.I.U. up there, where we always see him at the Reunion. MICHAEL (70-75) is also a dentist, practising somewhere down here in Sydney.

BRIAN ELL (42-48) has come down to the city and to a 9 to 5 job and enjoying it. He has his son with us in Year 8 and is often up to see him and the school.

JOHN ENGLISH (32-37) is a chartered accountant in Bridge St. PETER (71-76) is a solicitor, an associate of Chris Finn. He still plays an excellent game of football for the Old Boys' team. Both were with us for the Annual Dinner.

DR TED EVANS (09-16) lives in retirement at Bayview. DR IAN (43-52) is a specialist in anaesthetics, and does a lot of his work at the Mater. He has three sons with us, and his eldest boy, SIMON (78-82) last year's Dux of the school is now at Sydney University doing Science.

AUSTIN EVANS (07-15) one of the contenders for the title of oldest Old Boy, lives at Manly Vale and still drives his car.

BOB FAGAN (35-36) has a well-known Hereford stud at "Wirrindi", Manilla. ROBERT (65-70) works for Du Pont in Tamworth. PADDY (72-78) has graduated in Agricultural Economics from U.N.E. and is now making a name for himself as owner of the Roving Roast catering business in Tamworth.

DR KEVIN FAGAN (23-26) lives on "Cooinda" on the Burrenjuck Rd, just out of Bookham. He still has a keen interest in the school, has starred several times in the past few years on TV.

JIM FAHEY (65-70) was married some time this year. We wish him and his bride every happiness and boom seasons on the land at Walgett. "Jack" as he is known to us was down for the Annual Dinner and it was good to see him again. JOE (69-75) is back home from a long trip overseas and has lost himself somewhere in Sydney.

KEITH FALK (59-64) works with O.R. Cormack in Sydney. DR PAUL (61-66) practises at Camden. They have a brother, Richard, here in Year 11.

HILARY FALLINS (34-36) still does great work for his parish church at Adamstown, but has a hideaway at Dalwood when things get too much for him. JOHN (67-68) is a solicitor with Patterson, Houen & Commins. DOM (69-74) works with McCabe Enterprises at Chatswood.

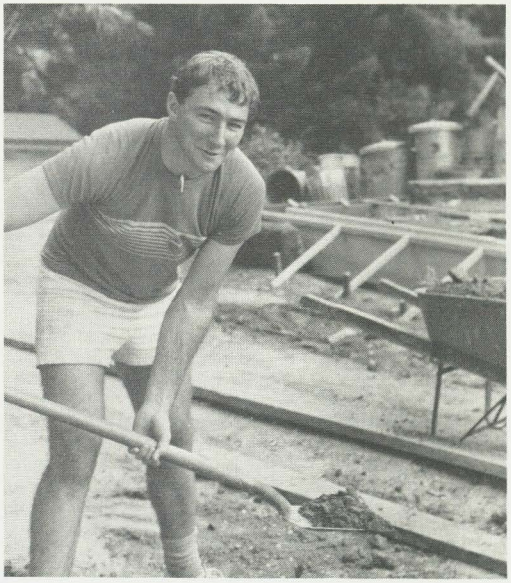

BOB FARRELL (32-36) has retired from legal work in Temora and is contemplating a move to the bright lights of Canberra. ROBERT (66-71) is at Hookers Head office. he still plays good football for the O.I.U. team. DAVID (67-72) is a solicitor with Speed & Tracey in Martin Place. PETER (68-72) is an industrial relations officer with Nabalco and spends most of his time at Gove in the N.T.

Ed Fessey, trying to keep fit.

DAVID FIELD (53-58) is Director of Marketing with the Australian Film Commission, lives quite close by in Lane Cove and was with us for the O.I.U. retreat.

CHRIS FINN (56-61) a solicitor, has his own firm of associates in the city. He has two sons with us, one already in Year 12.

TONY FISHER (42-46) is on the land near Bathurst. He has a son in Year 11 and comes down quite often to see him and how the school is doing. MICHAEL (50-54) is also on a property outside Bathurst. KERRY (46-50) has a property at Grenfell, but lives at Balgowlah. LUKE (71-76) has degrees from Sydney University in Economics and Engineering and is now a consultant engineer in the city. He has been back to the school several times this year and it is always good to see his cheery smile.

CARL FISHER (44-48) is the manager of a Swedish steel company in Sydney. He has a son in Year 12. CARL (77-80) has just about completed his apprenticeship in carpentry.

JOHN FISHER (44-50) is on the land at "Montrose", Currawang, near Goulburn. He has a son with us in Year 9. His brothers PAT (50-53) and CHRIS (57-60) are also farmers and graziers in the same district, Pat on "Tanundra", Chris on "The Glen".

ANTHONY FISHER (72-77) as was to be expected graduated in Law from Sydney University in a blaze of light with three firsts. He has gone overseas to celebrate. CHRIS (73-78) is managing a newsagency in Lakemba.

BRYAN FITZGERALD (30-34) has been so busy since he retired that he is thinking of getting back into harness. ROGER (66-69), also in Canberra, is with the Dept of Science and Technology and at the same time studying Accountancy. He is Area-President of the O.I.U. for 1985 and has already begun to make his preparations.

NEIL FITZGERALD (35-40) is on the land at "Glenesk" Moree. He has a young son in Year 7 and has been down several times to watch his progress.

ROSS FLANERY (53-56) is on the land at "Goonawarra", Galong. His older son HUGH (78-83) is there to give him a hand.

JOHN FLANERY (57-62) is on "Boorowa Flats" in the same district, has a young son with us in Year 9 and several more on our rolls. We hope they are as good as their eldest brother.

MICHAEL FLANNERY (66-71) is on the land at "Cucum South" near Cowra. He has three sons, all booked in here. He was with us for the Annual Dinner. JONATHON (69-74) ended his Science-Law course last year and is, we think, at the College of Law.

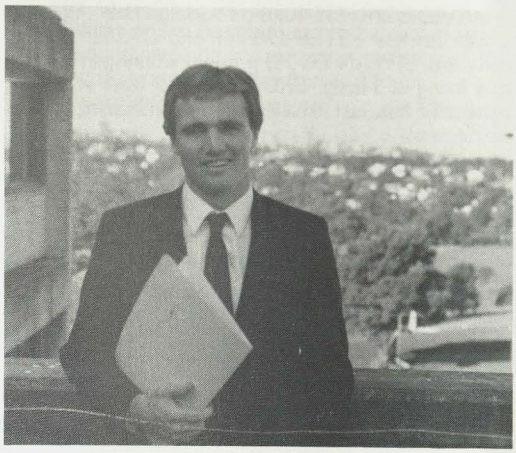

PAUL FLEMING (63-69) and his brother JAMES (67-73) are in charge of the Cooma branch of Dalgety's. JUSTIN (67-73) is at the bar in Sydney, doing very well but achieving almost as much fame as a playwright. PETER (72-78) has graduated in Arts from Sydney University and has all but completed his course for a Dip.Ed.

FRANK FLETCHER (58-62) is a barrister in the city, with his rooms in the MLC Centre. It is some time since we have seen him at Riverview.

TERRY FLITCROFT (72-79) is an accountant with Peat, Marwick & Mitchell. He came and spoke to Years 11 and 12 on Careers' Day, then had a run with the 1st XV. He is still playing good football himself. RICHARD (77-82) is at U.N.S.W. doing Commerce/Law II.

GARY FLOWERS (66-71) is a partner in the legal firm Sparke, Helmore & Withycombe, has recently married, plays a little less cricket these days, but can always be relied on to get the O.I.U. team against the present boys away to a good start.

FR PETER FLYNN, M.S.C. (43-45) has been a missionary for many years in New Guinea where his medical qualifications are also of great value.

Terry Flitcroft ready to talk on Accountancy on Careers' Day.

JOHN FURLONG (43-45) and his son JOHN (64-70) are active partners in the retail wine and spirits business. MICHAEL (64-71) is a solicitor, a partner in the Curtis & Co firm in Muswellbrook.

MAX FOWLER (26-30) is on the land at "Rosewood" Monteagle, near Young, where he has his son JOHN (73-78) to help him. We offer Max our sympathy on the death of his brother JOHN (26-30). TONY (61-65) is also on the land on nearby "Melrose". He has two sons on our rolls.

DAN GALE (53-57) is Esso distributor in the Walgett district. He has a young son with us in Year 7.

PATER GALLAGHER (50-55) with his hotel interests in Brisbane and Sydney, his Vice-Presidency of the Queensland Turf Club, his string of race horses still finds time to do a great job for the O.I.U. He was one of the prime movers behind the success this year of our Annual Sydney Dinner, where it was good to see him. DAVID (72-77) is now a resident at St. Vincent's. SEAN (75-80) is also in Sydney, looking after some of his father's interests down here.

JOHN GALLAGHER Q.C. (51-57) is still bewitching with his oratory the Brisbane Inns of Court. JAMES (77-81) has successfully negotiated the Queensland H.S.C. and is now doing Economics at Brisbane University.

JUSTIN GARDENER (48-52) is a partner of Arthur Andersen, chartered accountants in the city. He has two sons at the school and devotes a lot of time and effort to Riverview as a member of the Advisory Committee and Chairman of the Finance Committee.

The four GARLING brothers, TONY (54-58), MAX (55-60), KIM (60-66) and PETER (63-69) are all well known in the legal world, all are solicitors, except Peter, who went to the Bar last year. Tony and Kim have sons with us in Years 8 and 7 respectively.

JOHN GARNSEY (53-55) Stock and Station Agent in Young has two boys with us, one in Year 12 and a prefect to boot, the other in Year 7.

JOHN GARRY (41-49) is on the land at "Myrana" in the Garry country of Binalong. He has a son with us in Year 10 whom John often gets down to see.

JOHN GAVAGHAN (62-67) is a social worker with the Health Commission. DR TOM (66-70) is registrar for the cardiology section of St Vincents. DR CHRIS (71-77) has graduated from U.N.S.W. but we have lost track of him.

CLIFF GEARIN (30-34) is enjoying a well-earned retirement at Killara. MICHAEL (64-69) is with Schroder Darling in their Tokyo office. He made a very brief, but Oh so pukka, return to Sydney in August this year and hinted that he might be off to England before very long.

DR ERIC GIBLIN (35-39) has retired and is enjoying life, dividing his time between Wahroonga and Palm Beach and entertaining some or other of his ten grandsons! DR PETER (63-65) is responsible for four of them. He lives in Camden and practises in Campbelltown. JOHN (64-68) has twin sons and a pair of singles. He is a dentist at Hornsby, this year became a member of the O.I.U. Committee and has already shown his worth. DR MATT (67-71) is the Orthopaedic Registrar at Royal Newcastle and has two sons. The whole family are looking forward to a take over of Riverview in a few years.

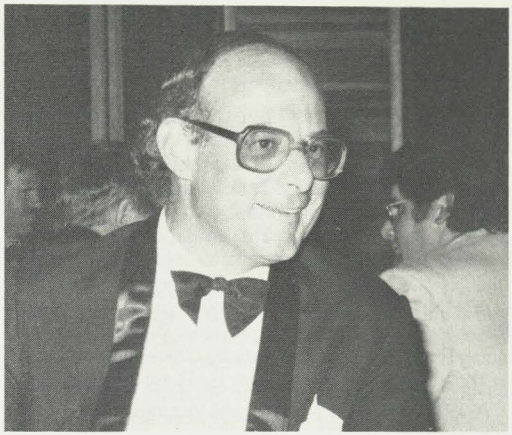

DEXTER GIBLIN (58-62) lives at Wahroonga, practices as a dentist in the city, still enjoys rugby, but has added tennis and gardening to his many accomplishments. DR MICHAEL (64-71) is married and lives in Wollstonecraft. He has his FRACS ophthalmology and is Registrar at Sydney Eye Hospital.

ROBERT GIBSON (69-75) is a helicopter pilot with Heliflite. He was married in the chapel in January this year. We wish him and his bride every blessing.

DR DON GILLESPIE (39-42) is an over-worked general practitioner, but apart from a distinguished greying of his hair he seems to thrive on the job. We are indebted deeply for his kindness every year at the Canberra Reunion for the photos he takes. DR MICHAEL (68-73) is a senior resident at R.P.A. He spoke very tellingly at Canberra this year. DR DAVID (70-75) is a resident at Princess Alexandra Hospital. ANDREW (71-77) is an officer with the army, spent some time at the Land Warfare Centre at Canungra and has since been posted to Townsville. JOHN (74-79) has completed his studies in accountancy at Canberra CAE and now has other studies in mind. PETER (77-83) is at Canberra CAE doing Banking and Finance. We wish him every success. He was the last of a long line of Don's sons.

PAT GILLESPIE (37-41) is in the administration section of S.C.G. He has spent a fair few weekends here this year watching his son, Peter, slow bowler but very speedy winger perform. JOCK (39-46) is Sales Manager for Caldwell Motors of Crows Nest. He has two sons with us, and is one of Fr Drum's great men for the Indian Bazaar.

DES GIUGNI (56-62) is a lecturer in Legal Studies in the Dept of Accountancy at U.N.S.W. He has a son in Year 5 and, as a member of the O.I.U. Committee did a fine job organising the Bursary Raffle and helping with the Annual Dinner.

Des Giugni, Executive Committee, Bursary Organiser.

DR ALBERT GOLDEN (35-37) is in general practice at Maroubra. MARK (70-74) is an architect, lives at Mosman and was married in the school chapel in April this year. We wish him and his bride every blessing. GREG (77-81) is a jackeroo at Longreach, Queensland.

LYNTON GOODEN (46-49) is on the land at "Athole" Morundah and for a change enjoying a good season. He has two sons with us in Years 11 and 10. MARK (49-53) is on "Berembee" just out of Wagga, he was with us for the Reunion down there and often calls in here to see how his young son in Year 7 is shaping up.

DON GOULDEN (28-32) is Managing Director of Acme Gate Co and a generous benefactor of the school. IAN (70-71) is an accountant with ICI at Matraville. FRED (28-30) lives in retirement at Picnic Point.

NEVILLE GORMAN (40-41) is on the land at "Beltgana" Queanbeyan and speaks with authority on all matters connected with farming and grazing. DAVID (64-69) is on the property with his father. PETER (72-77) must by now have graduated in Vet. Science from Sydney, but we have not heard where he has set himself up.

MICHAEL GOWER (70-76) is head of the media group at U.S.P. Needham in North Sydney. CHRIS (73-79) is studying for Science-Law at Sydney University. He is a member of the O.I.U. Committee and does fine work among the younger members of the Union.

DAVID GOWING (53-57) is on the land at "South Winscombe", Bundara up on the northern tablelands. He has a happy, cheerful young son with us in Year 10.

JOHN GRADY (51-56) is a chemist at Noosa in Queensland. MICHAEL (60-61) lives at Kooringal, Wagga, has a son with us in Year 11. Michael was with us for the Reunion down south.

MAX GRAHAM (59-61) is on the land at "Argyle", near Galong, and is at last enjoying a good season. He has two young sons with us, so just as well perhaps! JIM (59-64) is on "Eulonga", Coolac, nothing to complain about there! He also has a young son in Year 7.

CHARLES GRANT (74-76) late of Peat Marwick & Mitchell took off for Europe this year and we can expect him back when we see him! IAN (76-81) is studying Economics at U.N.S.W. He had a knee cap removed in the middle of last year — an injury from a car crash, and is now able to get about without a walking stick.

JOHN GRATTAN (50-52) is a stockbroker with Ross McFadyen & Co in the city. PAUL (76-82) is doing Economics/Law at Sydney University. His place at the school has been taken by Peter in Year 5.

ADRIAN GRAY (43-46) still manages the family estate agencies and in his spare time is an ocean racing expert. DR GEOFF (42-44) lives at Tuncurry and does locums round about Sydney.

MICHAEL GRAY (65-70) is a partner in Freehill, Hollingdale & Page, solicitors in Sydney. We thank him for surrendering his taxi after the Annual Dinner when taxis were at a premium. He has a young son on our rolls. PETER (67-72) and ROBERT (68-75) have, we think, their own silk screen printing business. DAVID (71-77) is a resident medical officer at RNSH, has apparently given up cricket and is now playing baseball for Mosman. JOHN (75-81) has had a protracted illness and has gone off overseas to recuperate. We wish him a complete return to perfect health.

PHILLIP GREEN (63-68) is with the family legal firm in Australia Square. He was with us for the Annual Dinner, as was RICHARD (75-80) who is at Sydney reading in Economics. ANDREW (64-70) after some years in New York is back home and interested in Resources and Industrial Development. DAVID (66-71) is the Manager of the Mining Branch of the Bank of Montreal. He lives at Bondi.

REX HOEBEN (56-60) is a chartered accountant with his own business, lives at Mosman and has two sons on our rolls.

LANCE HOGG (38-42) is still with Merrell & Co., but spends a lot of time at either Nelson Bay, or on the Myall Lakes. He was with us for the Annual Dinner and was given a great reception.

PETER HOLLINGDALE (39-44) is one of the senior partners at Freehill Hollingdale & Page. MICHAEL (67-73) is home from England and at work with the family firm. He was with us for the Annual Dinner as bright and cheerful as ever. PATRICK (76-77) is at Sydney University doing Ag. Science.

Michael Higgins and his Bride Lucy O'Connor.

ROGER HONEYMAN (58-63) whom we have not seen since he left school is a storekeeper and bookmaker at Bourke.

DAVID HONNER (42-45) is on the land at "Rojibo" Jugiong. He was also at the Reunion down south and made the trip down to Sydney this year for the O.I.U. retreat. MICHAEL (74-79) is, we think, working on the family property.

ANDREW HORSLEY (63-68) is legal adviser with Esso, is state coach for cross country skiing, was with us for the Annual Dinner and keeps in close touch with the school.

JOHN HORGAN (72-78) has completed five years with Occidental Life Insurance of Australia and is taking time off for a year and a half to tour all the other continents of the world. He never did things by halves. MARK (73-79) has graduated in Science from Sydney Uni and is now a graduate trainee with the A.N.Z. He still plays good football for the O.I.U. team.

LACH HORSLEY (06-11), one of our senior Old Boys, is still very active in his retirement at Wagga. FRED (50-55) manages the family property "Yabtree" Adelong. He was with us for the Wagga Reunion and has a bright, cheerful young son with us in Year 9. WALLACE (11-16) has moved down to Sydney and lives at Rose Bay. IAN (58-61) manages the family properties. It was good to have him with us for the Wagga Reunion.

PAUL HOWARTH (67-72) is an electrical engineer with the S.C.C., lives at Hornsby and was with us for the Annual Dinner.

JOHN HUNT (42-47) is Legal Affairs Manager of the N.S.W. Law Society. He took time off in the middle of the year for a trip to Europe, especially to Oberammergau for the Passion Play. BRENDAN (45-49) is doing a course in Business Administration at Kuringai C.A.E. and working part time at the Epping Hotel to keep himself solvent. PAUL (72-77) is with the National Bank at Chatswood. John has two other sons here in Years 12 and 10.

PAUL HUNTER (45-49) is a Sales Representative for Diamond K. He still has close connections with the O.I.U. which has made him a Life Vice-President in recognition of so many years of service. Paul is also this year President of the O.I.U. Football Club. PAUL C (68-74) is Manager of the Epping Bottle Shop. STEVE (72-79) is completing a Supervisor's course at North Sydney Tech. MATT (77-82) is a Sales Representative with H.C.F.

MAURICE HUNTER (41-45) is still active in the hotel business. SAM (71-77) is a market researcher with Coca Cola. He still does a good job for us in the football season.

DR JOHN IRELAND (67-72) is the orthopaedic registrar at Mona Vale Hospital. GREG (70-76) was practising as a dentist in Orange, but we think that he has recently gone overseas to try his fortune in the U.K. ANDREW (71-77) is a lawyer at practice in the city. NICK (73-79) is doing Arts/Law at Macquarie University.

ERIC IRESON (36-42) is on the land at "Round Box" in the Hay district. MICHAEL (66-71) is there to help him. Matt is here in Year 12.

DR LEX JOHNSON (22-26) lives in retirement in Nazareth House, Turramurra. FR LEX (53-58) is now Dean of St Mary's Cathedral, but is bearing up well under all his responsibilities. He was with us for the feast of St Ignatius and in fine form. DR DAVID (54-59) is staff surgeon at Westmead Hospital, though he lives at Annandale. PAUL (58-62) is a pilot with East-West Airlines and lives with his wife and five children at Campbelltown. PETER (63-68) is at the Bar and has his rooms in Wentworth House, Phillip St.

DR BRISTOW JOHNSON (22-28) is still in practice in Caltex House. DR MICHAEL (52-57) is an orthopaedic surgeon, has his rooms in Macquarie St. His young son is due to start here next year. BRIAN (54-59) is in business in North Sydney.

We congratulate DICK JOHNSON (37-45) on his recent appointment as Secretary of the Dept of Education and Youth Affairs. ROSS (35-43) has retired and lives at Shoalhaven. TERRY (41-49) is Commercial Manager of Masterfoods. He follows the O.I.U. Football Club for which his two sons JAMES (75-78) and MATT (78-79) seem to play.

FRASER JOHNSTON (53-60) lives in Double Bay, is a wine merchant in charge of the Paddington Cellars. He gets his relaxation from ocean racing yachts, was with us for the Annual Dinner this year.

Dick Johnson, Secretary of the Dept of Education & Youth.

DR FARMEY JOSEPH (38-41) despite his very busy practice in Wagga still finds time to run the O.I.U. affairs in the Riverina and manage a quick trip down here to see the last of his six sons through the school. DR GERARD (63-68) is a Systems Engineer with IBM, has six children and is an avid reader of St Thomas. MICHAEL (64-70) is in Arts II at Sydney University reading historical anthropology. CHRIS (72-77) is a Divisional Manager for Grace Bros at Bondi Junction. PETER (74-79) is working with the NCC in Sydney, but there are better things in store for him. LUKE (76-81) doing Arts-Law at Sydney University finished 1983 in a blaze of glory and went off with the Cooper Scholarship.

DR VIN JOSEPH (62-67) is in general practice in Griffith, and flexing his muscles, we hear, in preparation for next year's O.I.U. dinner down there. TONY (65-70) and MARK (66-72) are both doctors, the former practising in Canberra, the latter in Wales. JOHN (64-69) is a solicitor practising in his home town Lithgow. He has a young son, already on our rolls. GLEN (67-72) is doing freelance film-making in the eastern parts of the country, with his headquarters at Armidale.

Dr Farmey Joseph, Area-President for Wagga.

BILL JORIS (62-67) is Manager of Hardy Brothers, lives in Cremorne. JOHN (65-70) is Sales Manager for Arrawatta Sapphires in Pitt St.

CHRISTOPHER JOYCE (75-77) of "Rutherglen" Woolbrook has been in Japan for the past two years and now speaks the language fluently and reads the script. He was home for Christmas '83. JAMES (75-79) is farming on the family property at Curlewis.

JOHN JULIAN (25-27) still runs his property "Bogolong" at Bookham. RICHARD (65-70) is with him and breeds and races horses quite successfully.

MICK KEARINS (41-46) is Registrar of the Promotion Appeals Tribunal. He must have had a few thrills this year especially in the match against Shore. MICHAEL (78-83) is doing accountancy at North Sydney Tech. and plays football for Norths Colts.

PETER KEARNEY (58-59) is on the land at "Spring Valley" Manilla and has a wholesale farmers' equipment business in Tamworth. His young son Simon is here in Year 6.

TONY KEIGHERY (59) manages the TAB at Pagewood. PAUL (59-62) is a consulting engineer with Crooks, Mitchell, Peacock & Stewart and involved with the design of water pollution control plants. DR GRAEME (59-64) is in general practice at Blacktown. He has a hefty young son in Year 5 who is making himself felt on the football field. MICHAEL (60-66) is Arts Coordinator at U.N.S.W. LUKE (66-73) is an accountant with Wellcome, Aust. Ltd. MARK (66-73) has a menswear shop at Chatswood designed to cater for the discerning young man. MATT (70-75) is back home, but apart from a mutual happy wave as we were crossing the Harbour Bridge in different cars we have not had a chance to get together.

JIM KEIGHERY (43-49) lives in Melbourne and is one of the stalwarts of the Union down there. He flew up to Sydney for our dinner here. DICK (48-55) lives at Hunters Hill, has a son with us in Year 9, has business interests in both Sydney and Brisbane and a property "Reid's Flat" on the Lachlan River down near Boorowa.

KEVIN KELLY (17-24) lives in McLaren St, North Sydney, has retired from active business, but gets great pleasure in the walks about the places where he spent his boyhood.

JOHN L KELLY (59-61) works for the Arabian Bechtel Co in Jubail, Saudi Arabia. He has been there for four years. During that time he has had seven trips to France for R & R and has been home several times for Christmas. Not hard to take, but he fears that with the Gulf War the end may be in sight.

RICHARD KELLY (57-61) is on the land at Ballymena in the Boorowa district. He has two young sons with us in Years 8 and 6.

DR JOHN KENNEDY (41-42) is in general practice at Marrickville where his son DR JOHN (68-73) has been taken into partnership. MARK (68-74) is a trainee manager with W.D. & H.O. Wills. PETER (73-78) is with Grace Bros in their computer department. Both Mark and Peter are enthusiastic skiers and also play football for the O.I.U. Teams.

MICHAEL KENNY (70-75) and his brother DAVID (74-76) are at work on the family property "Brooklyne" Mendooran. We generally see them at the Warren Reunion. Michael has taken up flying in his spare time.

FR JUSTIN KING, S.J. (46-54) is chaplain to St Thomas More School, Adelaide, but he generally manages a trip or two a year to the east.

RICHARD KING (39-42) is on the land at "Morley Downs", Timor, near Murrurundi and Chris is there to give him a hand. MICHAEL (65-69) is studying for his degree in mechanical engineering at N.S.W. Institute of Technology.

ROGER KIRBY (30-33) is a solicitor in Melbourne and a great supporter of the O.I.U. down there.

GEOFF KIRBY (61-62) is a grazier on "Buffel Park" Dirranbandi, Queensland.

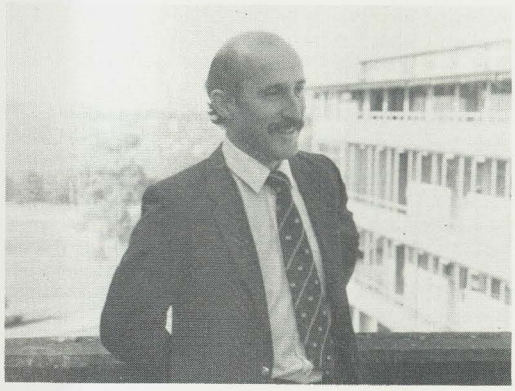

JOHN KIRKPATRICK (40-47) is on the land at "Cleveland" Mungindi and rarely seems to get down to the city, but he was with us for the Annual Dinner this year.

MICHAEL KNIGHT (59-63) is Manager of the family firm of butchers in Wagga. He was with us for the Reunion and more importantly at the barbecue where he served up the best steaks we have ever seen or tasted. Even Harry Hendriks cooking could not spoil them. DR PETER (59-65) is in practice with a group of other doctors, among them Michael Lennon, in Wagga. He too was with us for the Reunion.

DAVID KNIGHT (47-50) and his son GEOFF (71-77) have an air taxi service in Coonabarabran. TIM (60-65) is on the land at "Tannabah West", Warkton. He looked as fit as ever when we saw him down here through the year.

DR PAUL KOENIG (63-69) is in general practice at Lindfield. He is the medical officer of the N.S.W. Cricket Association and has toured with the Australians to Pakistan and Sri Lanka. He was kind enough to come and talk to Years 12 and 11 on Careers' Day. CHRIS (61-66) is a Systems Analyst with the S.C.C.

Dr Paul Koenig, here for Careers' Day.

JOHN KOUVELIS (37-40) is now living at Wahroonga from where he watches over his interests in the San Miguel Inn at Cammeray, some land he has kept at Orange and his other investments. JOHN W (61-66) is a consultant with Adaps Ltd, (Computer Services and Products). Hard to believe, for various reasons he still plays top football on IB on Wednesdays at 6.30 a.m. and he would like to organise a team for the Golden Oldies Tournament in London in 1985. Would they want a chaplain to accompany the team?

FRED KURRLE (28-30) is on the land at "Sunbury Park" Lockhart, is wearing very well as we found out when we swapped notes at the Wagga Dinner. VERNON (59-63) is on hand to help on the property and spends his free time promoting Rugby in the district; he even played for the Wagga team in the Golden Oldies Tournament in Sydney last year.

DOM LACEY (78-83) who left us at the end of last year has a cadetship with the Commercial Union Assurance Co.

STEPHEN LAMBERT (75-80) is a Graduate Trainee with Citicorp, Australia, Ltd.

PAUL LAMERAND (42-49) on the land at "Mulga Downs" Queensland is a sort of Marco Polo of the Union. Distance is no trouble to him when there is a Reunion in the offing.

BILL LANG (73-79) called in to say goodbye before he left for England. He has won a scholarship to Sussex University and will study linguistics for three years. GAVIN (78-83) is at Newcastle University in Forestry I.

DAVID LARBALESTIER (70-71) is with the Dept of Education and is devoting his extraordinary flair for languages to teaching migrants. DR ROBERT (71-74) is Surgical Registrar at Royal North Shore. He often spends his Saturday mornings pacing the sidelines of fields watching his two younger brothers play.

DR BILL LARKINS (23-29) no longer is active in practice, is still occupied in various advisory capacities. He has lost none of his skill as an after-dinner speaker and enchanted his audience at this year's Annual Dinner. NICK (59-63) is a veterinarian moving to and fro across the Atlantic, with an occasional venture into the Pacific. As far as we know MICHAEL (61-67) is with a shipping firm in San Francisco.

MR JUSTICE TONY LARKINS (23-31) has retired from the Bench as a Judge of the Supreme Court of N.S.W., but he was with us for the Annual Dinner.

RALPH LARKINS (32-38) is a solicitor in practice in Cremorne. MICK (33) has retired from his motor business but still lives at Hunters Hill.

JOHN LARKINS (31-37) is an accountant and partner in Nelson & Wheeler. RICHARD (67-73) is an engineer with Thiess Bros and last year went with the Lindfield Cricket Club to play against Lindfield in Surrey. We have not heard any results!

PHIL LAST (48-52) of "Brawlin Springs" Muttama has a young champion with us in Year 8. ROSS (46-51) of "Rawila" in the same district sent down his son David to Year 6. We have seen Ross at many of the country O.I.U. Reunions. CHRIS (63-67) is also on the land on "Killoran" in the same district.

GEORGE LAWSON (53-58) whom we have not seen since he left here this year sent us his young son. COLIN (55-60) is now living in Calgary, Canada where he is a successful building contractor and a father of six children.

DENIS LEAHY (63-69) has his pharmacy at Stanmore. We rarely see him now, but still remember gratefully all that he did for the Alma when he was closer to the scene of operations.

PHIL LEDINGHAM (60-64) and his two brothers PAUL (65-69) and TIM (62-66) have their share of the land around Warialda and always give a great welcome to itinerant Jesuits who happen to come their way.

QUENTIN LEEDER (56-61) a Field Officer of the Commonwealth Development Bank is monarch of all he surveys in seventeen shires of the Riverina. We were pleased to welcome his son Jason to Year 7 this year.

IAN LEES (47-51) is on the land at "Kia Ora", Gundaroo. MICHAEL (79-80) is at St John College, Sydney University seeing what he can find out to teach his father when he gets back on to the property! ROBIN (47-52) is also on the land at "Kia Ora". He has a son with us in Year 8 who is distinguishing himself in more ways than one.

DON LE LIEVRE (48-50) is on the land at "Deerina" Louth, and for a change is enjoying a good season, but we wonder if the army and their land grab are giving him cause for thought. He has two sons with us in Year 9 and 6.

TONY LEMBKE (75-81) is finding no trouble in negotiating the hurdles of Medicine at Sydney and is now at the end of Med III.

VIN LENEHAN (69-74), BILL (74-80), JOHN (77-83) are all home at last after fifteen years. Vin completed his degree in Ag./Science at Sydney University, Bill went off jackerooing at Warren, John left us at the end of last year and is home until he decides which tertiary course he will study. Michael is still here in Year 11.

JIM LENEHAN (49-58) is on the land at "Beggan Beggan" Harden, he has a young son with us in Year 7 whom he has been down to see through the year.

PETER LENEHAN (51-55) after years overseas in the East, America and Europe is now back home, we hope for good. He has a young son with us in Year 8. TONY (81-82) is at Sydney University.

DR MICHAEL LENNON (47-51) practises in Wagga, has two sons with us who keep the family flag flying high. Son No. 1, RICHARD (76-81) is with the RAAF Academy at Point Cook and is doing Science at Melbourne University.

MICHAEL LEONARD (48-52) is on the land at Goondiwindi. He keeps in touch with the school and is always with us for the Brisbane and Northern reunions.

JIM L'ESTRANGE (38) still does his magnificent job as the medical officer of the school and has been doing it now for more than twenty years.

TIM L'ESTRANGE (69-74) is a solicitor with Allen, Allen and Hemsley.

RICHARD LETTERS (75-62) is a solicitor in England, but is thinking of coming home to Australia and practising here.

NOEL LEWIS (40-45) has an earth moving business in Mittagong. He has been with us for a few of the Reunions this year, always in great form. DR PAUL (45-51) is an orthodontist, is still a valuable member of the O.I.U. Committee, was with us for and enjoyed the flight down to the Wagga Reunion, would do it again any day of the week. ANTHONY (75-80) set off in August to try his fortune as an hotelier in London. He hopes the streets will be paved for him with gold. PAUL (75-80) has found his metier in landscaping. He can bring his pick and spade up here any time he likes. There's always plenty for a willing worker.

FR LANGLOIS LEWIS, S.J. (26-29) seems to have fallen out of the frying pan into the fire. After years of lonely and heroic missionary work in country districts of Zimbabwe he has been made Minister of the Regional Seminary at Salisbury. His brother FR PAT, S.J. (26-29) is Bursar of St George's Boarding College in the same country. Both are members of the English Province, both keep in touch with the school. Pat is regarded as "The Authority" on all things Australian.

PETER LIPPMANN (41-44) is Director of Jules Moore Motors at Dural, where his son JULES (76-80) is at work with him. PAUL (41-44) is still coaching basketball and football with his usual flair at St Joseph's. The three of them were with us for the Wagga Reunion.

FR KEVIN LIST O.C.S.O. (47-48) is Prior and Novice Master at the Cistercian Abbey at Tarrawarra in Victoria.

PETER LOCKE (55-58) is on the land at Canowindra. He has one son with us and often drops in to see him. We congratulate BRIAN (62-65) on his marriage this year in the school chapel. We all had to wait a long while for it! We wish him and his bride every blessing. He also is on the land at Canowindra.

MARK LODDER (71-72) is production manager of a nursery, has recently become engaged and he has all our best wishes for the future. DAVID (75-80) must by now have graduated in accountancy from Macquarie, but we have lost track of him.

TIM LLOYD (75-76) has graduated in Economics from Sydney and now is Manager of the family farm, a Leisure, tourist centre near Otford.

DAVID LONERAGAN (69-74) is working as a veterinary surgeon in England. PETER (70-76) is an agronomist in Toowoomba. We had hoped to have him here on the staff but it was not to be. DR ROBERT (72-77) is Resident Medical Officer at Royal North Shore, with a most impressive bedside manner!

DAVID LONERAGAN (37-41) is still on the land at "Woodlands" Pyramul where FRANK (74-81) is doing his share of the work. ROD (71-77) is on the staff of St Aloysius where he teaches P.E.

MICHAEL (73-78) has just about graduated in Law from Sydney University. DOM (76-81) is doing Economics and JON (77-82) engineering at Sydney University. We have not yet learnt what ROHAN and JUSTIN have been doing since they left us at the end of last year.

DICK McCORMICK (49-50) is on "Glencoe" in the same district where he has the help of his two sons HUGH (72-77) and TIM (78-81).

MARK McCROSSIN (72-77) is on the teaching staff at Chevalier, Bowral. His father BILL Honorary Old Boy finally retired from active work at the school this year and was given a great send-off at a Staff Dinner held to honour him.

DR CHARLIE McDERMOTT (15-22) has retired from active practice, lives at Darling Point and still manages to hold his own against the Bondi surf.

SIR EMMETT McDERMOTT (21-29) still has his dentist practice in the city. JOHN (56-61) is a solicitor in the city, he was with us for the Annual Dinner.

FRANK McDERMOTT (31-34) is the licensee of "The Cool Rocks Cellars" in Lismore. He hopes that any O.R. of his time who is passing through will contact him. BILL (40-45) is a dentist in Brisbane and is always with us for the Reunion up there. JOHN (35-39) is a solicitor in Chatswood. He and son MARK (64-69) who is at the N.S.W. Bar were with us for the Annual Dinner. TIM (73-77) is at the C.A.E. in Lismore.

DR GEOFF McDONALD (36-37) was honoured last year by Sydney University for his distinguished service to his profession, is on the visiting staff of R.P.A., and has rooms as a consultant physician in Macquarie St. Of his sons DR CHARLES (60-65) is in general practice at Windsor in a growing practice. TIM (63-69) is also in general practice at Normanhurst. GEOFF (67-73) is Medical Officer at Royal Alexandra Hospital for Children.

PHIL McDONALD (38-39) has retired from the Commonwealth Public Service but has enough work in retirement to keep him thoroughly occupied.

DR JOHN McDONALD (38-41) is still on the visiting staff of Royal Alexandra as senior paediatrician. He lives in Longueville.

DON McDONALD (76-77) and ROBBIE (76-78) keep in touch with the school, but last time we heard from them they had taken time off from the University and we are not sure what they are doing.

BOB McDONNELL (59-64) is on the land at Cundletown, a member of the Taree Apex Club, an alderman of the greater Taree City Council, has a young son on our rolls, was with us for the Annual Dinner and we did not recognise him. Deep apologies, Bob. We'll try to do better if we see you at Newcastle!

ANDREW McELHONE (73-78) chartered accountant, late of Arthur Andresen & Co, has gone off with John Horgan for a year or so, back packing it over Asia, Europe, Africa and North America. What has poor South America done? In any case we wish them good travelling.

DAVID McELHONE (72-76) is in practice with Taylor & Scott, his father's old legal firm. He was never the Latin scholar that his brother Andrew is, but Andrew is not the football centre that he was — one of our best ever!

COLIN McELHONE (37-38) is in legal practice somewhere in the city. He lives at Bellevue Hill.

DR JAMIE McENCROE (62-67) is in general practice in Griffith. He did a fine job for the Union last year as convenor of the Reunion. It is some time since we have heard about any of his brothers or of his never to be too highly venerated father, of whom we have very fond memories.

FR JOHN McGEE (47-48) is Parish Priest of Barellan in the Canberra-Goulburn Diocese.

DR MICHAEL McGLYNN (59-64) is a plastic surgeon in Macquarie St, lives in North Bondi, has a son in Year 8, has spent some time this year at our sheds giving the present boys some of his skill as an oarsman. DR PETER (61-66) is in general practice in Rose Bay, a partner of Dr Jim Macken, to whom we are deeply indebted for his kindness. TONY (63-69) is a solicitor living in Cremorne, acquired some fame last year when his wife gave birth to quadruplets — all still doing famously.

PAT McGRATH (37-42) is Managing Director of King & Prior, paper merchants. DAVID (72-78) has graduated from U.N.S.W. in building, spent some time in T.P.N.G. and more time in Mt Isa, but seems to be back now in N.S.W. and living in Wahroonga. PETER (75-80) is a sales representative with Edwards Dunlop, plays good football for the O.I.U. team. MICHAEL (76-82) is at Kuringai C.A.E. doing accountancy. What RICHARD (78-83) has been doing since he left last year we do not know, but Owen House has not been the same since he left.

ROGER McGRATH (46-51) is with Hungerford, Hancock & Offner, chartered accounts, involved mainly in receiverships and liquidations. He has one son with us in Year 12.

PAUL McGRATH (42-48) is the Senior Partner of the legal firm McGrath, Levy and Co. He has two sons with us in Year 12 and 10.

MAURICE McGRATH (51-57) is Marketing Manager for 3M. He has one son in Year 6 and at least one other yet to come.

MICHAEL M. McINERNEY (59-63) is still keeping the fires burning at "Polocara" Tilpa out beyond Bourke. He has a young son on our rolls for 1990!

DR ALAN McJANNET (36-41) does most of his work at the Prince of Wales Hospital, has a young son in Year 8, and as a result we have seen Alan up at the school quite often through the year.

RITCHIE McKAY (47-49) is a dentist in Dubbo, and the O.I.U. Area Vice-President in the district, where he always does a fine job. WILLIAM (75-80) is at U.N.S.W. and is now in Med IV. David is in Year 7.

BRYAN McKAY (36-39) is still running "Winnabri", is a keen Rotarian and does a fine job for the Warren District Hospital. He has his two sons MARK (60-64) and PETER (63-68) with him on the property. DOUG (57-62) is a solicitor in the town. All, looking fit and prosperous, were with us for the Western Reunion.

IAN McKAY (45-50), on the land at "Kulkine" Warren, is the Area Vice-President of the O.I.U. for the Warren district and did a wonderful job this year, as usual, to make the Reunion such a great success. IAN (72-77) is working with his father on the property. It was good to see him at the Reunion looking so fit and well. JIM (78-83) who left us at the end of last year is having this year at home before going on to tertiary work in '85.

MICK McKAY (45-50) and the lovely Doone of "The Overflow" were our host and hostess for the Warren Reunion barbecue and left nothing undone to make it the wonderful success it was. They even used their direct line to obtain a perfect spring day. All present voted it one of the best ever. GEOFF (70-75) is still enjoying himself overseas. PAUL (71-76) is on the land with his father and brought his baby son along to share in the proceedings of the Reunion. BOB (73-78) is also at home on the property. TOM (73-78) is at St Johns and doing Ag. Economics at Sydney University.

BILL McKENZIE (58-63) has a Public Relations Company in Melbourne, is one of the stalwarts of the Union down south and flew up to Sydney for our Annual Dinner.

MYLES McLACHLAN (37-38) is Managing Director of Girlock, lives at Mosman. RICHARD (78-83) one of the last years Latin Luminaries is working full time with Robertson & Marks, Architects and studying part time at the N.S.W. Institute of Technology.

DR GEOFF McMANIS (24-29) is one of a diminishing number still practising in Macquarie. He has a great interest in the activities of the school and the Union. DR PHILIP (64-70) is still in the U.S.A. doing post-graduate studies in neurology at the Mayo Clinic. NEIL (66-72) is the accountant with the Mona Vale branch of the National Australia Bank. PETER (71-77) who graduated in Science a year ago is still looking for permanent work.

JAMES McMAUGH (78-83) is studying Science/ Education at U.N.S.W., lives at Turramurra, is a keen surfer.

BOB McMEEKIN (38-41) is on the land at "Kiloran" where he has his two sons to take some of the load off his shoulders. PETER (78-82) is studying wool classing at Wagga Tech a few nights a week. We have yet to track down TIM (78-83). At the Wagga Reunion Bob gave us a few pages of old Riverview snaps which have our archivist scratching his head!

ANDREW McNALLY (74-79) is completing his Arts degree at U.N.S.W. and is doing stage II of S.A.B. Law.

ALAN MEAGHER (38-44) manages the Matraville Hotel. ALAN (73-77) back from his trip overseas is knuckling down again to Medicine. DANNY (73-79) is also at Sydney University, but we don't know what course he is following. JOE (75-81) is doing engineering.

TED MEAGHER (43-49) is a solicitor in the city. Each year he does a fine job for the Indian Bazaar.

TOM (54-61) is a solicitor in practice at Canberra. PAUL (53-58) Deputy Headmaster at St Aloysius knows fully now what it is like to be on the other side of the desk.

DAVID MEAGHER (38-46) is a solicitor in the city, but took off mid-year to try out the golf courses on the other side of the world. TOM (65-71) is a solicitor in Port Macquarie. DAVE (67-73) works in the same firm as his father, is still playing excellent cricket for Sydney University.

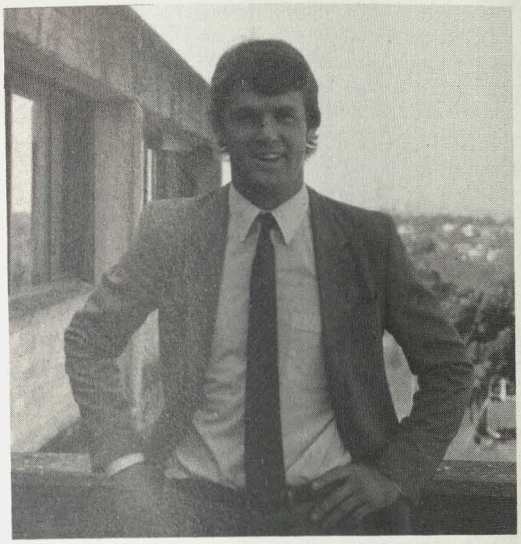

KEVIN MEAGHER (24-31) is enjoying his retirement. He can now go out to Randwick as often as he likes with a good conscience! GERALD (50-56) is still in business in Canada. JIM (58-62) is General Manager of Tetra Industry in Australia. NICK (61-65) is a partner of Sparke, Helmore and Withycombe, solicitors in the city.

DES (34-39) is Credit Manager of Rodney Clark's shops. We offer him our sincere sympathy on the death of his wife in April this year.

MICK MEAGHER (15-22) still lives in Cootamundra, but comes down to visit his grand and great grand children when he gets an opportunity. DR PADDY S.J. (46-52) has received his doctorate in S.S. summa cum laude. We offer him our sincere congratulations. FR GEOFF, S.J. (54-60) is, like his brother Paddy, one of our band of Australian Jesuits at work in India.

BOB MEAGHER (51-58) is with Woolworths as their liquor manager. DOUG (75-81) is doing Economics at Macquarie.

ADRIAN MILLER (63-69) has his own travel agency, Travellers, in Bridge St, was Chairman of the Greg Moran Appeal Fund which raised a sum that far exceeded all expectations, is President of the O.I.U., edits the Newsletter and at the beck and call of hundreds, but is always cheerfully efficient to an infuriating degree.

JOHN MILLER (63-68) has covered himself with glory and is now lecturing in Food Technology. NUMA (69-74) is the Manager of Industrial Engineering at Colgate Palmolive three plants in Sydney.

RICHARD MILLER (61-65) is the percussionist with the Sydney Symphony Orchestra, and does great work for the Right to Life Movement.

BEN MILLS (77-82) is making his way through Economics/Law at Macquarie.

PAUL MINITER (74-79) is in final year Medicine and is spending it at Royal North Shore. In his spare time he sails a little, plays a little golf and listens to whatever music he can lay his hands on. DAVID (76-81) is doing a course in building and carpentry.

JOHN MITCHELL (55-59) and his brother KEVIN (57-61) are on the land at Canbelego near Dubbo. Kevin sent his young son down to Year 7. He must take after his mother, we haven't heard a word from or about him!

ANGUS MONIE (77-82) is helping his father raise fat lambs and stud Hereford cattle on his property "Merlan" at Walcha. He keeps fit by playing football for Walcha 11s. His brother, Bruce, is here in Year 9.

MICHAEL MONTGOMERY (65-68) works on the family property "Ganalgang", Trangie. TIM (67-72) is on "Tarmont" in the same district. ROBERT (70-73) on "Fairview", Nevertire. We congratulate him on his marriage this year and wish him and his bride every blessing. TONY (75-80) is at U.N.S.W. doing Commerce.

Robert Montgomery and his bride.

GREG MOORE (77-79) must just about be at the end of his course in engineering at U.N.S.W. He plays rugby for Easts. EDDIE (77-82) is at the same university doing ECOS!! He too plays for Easts and has, we are told, a very busy social life.

KEVIN MORGAN (37-39) is with the Corporate Affairs Commission, and never has a dull moment on the job. He enjoyed the Annual Dinner.

RON MORGAN (66-71) works with Abco Finance, Newcastle. MICHAEL (69-75) lives at Chatswood and works with G.M.A. We offer the whole family our sincere sympathy on the death of DR NOEL (38-40) early this year.

TIM MORT (56-60) is on the land at "Coola Coola" Keith, S.A., and he rarely gets as far east as Sydney.

DAVID MORT (62-68) manages the family property "Tallawangra", Mudgee. RICHARD (70-76) is an engineer with B.V.R. Greatrex. He is one of the forces with the O.I.U. Football Club. We have lost track of the other boys JAMES (65-67), ADAM (72-74), CHARLES (75-80). ROBERT (77-82) is with a wool firm in Sydney and doing rural studies at Sydney Tech.

LUKE MORWITCH (77-80) is teaching Year 4 at the Marist College, Pearce, A.C.T. and coaching cricket. His Under 10s were 1984 Champions.

JOHN (67-71) is working in the firm with his father. CHRIS (76-82) is doing a cadet management course with Grace Bros. He was of course in full command here at the Gold Cup Regatta and had things running as smoothly as ever.

DR PETER O'BRIEN (42-48) practises at Rose Bay and is a member of the professional board of St Vincent's. His son Mark is here with us in Year 11.

PETER O'BRIEN (50-54) is on the land at Warren, is always with us for the Reunion there, has three sons on our rolls. PAUL (56-60) is on Warraweena and works in partnership with Peter. GREG (56-62) is on "The Maze" at Gulargambone. The welcome they always give is to say the least heartwarming.

JOHN O'BRIEN (56-62) of "Ashburn" Gulargambone came safely back from South Africa. Still no sign of any change in his marital status!

TERRY O'BRIEN (57-62) is now in a wholesale liquor business with David Dalton. DENNIS (58-64) is a partner of Peter Howarth & Associates. He is a member of the O.I.U. Committee and as Head of the Unions Affairs Sub-Committee has all relevant matters under complete control. He has two sons with us, in Years 8 and 6. TIM (63-68) is a partner with W.P. McElhone & Co, solicitors of Macquarie St. RORY (67-73) recently married, lives in Kirribilli and works with Peter Howarth & Associates. PADDY (70-76) is doing an additional degree (Science) at Macquarie in the hope of getting a job at a nearby school. We hope that he succeeds.

MATT O'BRIEN (74-79) lives in Killara, is a contract carrier. PAUL (75-81) is in Year III Commerce/Law at U.N.S.W. and is realising how valuable Latin is. He should come back and talk to the present boys!

DR JOHN O'BRIEN (48-53) is Director Spinal Disorders in the Robert Jones and Agnes Hunt Orthopaedic Hospital at Oswestry, U.K. And is internationally known for the work he has done. DR PETER (51-55) is a plastic surgeon whose expertise and set up amazed even his famous visiting brother. ROBERT (53-56) is in business in Maitland. DR JAMES (55-61) is an orthopaedic surgeon, in practise at Frenchs Forest. He must be a quiet member of the family, since we have not yet run into him, though he is in Year 8. PAUL (69-74) is Mine Host (thought not yet mine!) at the Frisco Hotel at Woolloomooloo. The name and the situations sound attractive. Paul was with us for the Annual Dinner.

DENNIS O'BRIEN (58-64) one of "The Men" of '64, in the man, since he was Captain of the school, was down twice this year for the '64 Dinner and then for the Annual Dinner, has prospered since he left and has now vast spreads in the west, beginning with Cryon Station. MICHAEL (56-61) is on the land at "Kincora", Come-by-Chance. Both he and Dennis are great racehorse men.

CHARLES O'HANLON (58-61) is the Australian Ambassador in Algiers. He left his bi-lingual son Charles with us this year, who rapidly made himself trilingual and has settled very well into life at the Junior School. The Ambassador has been out several times to see him.

TOM O'KEEFFE (39-42) is one of our near neighbours and often comes across to watch his youngest son Patrick perform on our fields. MICHAEL (63-69) is with the Dept of External Affairs, in Canberra now after a stint in Bangkok. PAUL (65-71) is Headmaster of the convent school at Trundle and knows now what it is like to be on the other side of the bench.

CHARLES OLLIFFE (29-34) solicitor in Griffith, doyen of the O.I.U. down there, still has a great interest in the school and the Union. Being a Chinese scholar himself he is doing his best to keep the language thriving here. He spent Bastille Day in Noumea this year while New Caledonia is still a French Dependency.

FR PAUL O-MALLEY-JONES, C.SS.R. (42-45) spent some time last year in Australia, mainly visiting doctors, has made a good recovery and gone back to Singapore which, after so many years, has become his second home. CARL (42-45) is an orchardist and nursery man at Mangrove Mt, where he has his son TONY (78-82) working with him.

RODNEY O'NEIL (53-58) with his brothers COLIN (55-61) and GARRY (61-67) is involved in managing the family business, Hymix concrete and quarrying. Rodney has two sons with us in Years 9 and 7 and several more to come. Colin's first is also knocking on the door. Something to look forward to, though I am glad I no longer patrol in the Ref!

PETER O'ROUKE (52-56) owns the "Riverview" hotel in Murwillumbah. We have not tracked down his son PETER who left us at the end of last year.

ROBIN OSBORNE (53-57) is a solicitor, lives in Beecroft, was with us for the Annual Dinner this year and brought down his young hopeful for the Entrance Exam in 11 Term this year.

BRIAN POIRRIER (43-53) and MIKE (51-56) are accountants in York St. Mike is a member of the O.I.U. Committee and does his best to look after its finances. He has a young son with us in the Junior School.

PAUL SCULLY POWER (61) made history this year as the first Australian astronaut. He lives in New York, is an oceanographer with the U.S. Navy. When he was told of his intended trip he rang his parents in Canberra and told them to be sure to let "Riverview know". We wish him happy landings.

DEREK PRICE (61-67) is a barrister in practice at Dubbo. CHRIS (59-64) is in advertising in the city.

BILL PRIOR (33-40) lives at Church Point and is now doing so he says what he should have been doing years ago — important things like sculpting and painting, with a preference for the former. He continues though at Prior Press to assemble books for their production. Two of his latest are "Keep the Billy Boiling" (a history of Warren) and the "History of Carinda".

PHIL PRIOR (33-40) is still king pin at King & Prior, but spends a lot of his time on his property near Pyramul, has a palatial home, which some of his friends say will end up as the Officers' mess when the Army takes over up there. KEN (68-74) is with King & Prior. MICHAEL (62-68) is on the Board of Edwards Dunlop, lives at Longueville and has two sons on our rolls.

ANGELO QUAGLIA (50-53) works with Cantarella Bros. He does a fine job for the Union as a chef each Back to Riverview Day.

JOHN QUIGLEY (34-35) hale and hearty is still kept very busy on his property "Woodbine", Trangie. MICHAEL (65-69) is with his father on the property and does his share of the hard work. STEPHEN (71-74) has his own property "Twenty Stone" at Warren. JOHN (63-67) also has a property at Warren and he is one of the cotton growing experts in the district.

PETER QUINN (56-60) is a medical practitioner and lives in Paddington.

DR BILL QUINN (30-35) has retired from his practice and fills in his time at Crescent Head with a little golfing, fishing or swimming as the fancy takes him. BILL (61-67) has gone off to Durban, South Africa for three years as Marketing Manager for Playtex.

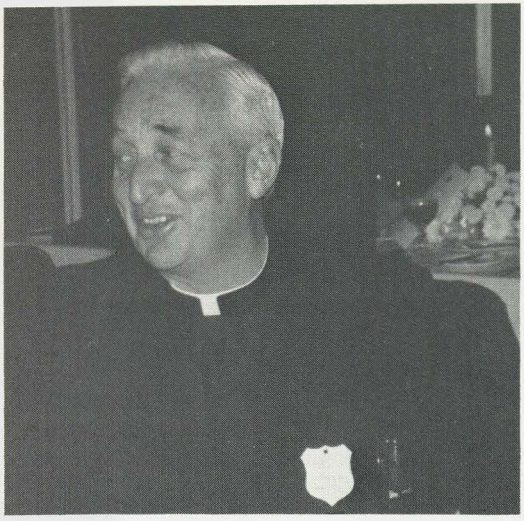

JOHN QUINN (50-56) is a partner with Downie & Quinn solicitors in Pitt St, is a keen Liberal man.

DR BILL QUILTY (42-47) writes that with six children and a busy practice in Shepparton he does not get much time for O.I.U. doings. Quite understandable, but it was good to hear from him.

FRANK QUIRK (58-63) has exchanged dental practices and is now living and working in Hong Kong.

WALLY RAE (48-52) is on the land at "Raeburn" Narromine, where he has JAMES (79-81) to help him. Matt is here at school in Year 12.

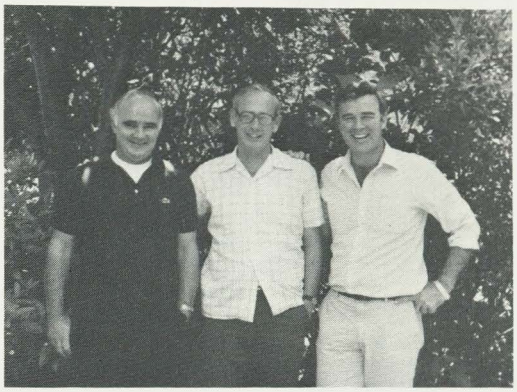

FR JOHN RAMSAY, S.J. (44-50) went down to Xavier at the beginning of the year, has been back several times and reports that he is enjoying the change. He seems to have a full load down there as he had with us. PETER (45-51) manages the family firm, has business interests in Double Bay, lectures at U.N.S.W. in Engineering, was with us for the Annual Dinner. PAUL (49-53) is still very busy with his real estate holdings. He too was with us for the Dinner.

FATHER MARK RAPER, S.J. (55-60) has an appointment from Fr General: Coordinator of the Jesuit Refugee Society in the Asia/Pacific region. As a result he spends a good deal of his time in Thailand, Laos and the nearby countries.

Fr Mark Raper, S.J., Fr Tony Herbert, S.J., and Fr Lex Johnson, Dean of St Mary's Cathedral enjoy a day out.

BILL REYNOLDS (62-65) is a grazier and wheat grower on "Pembroke Station", Merriwa. He keeps in close touch with the school, writes that he has "six daughters. No starter for Riverview YET!"

Justin Rickard, Arts graduate spoke on University life on Careers' Day.

JUSTIN RICKARD (75-80) has graduated in Arts from Sydney University and is now in Arts/Law year IV. He was kind enough to come to the Careers Day and talk to Years 11 and 12 about University life. He plays tennis and skis, but to keep fit does a morning jog from Frenchs Forest to Manly. He doesn't say how he gets home. In our case it would be by ambulance. MATT (77-83), our pride and joy last year, is now doing Med at Sydney, playing for University colts and enjoying life to the full.

CHRIS ROACH (77-83) who left us at the end of last year lives in Pearce A.C.T. and is at A.N.U.

JOHN ROBINSON (45-50) has his pharmacy at Hunters Hill and is enjoying it greatly. He lives at Longueville, often comes across the bay, and is very active on Andy Meagher's wheel at the Indian Bazaar. PETER (75-80) is in Commerce/Law at UNSW. JUSTIN (76-82) is also there confining himself for the time being to Commerce pure and simple. There are two other boys with us in Years 11 and 10.

BRIAN ROBINSON (46-49) lives in Vaucluse, manages the Hotel Woollahra, has four daughters, three of them still at Rose Bay, is always with us and always good fun at the Annual Dinner.

DR JOHN ROCHE (40-44) of Moss Vale devotes most of his time working for those who suffer from Down's Syndrome. He went last year to Germany and Paris to do special studies and met the professor who discovered the Down's Chromosome. We admire him greatly for his work. DR VIN (68-74) is doing post graduate work in Vancouver's Children's Hospital and then intends to go to do obstetrics in Beckenham Hospital, Kent, U.K. MICHAEL (73-78) is in London, driving an old London Double Decker for Top Deck Tours around Europe. PADDY (74-79) is doing a Survey Draughtsman's course at Sydney Tech. NICK (76-81) is in Commerce II at U.N.S.W.

DR JIM ROCHE (45-49) is still working at Mona Vale Hospital and the Royal Hospital for Women in Obstetrics and gynaecology. He was honoured in England this year with a F.R.C.O.G. He lives in Bayview and has a son in Year 12.

TOM ROCHE (43-47) is Manager of the Tamworth Branch of the MLC, is a keen Rotarian, has a young son who must soon be due for the Junior School — one of our 4th generation boys.

TERRY ROCHE (51-56) is on the land at "Moorallie" at Adelong. He has a young son in Year 8 whom he has been down to see several times through the year. BEDE (52-57) is also on the land in the same district.

JAMES RODGERS (66-71) is 2nd Division Prefect, has his full load of classes, coaches, referees, does a fine job helping the editor of OAM, remains cheerful and courteous through it all, and still finds time to act as the Hon Secretary of Sydney University Cricket Club and captain of their 3rd Grade Team. GERARD (69-75) is a dental technician working in Park St. He has made a good recovery from his illness and apart from a rather becoming graying of his hair is as fit as ever. PAT (75-81) is at Sydney University doing Arts and a Dip Ed. He does a fine job each year refereeing our football teams, often two, sometimes three a Saturday. We have heard only this year of his expertise in the terpsichorean art. It must be due to his classical education!

DR CHRIS ROGERS (59-63) is an ophthalmic surgeon at R.N.S.H. He has rooms in Macquarie St in partnership with his father. He has seven children, brought his eldest boy up this year for the entrance exam. DR JIM (68-73) is doing locum work in the U.K.

ANTHONY ROGGE (61-63) is an Accounts Manager with Dupont, and such an expert that they have spirited him away to the U.S.A. for special work. CARL (64-68) has his own business in wholesale motor vehicle dealing. He lives at Cheltenham, has two children, his young son headed our way.

BERNIE RORKE (76-80) is at the Wagga C.A.E. doing studies in Ag. Science, and of course making himself felt on the cricket and football fields. HAYDEN (76-80) is a sales executive with the paper merchants Dalton Industries. SIMON (76-82) is at Macquarie doing Economics.

BRUCE ROSE (46-50) is now General Manager with Locums Ltd. ROBERT (72-76) is now managing a property at Rylestone. He was with us for the Annual Dinner. So far this year he has managed, we think, to keep back and both arms and legs intact! MICAEL (73-79) is in Year V, nearing the end of his Arts/Law studies at U.N.S.W. PAUL (75-81) is doing a Business Management course at Kuring-Gai C.A.E. He is always on hand in II Term for refereeing our football games.

DENIS ROWE (51-58) is on the staff of the Junior School, enjoyed great success in coaching at our sheds this year and even more success with his football teams. He has a young son with us in Year 8.

DAVID (61-66) has left Cowra and now has a business of his own on, we think, the Central Coast.

RICHARD ROWE (55-59) manages a Mitre 10 store in Glen Innes. He has a son with us in Year 8.

PETER ROWLEY (59-65) is Director of Marketing Staff with IBM, lives at Beecroft, has a son in Year 7, was with us for the Annual Dinner.

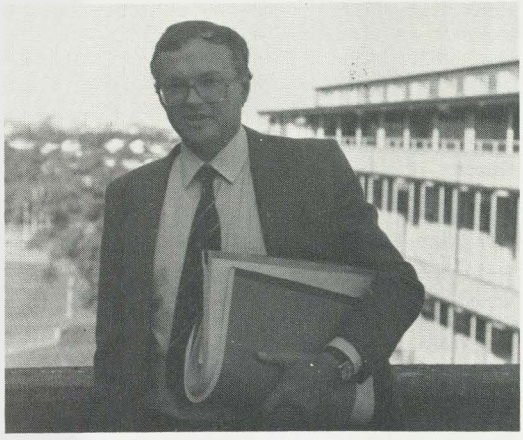

PHIL RUSCONI (44-45) is an importer of ceramics, lives at Northwood, has two sons with us in Years 9 and 7. PHIL (73-75) has ended his course at Orange Agricultural College and is waiting eagerly to get to work on the land. MARK (74-80) is a musician of some note.

DR BRIAN RUSH (41-45) is in charge of the Dept of Haematology at St Vincent's Hospital, Melbourne. He is always with us for the Reunion Dinner down there.

BARRY RUSH (48-52) is a foundation member of the Australian-American Chamber of Commerce, lives in Los Angeles, is interested in forming an O.I.U. Reunion group in the U.S.A. for Old Boys.

PETER RUSH (76-77) graduated in Arts/Law from U.N.S.W. and is now working as a Research Assistant at the Library there. JOHN (76-79) has finished Commerce and gone off overseas to recover.

BILL RUSSELL (57-55) is N.S.W. Manager of Coles, he has two sons with us in Years 7 and 9, he is Senior Vice-President of the Union and as Chairman of the Sub-Committee for Future Planning he is full of sound ideas that we hope will all be realised. JOHN (57-59) is Assistant Chief Engineer with the N.S.W. Dept of Public Works. His great interest is cross country skiing and to keep fit for it he jogs and plays squash. He has a son Matthew in year 12. WILLIAM (76-81) is at Sydney University in Engineering II. DAVID (58-62) is Associate Director with Camp, Scott & Furphy, consulting engineers at Chatswood. He was kind enough to come to talk to the boys on Careers Day.

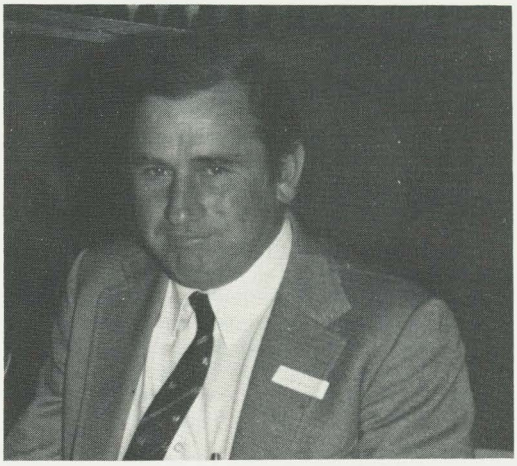

David Russell, Engineer, on his way to speak to Years 11 and 12.

GREG RUSSELL (76-81) is at Sydney University, a resident at St Johns.

BILL RUSSELL (67-73) late of "Swan Hill" Blackhall in Queensland is now a pilot with Qantas and living in Drummoyne. We presume that RALPH (70-73) is carrying on the family property in the far north.

DR BILL RYAN (46-48) is still keeping the Nowra community fit and healthy. If they were as fit as Bill they'd be dangerous. He paid us a very happy visit on the day we played St Joseph's football and got the VIP treatment he so well deserves. FRANK (66-72) is still mining in Grafton with the River Gold Co. We congratulate him on his marriage this year and wish him and his bride every blessing. MARK (75-80) has completed Med III at Sydney University, has taken a year off to go up to Grafton to keep an eye on Frank. By the time the Alma goes to print he will be in Europe brushing up his French and German, and flexing himself for Med IV in '85.

LLOYD RYAN (53-56) is on the land at "Glandore" Wagga, has a son with us in Year 9, did a fine job as organiser of the Wagga Reunion this year and is to be congratulated on the success of the function. He did, of course, have an excellent secretary to help him! Now he has his hand in we look forward to even bigger and better things for the future.

Lloyd Ryan, Chairman of The Wagga Reunion.

DR MICHAEL RYAN (60-63) is senior lecturer in orthopaedic and traumatic surgery at Sydney University and does a lot of his work at R.N.S.H. He is always threatening to visit. We wish he would fulfil the threat.

JOHN (J.P.) RYAN (44-48) goes from strength to strength, seems more full of life every time we see him. It must be his racehorses which also go from success to success. He has his dry cleaning businesses in Wagga and Canberra. His eldest son, REV DAVID, S.J. (65-70) is doing his regency, teaching, coaching the rowers and the rugby teams. TONY (71-77) when last we heard of him was Associate to Mr Justice Cripps. MICHAEL (68-73) is a dentist in Wagga and as Area Vice-President did a fine job for the Union in organising the dinner down there. DAMIAN (74-79) is with 2WG and represents the Riverina in Rugby.

FR PETER RYAN, C.SS.R. (50-52) is one of a good number of our Old Boys who are missionaries overseas. He is now working in Malaysia, at Ipoh.

JOHN RYAN (70-75) is Sales Manager Scheling, surgical suppliers. PETER ("FAT CAT") (67-72) is a solicitor with Alan, Brown & Co. He is still pretty nippy behind the scrum and plays an excellent game for the O.I.U. Team. ROB (76-81) has his own contract cleaning business, plays as one of the centres for the O.I.U. and it is no wonder that the team has done so well.

Michael Ryan, Area-President for A.C.T.

DAMIAN RYAN (74-79) is doing accountancy at the Institute of Technology. He has a brother with us in Year 8.

GREG SAN MIGUEL (71-75) is working with Moore & Bevins in the city. He lives in Potts Point. PAUL (72-78) is an accountant with Marvin Judd & Co in the city. His interests include sailing, windsurfing and making up songs about previous masters. We offer the boys and the whole family our sincere sympathy on the death of Leon earlier in the year.

DR GARRY SCARF (47-49) is a consultant surgeon at Chatswood and has a young son with us in Year 8. NICK (78-81) is back home from Europe, was with us for the ?? but we have not yet found out what he is doing. DR CHRIS (60-62) also lives in Chatswood and is Director of the Western Metropolitan Region for the Department of Health.

PHIL SCARF (72-77) works with his father in the well-known clothing firm and is a staunch supporter of the O.I.U. football club.

JOHN SCHELL (36-45) is a Director of C.E. Mayo, has his youngest son in Year 11, is one of the leading lights at St Joseph's Edgecliff. PETER (70-75) is a barrister in the city, lives at Mosman, has just become the proud father of a son whom he lost no time in putting on our rolls. SIMON (65-71) is Marketing Manager for C.E. Mayo, beat his brother in having a son booked into Riverview!

MICK SCHILLER (56-61) is on the land at "The Pinnacles" Wagga, is happily married, was with us, as usual, for the Reunion.

LOU SCHNEIDER (41-44) is on the land at "Ashantee" Walgett, has two sons with us in Years 12 and 11, is always with us for the Reunion out west.

BRENDAN SCORER (67-72) is a stockbroker on the Newcastle Exchange, lives at Bar Beach, plays squash and boxes to keep fit, never misses the Reunion in Newcastle.

STEVE SCROOPE (68-73) is a stock and station agent with Archer & Sons in Tumut. MARTIN (70-75) is on the staff at school, has a full teaching load, coaches Basketball and football, is Division Prefect for 3rd Division and has two young children to keep him busy. MATT (72-76) lives in Neutral Bay and is studying computers at North Sydney Tech. JOHN SHEAHAN (29-33) lives at Stanthorpe, Queensland, rarely gets down here, but does come to the Brisbane Reunion.

BROTHER GERARD SHANLEY, M.S.C. (69-74) is at the nerve centre of his order at Douglas Park, often calls in here to compare notes.

JOHN SHAW (27-32) has retired, lives quietly in Roseville, knows more about the Jesuits than most of us and often calls down for a talk.

MICHAEL SHELTON (57-62) is on the land at "Pooloomoodool" out near Mungindi. He has a young son with us in Year 8, still plays cricket as often as he gets the chance, is always with us for the Moree Reunion. RO (59-64) has moved back to the land and now has a property at Manilla. The cricket in the district should show a marked improvement.

MICHAEL SHEPHERD (62-68) is a partner in the stock broking firm of Brides Son & Shepherd, lives at Ingleside, was with us for the Annual Dinner and does his share for the O.I.U. concerns at the Indian Bazaar.

DANNY SHEPHERD (75-81) is at Sydney University doing Economics, plays football for Norths.

FR PAUL SHERIDAN ("TEX") S.J. (59-62) is Director of the Jesuit Programme for Living and Learning in the New York Province. He did his Tertianship out here last year and seemed to enjoy being here as much as we enjoyed having him.

PAUL SHERIDAN (51-56) practises as a solicitor at South West Rocks, up north near Kempsey, and is also involved in residential development. He has two sons with us in Years 12 and 10, so that we have often seen him down here, through the years. He is a keen supporter of the O.I.U. Reunions. His eldest son PAT (77-79) is at Hawkesbury C.A.E. doing a course in Land Studies.

MARK SHERIDAN (76-81) lives in Lane Cove, is a medical student in Med III at Sydney University.

NICK SHERWOOD (74-77) is at the Smithkline Research Farm at Camden, where he is in charge, but travels all round Australia setting up field trials for Smithkline Animal Health. RORY (75-79) is on the family property at Bingara. BILL (77-81) is at Hawkesbury C.A.E. studying Valuation.

DON SHIELL (75-80) is in business with his father, is one of the very successful coaches at the boat sheds, spent some time at Merrygoen this year. We believe that his interest was not solely in the countryside! JOHN (76-80) is working with computers for ACTA shipping, plays with Northern Suburbs colts.

TONY SHIRVINGTON (63-69) lives at Waverton, is a solicitor with the Federal Attorney General's Dept.

MICHAEL SIDDLE (61-66) lives at Darling Point, is Managing Director of Paul Ramsay's business. We congratulate him on his wedding in the chapel this year and wish him and his bride every blessing.

JOCK SKUTHORP (27-29) is still active on the land at "Moora" Coonamble but he has his son PHIL (63-68) to help him, so that Jack can get down here to see how his two Schneider grandsons are getting on. GREG (59-64) is on the land at "Tudor Park" way out at Goodooga. He has a son with us in Year 7.

MARK SINCLAIR (69-74) is a dentist in practice at Bathurst, he was with us for the Annual Dinner. PAUL (70-75) is a chemist at Ingleburn, his wife teaches at the school, and Paul comes up occasionally to staff functions.

Michael Slattery spoke on Law at the Careers' Day.

MICHAEL SLATTERY (65-71) is a barrister in the city. Busy as he is he was kind enough to make time to come and talk to our boys on Careers Days.

JOHN SLOANE (46-49) is on the land at "Kywong" Cunnamulla. His son MAURICE (74-79) is next door on "Gilnocchi", is married and the proud father of a baby daughter. TOM (52-55) is a chemist in Orange and does his bit to organise our Reunion up there. We are told — and our faith is great — that he swims a kilometre each morning. He'll be tackling the English Channel if he's not careful! He has a son with us in Year 10, as cheerful as Tom himself is. DR DAVID (46-50) lives at Lane Cove, practises at Marrickville. His son ROBERT (77-82) is in Ag. Science II at Sydney University.

DOM SLOCUM (28-34) has retired from the postal Dept and spends most of his leisure travelling. KEVIN (32-39) is still a driving force in his accountancy firm Bryan Rush and Co, but claims that work is interfering with his golf and other leisure pursuits. He does a fine job organising the O.I.U. Golf Days. ANTHONY (65-68) with all his qualifications is now Technical Manager of Channel 9. TIM (65-70) is pursuing his career as a librarian at Ku-Ring-Gai C.A.E. DAVID (68-73) is studying Oriental languages and lectures in the martial arts. MARK (76-81) is reading Arts at U.N.S.W. and is a student at the Sydney Acting School.

JOHN SMALL (60-65) has a business in Griffith which keeps him on the move seven days a week. He is married, has a young son on our rolls, and always does his bit for the O.I.U. Reunion in Griffith.

JOHN SPORA (47-53) is on the land at "Corniglia" Gulargambone, and has just built himself a new home on the property. He has a son with us in Year 11. What we'll do when he leaves does not bear contemplation. PHIL (47-53) is also on the land in the same district on "Windurong". Both are always with us for the Western Reunion.

RAY STACK (55-60) is the senior partner of E.R. Stack & Sons, solicitors at Taree. He has two sons with us in Years 10 and 9, whom he often comes down to see. MAURICE (60-65) is also in the firm, has a young son on our rolls and plays a very active part in the civic life of the town. TIM (63-68) specialises in business and commercial leasing for the firm, has five children to keep him busy out of office hours.

FR BERT STANLEY (28-22) is Parish Priest of Holbrook and last year celebrated his forty years of ministry for the Lord.

JIM STENMARK (36-42) is still in practice in Wagga, still plays excellent golf, but his great interest now is in the Serra Movement of which he has just been appointed District Governor of a very wide area. We hope to have him come and talk to our boys about the movement. JAMES (65-67) is a Funeral Director with Allan Walsh of Chatswood, lives near by in Eastwood and often calls in to see the school. BRIAN (66-71) is an accountant with Frank Australia and has been transferred from Wagga to Melbourne. DAMIEN (68-74) is an advertising executive with HSV-7 at North Sydney. We congratulate him on his marriage in the chapel in August this year and wish him and his bride every blessing. MICHAEL (71-75) is an accountant with the Local Government in Wagga. We congratulate him, also, on his wedding in December last year and wish him the same blessing.

NIGEL STIFFE (67-74) is a bottle shop owner, lives at Kirribilli, near his business. We have not heard for some time from his brother ROSS (64-70).

BILL STEPHENS (54-58) is on the land at "Whinestone Valley", Jerangle down in the cold country near Cooma. He has a champion son with us in Year 11.

JOHN STEVENS (53-58) is a chemist in Campbelltown, lives at Kentlyn, has a young son with us in Year 10 and another heading our way in a few years time.

CLEM STRAIN (42-49) is a solicitor in Terrigal. PETER (80-81) is a Johnsman, doing Law III at Sydney University. Study takes up most of his time so that his surfing suffers a little.

RICHARD STUKLIS (78-83) is in Med I at U.N.S.W., is involved each year with the Indo-Chinese camp at the school.

JIM SULLIVAN (14-17) now lives at Nazareth House, Turramurra and we are told is practically running the place. He loves talking cricket and "Old Boys" yarns and still goes fishing occasionally. JIM II (39-41) is senior partner with Moffatt & Sullivan at Blacktown. He lives at Hornsby and every chance he gets slips away to his property "Badjaree" Cooma to give the trout a lesson or two. JIM III (62-68) runs the property at Cooma, works as a woolclasser and still does a bit of athletic coaching. PAUL (69-74) has graduated in Commerce and has begun his MBA studies. He is active in the Palm Beach Life Saving Club and is a member of the boat crew.

MICHAEL SULLIVAN (57-62) is a chartered accountant, in practice at Wollongong, lives at Mt Pleasant, was with us for the Annual Dinner and has a son due to come to us very soon.

PHIL SYDENHAM (53-57) is the Petroleum distributor for Esso on the Central Coast.

PAT SYKES (71-76) is on the land at "Pine Park" Humula. He practised as a chartered accountant with John Murray & Co in the city, but the call of the country was too strong and he is now a station hand on the family property. MURRAY (74-79) is in his final year of veterinary science at Sydney University and is looking forward to losing his status as a student. STEVE (76-79) after four years at home as gone off to Thargomindah, SW Queensland to work for a shearing contractor. LAWRENCE (78-83) is spending a year at home before beginning his tertiary studies.

ANTHONY TAIT (67-72) is still in Melbourne with Sperry New Holland. He has three sons. All his spare time is taken up with post-graduate Managerial studies which he is doing part time at Latrobe University. DR PAUL (66-71) specialises in Pediatrics and is at Camperdown Children's Hospital. TIM (69-74) is a civil engineer working at Bristol in the U.K. MICHAEL (72-77) has just graduated in Chemical Engineering. CHRIS (73-79) is at U.N.S.W. doing civil engineering and is just about at the end of his course. JOE (78-83) who left us at the end of last year has been back several times to umpire our cricket matches.

BRETT TANCRED (57-63) has his Real Estate Agency at Crows Nest, lives at Mosman, has two sons with us in Years 8 and 7. JOHN (58-65) is a solicitor in practice in Orange. He sent the first of his sons down to the Junior School this year.

DR MICHAEL TARLINTON (45-59) is in general practice at Belrose. MICHAEL (71-76) is with Du Pont in Brisbane. DAVID (72-77) graduated with Hons I from Sydney University in Science and is now working at the Blood Bank.

EDGAR TEMPLE (53-58) is a chartered accountant and audit partner with Priestley & Morris, lives at Roseville. He has a young son with us in Year 8 and three other boys to come.

NEVILLE TEMPLE (62-67) lives at Wahroonga, has a young son in Year 7.

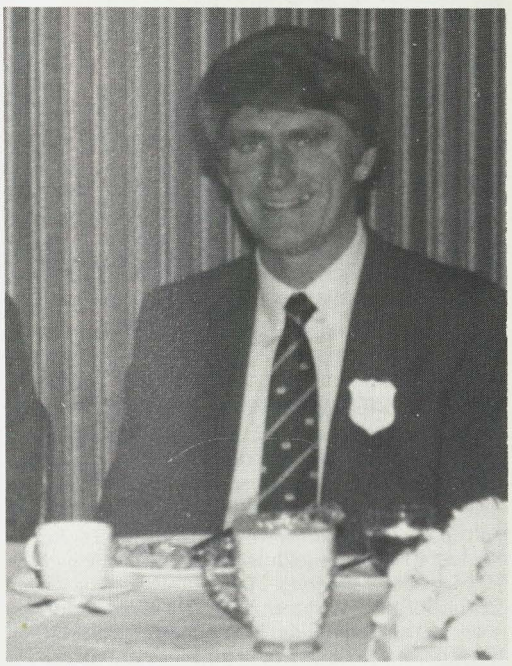

SIMON TERRELL (66-72) is Manager of Miller Business Forms. He lives at Wahroonga.

ROY TWEEDY (27-28) is on the land at North Star up in the north. He is always with us for the Moree Reunion. His two sons RICHARD (73-79) and ROBERT (68-72) have their own properties in the same district. Both boys are interested still in football, Robert as a coach, Richard as a player. He was lock for the Goondiwindi Firsts which won the Darling Downs Competition.

NED THEODORE (27-35) is a Life Vice-President of the O.I.U. and a great promoter of the Country Reunions at which he is always present wherever they are held. He has a fishing lodge down at Yaouk on the upper reaches of the Murrumbidgee, which is a veritable haven when "you want to get away from it all". EDWARD (59-64) is on the music staff of the school teaching piano and organ to our budding musicians and few are better qualified to do so than he.

RICK THOMAS (50-54) is a dentist at Eastwood, gets his relaxation on the harbour or the snowfields of Perisher. ROSS (75-81) is doing a double major in Applied Maths and Computer Science at U.N.S.W. Son No. 2 is in Year 10.

JOHN THORPE (52-59) manages the Harbord Beach Hotel and is the patron of the Valley United Junior Rugby League Club.

Barry Thornton presiding at the Melbourne Dinner.

BARRY THORNTON (47-52) is with the computer division of Fleur International. He was Chairman of the very successful O.I.U. held at Xavier this year. BRIAN (48-54) is a partner in the legal firm of Freehill, Hollingdale & Page in the city. He has a son with us in Year 10.

PAUL TRAINOR (38-41) is Chairman and Chief Executive of Nucleus Ltd. He is a member of the Ascter Committee, advisers to the Federal Government. It is as good as a tonic to meet him, as fresh and chirpy still as he was in 3rd Division, so many years ago now. DOM (69-72) is married, has moved to Byron Bay where he has opened a restaurant "Brasserie". BEN (69-75) has his MBA degree and is now farming a property at Myall Lakes where he has plenty of chances to water ski. MATTHEW (73-76) is in his final years Arts at Meadowbank Tech. He is an ardent guitar player and likes to surf and water ski.

DR TERRY VANDELEUR (55-59) lives near Gosford where he is an ENT specialist and has two sons Tom in Year 10 and James in Year 9, who are making their distinguished way through the school.

DAVID (PADDY) VAUGHAN (57-58) is a Senior Valuer with the V.G. Dept in the City of Sydney section. He specialises in licensed hotel and wharf valuations. In his spare time he is an active Senior Sydney Rugby Referee.

PAT (GINTY) VEECH (20-26) still flourishes at "Quilbone" Quambone, despite droughts, floods and plagues of mice. He has a remarkable knowledge and most vivid recollections of his time at Riverview. In fact he should write a book about it for posterity. We were pleased to welcome his grandson to the Junior School this year.

BRYAN VEECH (40-47) lives in Wellington and runs his property just outside the town. PETER (76-82) is with his father on the property.

JOHN VERCO (56-61) is a Divisional Executive with Edwards Dunlop. He lives at West Pennant Hills and brought his young son down to the school this year for the entrance exam. ANTHONY (70-76) has graduated with Hons in Commerce from the U.N.S.W. and is now doing further study on a Commonwealth Scholarship.

PETER WALKER (53-56) lives in the lovely old family home in Yass and works on the property Ledgeworth just outside the town. RICHARD (54-58) also has a nearby property. TERRY (56-60) a merchant banker has just been posted to London and took his whole family away for three or four years. MICHAEL (59-64) after practising law for some time in the city has gone back to Yass to work on the land.

TONY WALL (49) is on the land at "Koreen", Gurley, near Moree, where he has his son RAY (78-83) one of last year's prefects to help him. He still has one son, Hamish, in Year 10.

FR MARTIN WALLACE, O.P. (67-72) is reading for his degree in Theology at St Dominic's Priory Camberwell, Vic. CHRIS (69-75) is with the Police Force, specialising in Scientific Investigation. He is stationed at Tamworth. We congratulate him on his wedding this year and wish him and his bride every blessing. Fr Martin was up to perform the ceremony.

CHRIS WALSH (71-76) one of the organisers of our last reunion in Griffith is with Esso down there and seems to have the whole of the Riverina as his domain.

VIN WALSH (43) is a Master Builder, lives at Vaucluse, has one son with us in Year 11. His sons MICHAEL (77-80) and MARK (77-82) are expert sailers of 12 footers and have won just about every state and interdominion title that it is possible to win.

BRIAN (B.P.) WALSH (61-65) is a lecturer at Tocal Agricultural College near Maitland. He lives at Largs.

THOS WARD (49-54) is the Senior partner with Murphy and Maloney in the city. He has a son, John, a tower of strength in the Eight and 1st XV for two years, whom we shall miss when he goes at the end of this year. PAUL (58-64) is with Colliers Real Estate in Sydney, lives in Mosman, has two boys on our rolls, organised a most successful dinner of the '64 leavers, was with us for the Annual Dinner.

PETER LUSCOMBE WARD (54-60) is a management consultant, lives in Killara, has two sons with us in Years 9 and 7.

TONY WARD (60-65) is on the land at "Tullamore", Flemington, has five children including Robert who is here in Year 8. GEOFF (58-62) has a business in Narromine.

DR JOHN WARD (47-52) is a very busy general practitioner at Cootamundra. He has to be since he has three sons here with us. DAVID (75-80) is a contractor with Elanco, shares his father's interest in racing and in his spare time trains trotters. PETER (78-83) left us at the end of last year and we have not yet caught up with him.

TIM WARDLE (65-69) is a chartered accountant in Newcastle, has a young son in Year 7, and is Area Vice-President for the Reunion up there.

DAVID WARMOLL (61-66) is on the land at Willow Tree raising cattle and enjoying life. He called in for the Kings Match, looked very fit and was full of enthusiasm for Riverview. His brother PHIL (67-72) is also on the land at Breeza. It's some time since we've seen him.

ROBERT WATSON (68-73) is a dentist practising at Balgowlah. He was good enough to come to the Robert Watson here on Careers' Day.

Years 11 and 12 Careers Day and talk to the boys on his profession.

BRAD WEEKS (68-73) and his brother STEVE (70-75) are engineers at work with their father in Newcastle. They and the whole family are the most hospitable hosts and hostess to the Old Boys Reunion and entertain us lavishly at their home at Valentine each year.

SIMON WELLS (66-72) is a freelance architect, lives at Asquith, is a well known rugby referee. TIM (66-70) is a chartered accountant, works with Mike Poirrier and his firm.

BRENDAN WELSH (76-80) is doing Science/Law at U.N.S.W. JOHN (77-81) is also there doing Science/Anatomy. PAUL (77-82) is a trainee manager with the K-Mart organisation.

GERARD WESTHOFF (70-73) is a Real Estate Agent at Neutral Bay. DAMIAN (73-78) has just finished his MBA cource at Kuring-gai C.A.E. Nick is still here in Year 11.

PETER WESTON (49-55) is on the land at "Yalgo" Nymagee, he has two sons with us, Paul in Year 12, a tower of strength in our 1st XV and a combined G.P.S. Rep. and Denis in Year 7, already tending the same way in the Junior School.

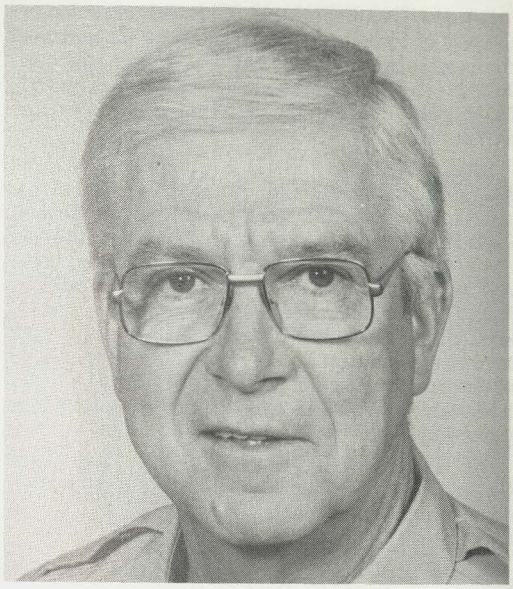

PETER WHEALY (50-54) is a chemist in Gosford, still keen on football and athletics. TONY (55-59) is a barrister in Sydney, specialising in liquor licensing. He has two sons on our rolls and does great work each year at the Indian Bazaar.

JOHN WHITE (24-28) has retired, lives at Killara, keeps himself interested in the wonderful stamp collection that he has. PETER (54-59) is an accountant with the National Heart Foundation. He lives in Canberra, has two sons at the school and often came down this year to see the elder, John, playing for the 1st XV. Matt is in Year 9.

FR GEORGE WILKINS (43-47) has just been appointed full time Chaplain at Mitchell CAE in Bathurst.

BOB WILKINSON (52-56) lives at Killara, runs the Callan Park Hotel at Rozelle and has a good clientele in the members of the O.I.U. Football Club. He also operates a garden maintenance business in the North Shore, and still does his bit at our rowing sheds.

BRUCE WILLIAMS (41-44) is on the land at "Carrl", Moree and is always well to the fore when we have a Reunion up there.

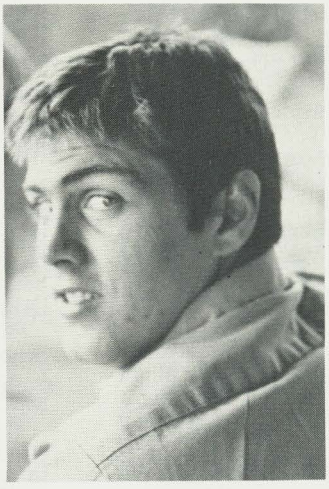

FR DAVID WILLIS, O.P. is Master of Students and Chaplain in Siena College, Camberwell, Victoria. He is due to go overseas and do further studies at the Graduate Theological Union, Berkley, U.S.A.

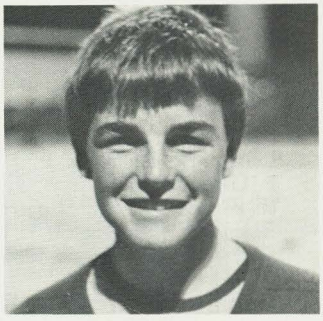

JOHN WOOD (56-59) is an architect, lives in Birchgrove.

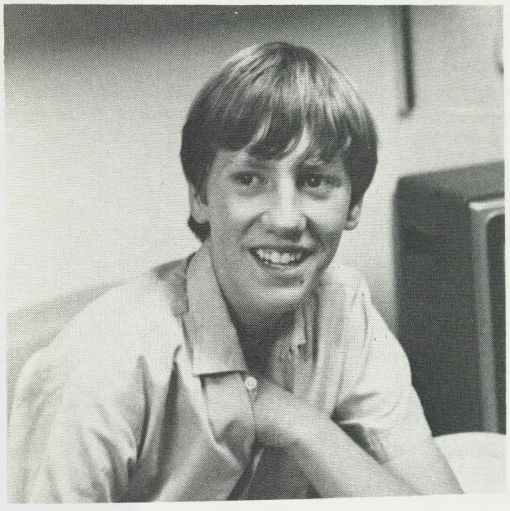

FR BRIAN YATES (42-47) is Spiritual Director at St Patrick's College Manly. DR NOEL (42-48) is a dentist, lives in St Ives, is a member of the O.I.U. Committee and does his full share of the work for the religious sub-committee and for the Indian Bazaar. MICHAEL (75-81) is a Johnsman doing Vet. Science at Sydney University and carrying all before as he goes through the course.

Honorary Secretary's Report

Outgoing 1983 President Mrs Betty Coulthurst at the Annual General Meeting expressed gratitude to her Committee members for their unstinted efforts throughout the year and welcomed Mrs Beryl Cubis, stating that she would be a most gracious President in 1984.

On assuming office Mrs Cubis stated that she looked forward to working with the Committee and congratulated Mrs Coulthurst on a socially and financially successful year.

Father G. O'Kelly, in his address, said that he had observed a deepening of the sense of community feeling. The new house system, introduced in 1983, was already working well and small groups of Year 11 students spent two days away in reflection discussion and prayer. He closed by thanking the out-going Committee for all its continuing assistance at a time when State Aid funding of schools was to be frozen.

Our Prefect of Studies, Mr John Bowie, spoke on State Aid, and stressed the urgency of the need for concerned parents to indicate the Government when policies are unacceptable to those who value the parent's rights to freedom of choice of schools for their children. He also briefly discussed the role of P. & F. Government Funding Action Group.

In a circular letter to P. & F. Association members early in 1984, Mrs Cubis advised them that her policy for the year would be "getting to know your school and the people and talent within it", and arranging frequent inexpensive functions in order that no parent would be excluded from P. & F. activities because of cost.

This policy was to continue throughout the year with great success.

Our first activity of the year following Mass in the School Chapel, was a Cocktail party in the College Rose Garden, to welcome new parents and college staff. Due to an unexpected downpour this Cocktail Party was held in the cloistered area of the quadrangle.

On 2nd February, a "Welcome to New Mothers" was held in the Parlour. This was a happy occasion, and seen as a first step towards involvement in the Riverview Family.

Our first fund raising function was "A Cultural Experience" at the Mint and Hyde Park Barracks. This interesting and pleasant evening was inspired by Christina Kennedy. An inspection of the Barracks and the Mint was followed by bountiful supplies of Colonial-style food and selected wines served by Year 12 mothers and Committee members to the accompaniment of very pleasant background music produced by a "Twilight Ensemble" of Riverview Students.

A "Picnic Tea in the Rose Garden" on 2nd March was arranged specifically to raise money towards the purchase of a school bus to avoid the excessive cost of private bus hire. On this occasion music was provided by the College Concert Band, under the baton of Miss Burkett of Mr Murray Holmes' Music Department.

Parents of children in both Senior and Junior Schools brought their children — both large and small — and made this a most relaxed family gathering. Ro and Ted Dermody arranged wine tasting and sales.

The next function on 15th March was a Tennis Day, arranged by Mee-Na Cheok, Anne Smith, and Judy Donohoe, in conjunction with a parade of tennis fashions.

Our college celebrated its 100th Gold Cup Regatta on Saturday 24th March. As the Riverview oarsmen strove mightily on the water to live up to their motto "deo favente navriges vel vimine" ("With the Lord favouring you, you can sail even with a twig"), the mothers on the shore toiled mightily also under the watchful eyes of Marjorie Roche in the wharf Tuck-shop, and Alison Shillington in Cova Cottage, to provide sustenance for all.

The elegant home of Philip and Mary Lee was a fitting setting for our well patronised Card Day, organised by Maureen Punch.

A second Card Day will be planned by Maureen and Terry Saggers for the Jesuit Missions before the end of 3rd Term.

On 15th April we celebrated Anzac Day Mass in the School Chapel. On this occasion Chaplain B.D. Callachoe, R.A.A.F., Richmond, gave the oration.

Ellie Wright organised a Mother's Day of Recollection which was held on Tuesday, 17th April. Guest speaker was Father N. Bradford S.J. The atmosphere was spiritual and a time of reflection. Another such peaceful day was held on 26th September.

Our Second Country Parents Luncheon was held in the Parlour on 6th May again, Convenor Patricia Connors and Maxine Wakim combined with Committee members to welcome our country families visiting the College for parent-teacher interviews. The obvious appreciation shown by our visitors was ample reward for our combined efforts.

Our 13th Annual Art and Craft Exhibition was a highly professional production. Many months of organisation under the leadership of Convenors, Winsome Duffy (Art), Edith Collins (Craft), Ann Parsons (Antiques) and Desiree Balthazaar (Exotic Plants), culminated in a brilliant event.

Darragh Christie designed a stunning and colourful poster to publicise the Exhibition. Christina Kennedy was in charge of publicity and very generously arranged the printing of thousands of posters and hand bills which were distributed widely throughout the state.

As a result, record crowds attended on each of the three days.

Carmen Duncan, well known actress and Riverview mother — opened the Exhibition.

As usual, every Committee member was rostered for this function and husbands were pressed into service.

The Riverview Fun Run on 17th June was a new innovation organised by Alison and David Shillington.

It was a family day, once again using the facilities of the school.

Open air Mass was held at noon on First Field.

Mr Lea Scarlett supervised inspection of the Riverview Observatory and Mr Carl Coffin's Jazz Group performed in the grandstand throughout the day.

The Auction Party was a first for Riverview and the second of our major fund-raising functions. It was master-minded by Jan Hunter who spent months collecting items donated for auction, collating and cataloging and finally presenting them in a most effective order, with her small band of helpers ensuring that all proceeded smoothly.

Sally Thorp co-ordinated the home baking of no less than 3,000 pies of various recipes by Committee members. The Memorial Hall was transformed with coloured chandeliers of balloons and exquisitely decorated tables. Janet Morse helped in many ways.

Peter Pickles and Storm Jacklin volunteered their talented services as auctioneers.

Many valuable items were donated for the auction, further proof of the generosity of parents and friends. There was never a dull moment from start to finish.

Mass was celebrated in the School Chapel prior to the Junior School Bar-B-Q held on 12th August. Convenors were Terry Saggers and Pattie Connolly. Despite blustery weather 850 enjoyed another "View Family" gathering.

Jesuit missionaries in India depend largely upon the proceeds of the Indian Bazaar for financing their various activities. The P. & F. Commmittee was involved in various ways.

Maureen Delany, and Committee members ran the pie shop as successfully as they run the football tuckshop. Always first to sell out their entire stock, they are reluctant to tell us their secret!

Maureen Punch organised the cake stall. This was more successful than ever this year.

Junior School mothers under the guidance of Vicki Matthews and Terry Saggers had no problems disposing of the sweet stalls confections.

The French Terrace Restaurant introduced last year by the Committee was again under the talented direction of Edith Collins, Patricia Connors, and Maxine Wakim. Even more picturesque this year, it was well patronised from early a.m. until dusk. A bevy of beautiful young ladies from Loreto and Monte Sant Angelo and a number of young gentlemen from Riverview, supported their parents in a most cheerful and friendly manner.

Their parents had good reason to be proud of them.

Marjorie Roche, always original, set up her "Beauty for all Seasons", make-up advisory centre, and offered an endless variety of colour.

In an effort to include the many mothers who are by themselves at Riverview a "Mothers Alone Group" was initiated in 1984.

It was also realised that within the ranks of past-parents, there were many who would welcome the opportunity to remain an active part of the Riverview Community. Suzie Firkin has convened preliminary meetings and will continue her involvement in 1985 of parents of Year 12 leaving in 1984.

Nearing the conclusion of your son's schooling at Riverview, the Valete Mass and Dinner provided a unique and moving spiritual experience long to be remembered by all who participated in it. On this occasion Valerie Dickinson with the support of Year 11 mothers, and Committee members, undertook the setting up and serving of this final ritual dinner with her usual aplomb.

Thank you to the Class Mothers and Country Representatives for arranging functions to encourage parents to meet.

Our final fund raising function for 1984 is in the pipeline as this report goes to press. It will be a "Christmas Fair" in the grounds of the Junior School. Co-ordinator Ann Gazzoli.

To our Treasurers Kay Prichard (and her "shadow treasurer" Barry) what can we say about perfection. The finances of the P. & F. Committee have indeed become big business and the continuing stress must have been enormous. Thank you both.

On behalf of the Committee I thank most sincerely the staff of St. Ignatius College for unstinting help throughout the years; our secretarial staff, Beryl Ramsay, Rita Wilson and Carmel May. John Evans (our bursar), and staff including Joyce and Margo, Barry McDonnell and his artisans who worked many hours of their own time to make our functions successful. Joan and Ron from the Kitchen.

Thanks also to Ellie Wright for the opera suppers, Jacqui Rennie for debating suppers, Maxine Wakim for her work in the clothing shop, Rowena Hennessy for her "Viewpoint" mailing service, Maureen Delany et al. for running the football tuckshop, Margaret and Lockie Campion and Margaret Ingram for running the Stationery shop.

My personal thanks to Helen Jones, who uncomplainingly interpreted my Martian scrawl and reproduced it in fair copy, always with a beautiful smile.

To our President Beryl Cubis who kept a low profile at all times but who nevertheless made 1984 a year of high achievement and who was responsible for many innovations directed towards "Getting to know your school and the people and talent within in", our thanks and a hearty "Well Done".

Mary Lea our President-Elect and well versed in Committee activities will be ready to meet the challenges of 1985. Mary's talents were obvious as she co-ordinated and attended the functions held by Class Mothers — thus ensuring the hospitality that is a tradition at Riverview. We wish her well.

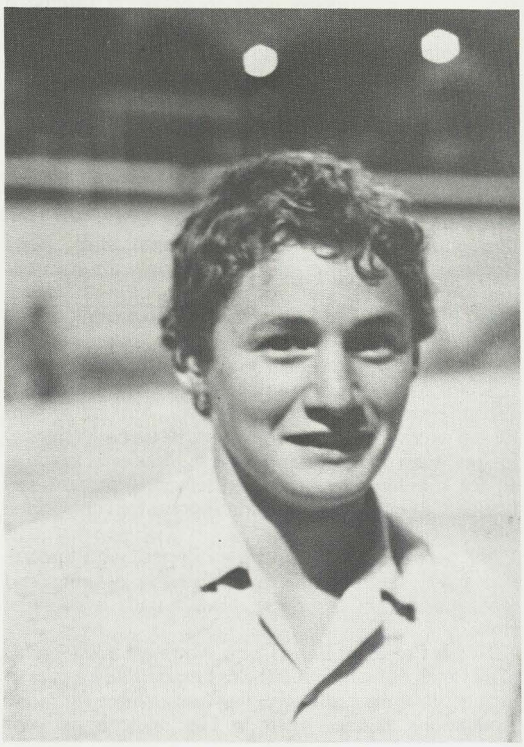

To the ladies of the Committee, my personal "thank you" for your friendship, understanding and polite tolerance, especially when I read the minutes.

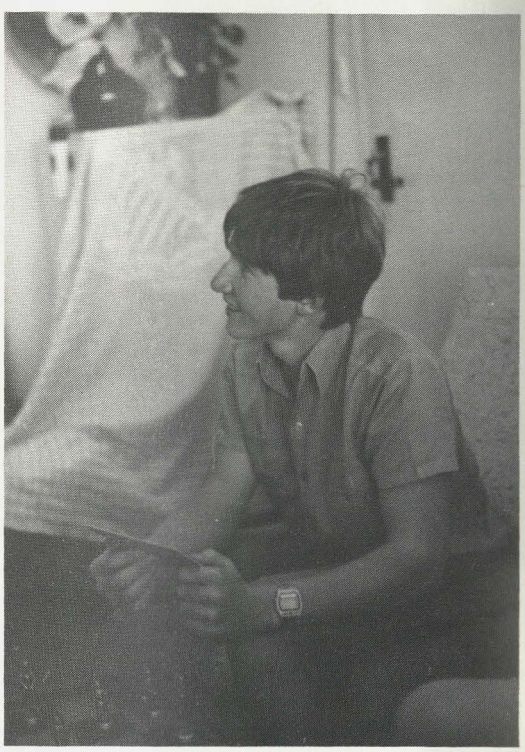

In conclusion

To our Headmaster, thank you so much for your continued patronage, and for permitting us to stage our functions so often in the very heart of Riverview. Thank you for showing your interest in every function by your personal presence and your overall concern for our feelings and our spiritual well being.

Kate Longley
Hon. Secretary.

THE HOT POTATO SHOP, 1984

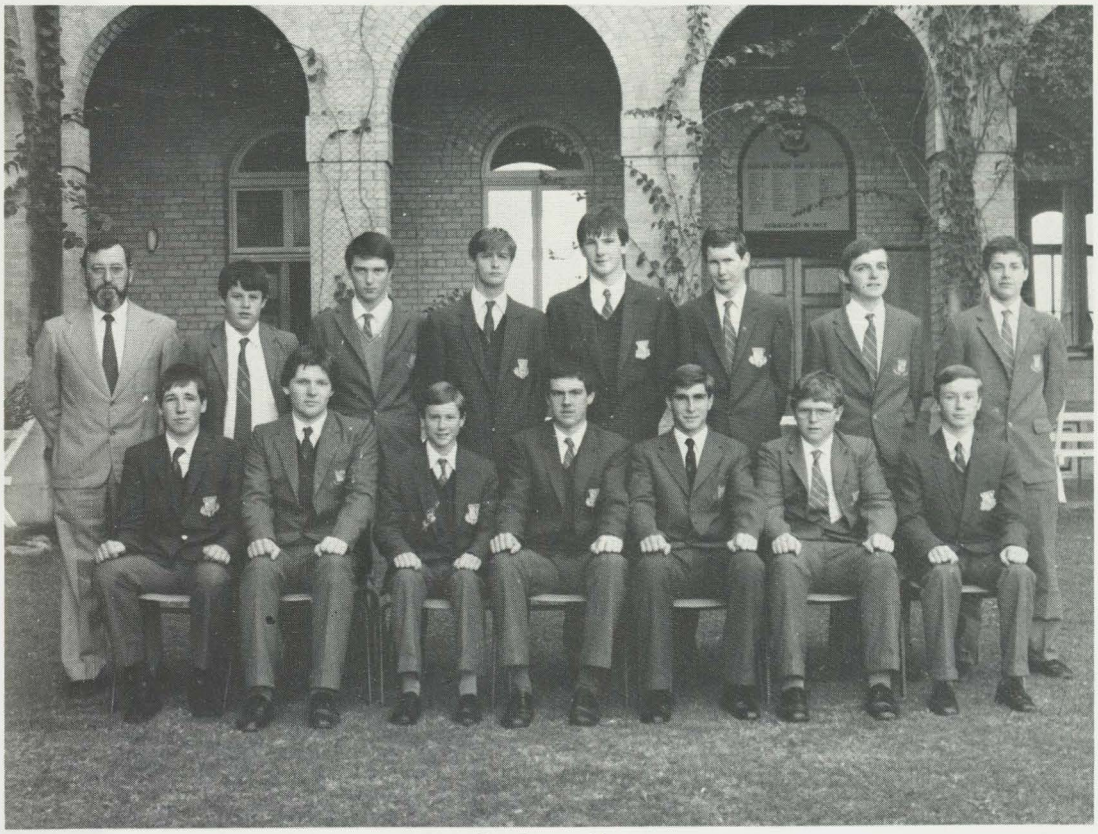

The Hot Potato Shop had another successful year of providing staff and students with entertainment and information on subjects of topical interest. Its hardworking committee was ably led by Justin Evans with the invaluable assistance of Dr Haines.

The only speaker in First Term was Derek White, Director of sport at the ABC, who delivered a well-received lecture on "The Declining Standards of Sportsmanship".

In Second Term things became considerably more hectic. First was Alan Renouf, former head of the Department of Foreign Affairs, who spoke about the history of Australia's Foreign Policy. Something slightly different was provided by Ken Richards, a director of Esso Australia, who used slides to aid his discourse on the effects of the war in the Persian Gulf on Australia's oil supply. Professor Jack Thomas, head of the Department of Pharmacology at Sydney University was next, with an erudite lecture on the scientific side of drug abuse. Professor Leonie Kramer drew perhaps the largest audience of the year when she came to speak about the ABC and its independence of the Government. The last speaker in this packed programme of the Second Term was the ebullient Richard Fisk, Director of Sport at 2GB Radio, who raised a few eyebrows and caused much laughter with his wide-ranging harangue on sport and its importance to Australians.

We express our thanks to the ladies in the Administration for typing and dispatching letters, and also to the students and staff whose continued support made possible another very successful year of the Hot Potato Shop.

KING LEAR IN REHEARSAL

Melvyn Morrow's production of Shakespeare's King Lear was a dramatic highlight of First Term. Mr Morrow's decision to present the play "in rehearsal"—the actors all in white clothing, with few props and scenery changes—ensured a high level of audience participation. We were all to concentrate on the action of the play, the poetry of the lines and the outstanding performances of the principals.

The title role of Lear was superbly played by Paul Lum, a veteran of Popinjay Productions. He brought a depth and power to the role that is seldom seen in schoolboy productions. His handling of Lear's madness and the moving pathos of the final death scenes were excellent.

Peter Nolan, as Lear's fool, was pure joy. He hopped around the stage with great agility, his expressive face and voice mirroring the comedy and pathos of his lines.

Many of the audience saw Act IV through a blur of tears due to the fine acting of Paul Lum and Chris Cooper's sensitive and moving portrayal of Cordelia. Few will forget his heartrending delivery of the words "No cause, no cause. . .".

David Pearson (Goneril) and David Odillo Maher (Reagan) gave very strong performances as Lear's scheming daughters. Sean Hogan (Gloucester) handled his role very well, from unseeing nobleman to blind, broken-hearted, suicidal father of Edgar. Peter Carroll played the villainous, scheming Edmund with great relish bringing a delightful verve to the role. Andrew Meagher was well cast as Edgar and displayed a clever handling of the role in the Mad Tom scenes. Chris Henville gave a creditable performance as the earnest Kent.

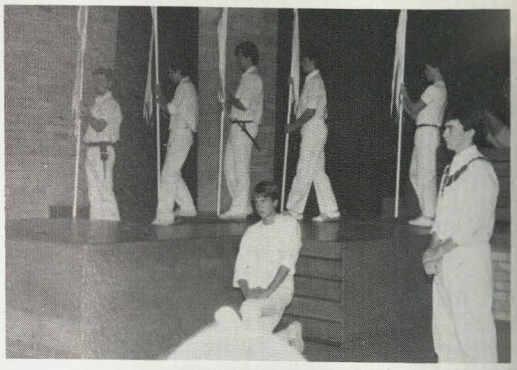

Special commendation should go to Tim Hill. Owing to a sudden illness of Andrew Thackray Tim stepped into the role of Cornwall at the eleventh hour and gave a sound performance. His improvisations with Shakespeare's lines in the Dress Rehearsal delighted the cast!

Sound supporting performances were given by Nicholas Wright (Albany), Peter Mackey (Burgundy), Justin Evans (Oswald) and Jonathan Bookalil (Old Man).

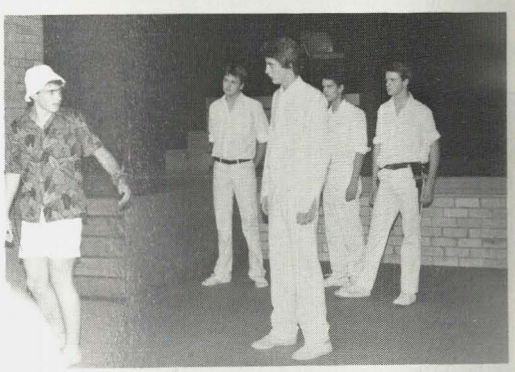

Much of the credit for the play's success must go to Melvyn Morrow, producer and director. All cast members were very well drilled and comfortable in their roles. The staging of the play was brilliant. Given the limitations of the theatrette, Mr Morrow used the facilities with creative flair and imagination, making the audience feel itself involved by the use of the extended stage. Modern touches — the strobe lighting of the battle scenes and sword fights — did not jar; rather, with the innovative presentation of the "tempest" scene, they formed some of the highlights of the play.

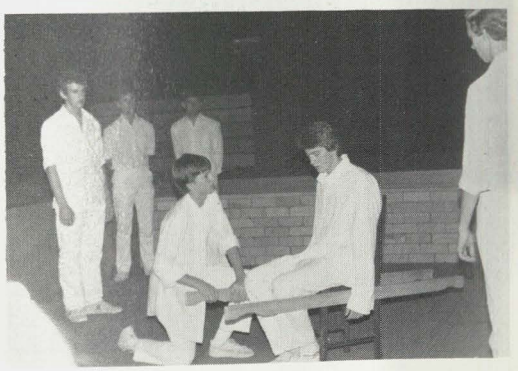

Mr Barry Mott, as musical director and lighting manager, added much to the polish and pageantry of the production.

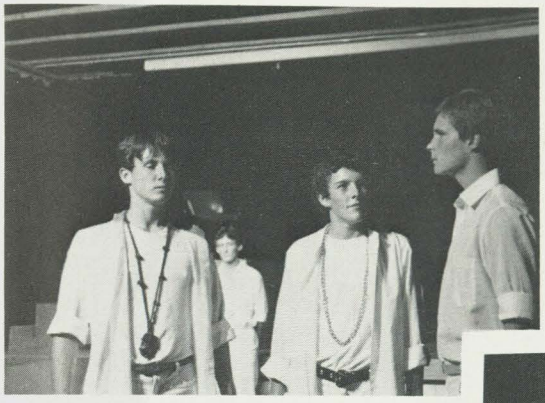

All players, principals and supernumeraries surpassed themselves. The Audience voted it an outstanding schoolboy production.

DEBATING

Although we cannot claim 1984 as a year of spectacular triumphs in debating, it has not been without its successes. The dynamic leadership of Mr A. G. Hall as Debating Master was certainly missed, but we were glad to see a continuation of the increase in numbers which had marked the period of his control. This year membership of the Debating Club touched 250, an all-time record. In terms of class coverage, we were able to extend official coaching down to Year 6, with one or two boys coming from Year 5, so it is clear that the appeal of debating is not waning.

Andrew Meagher, as Captain of Debating in succession to his brother, Bruce, set an example of dignified bearing and eloquence which shows that the Riverview traditions are with us as strongly as ever. His support of debating functions when his own commitments enabled him to take an interest in the activities of other boys, did much to encourage them in their speaking; this applies also to other senior debaters who followed his lead. The many boys who patronised our competition engagements likewise not only supplied friendly faces in audiences, but also continued a long-standing tradition.

In oratory, we entered competitors in the Rostrum (Voice of Youth) Competition, Catholic Schools Debating Association Public Speaking, Commonwealth Bank Oratory Competition and the City of Sydney Eisteddfod. Social engagements supplemented our membership of three debating competitions (G.P.S., Independent Schools and Catholic Schools), and there came a night early in second term when we had 27 teams entered in fixtures at five different locations throughout the city. Although that test showed that there is no lessening in the Riverview spirit, it drew our attention also to the strain placed upon resources by such a wide spread of commitments, and it was part of the reason for our decision to withdraw from the Catholic Schools Debating Association. An even stronger motive was the development of Junior G.P.S. debating, in which we could not always provide teams for fixtures available this year — ironically, because a good deal of the first drive for the establishment of Junior G.P.S. debating was provided by the late Father Charles McDonald, S.J., when, while Riverview Debating Master, he filled also the post of Secretary to the G.P.S. Debating Association.

The extension of debating into Year 6 was impelled by the fact that we could not take full membership of the Independent Schools Debating Association without entering teams at that level. When it was established that there was sufficient interest, the task of training the Year 6 boys was taken by Mr Grahame Normoyle, whose work was extremely successful. Mr Normoyle had to return to New Zealand at the end of first term, and his worke was continued, with equal success, by Mrs Sandra Sinclair. The very young debaters under her care acquitted themselves well in the I.S.D.A. competition. Two teams from Year 6 reached quarter-finals in the City of Sydney Eisteddfod, and one team reached the grand finals. In Year 7 also, a team coached by Mrs Donna Wedesweiler reached the finals in the Independent Schools competition.

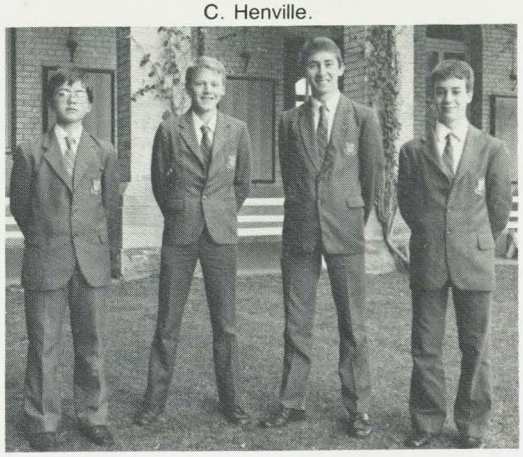

The Third Annual Debating Dinner continued what has become a new tradition: the formal gathering of members of the Debating Society with their parents, coaches and adjudicators. This is an occasion on which we recognise, among other things, the important contribution of those boys who act in auxiliary roles as chairmen, timekeepers, ushers and members of the supper committee. They remind us that participation at every level is important, for debates could not be held without their hard work.

Finally, we thank our adjudicators, supporters, and particularly the group of mothers, headed by Mrs Rennie, who were always on hand at G.P.S. functions to ensure that supper arrangements worked smoothly.

REVIEW OF LIFE FOR YEAR 11 STUDENTS

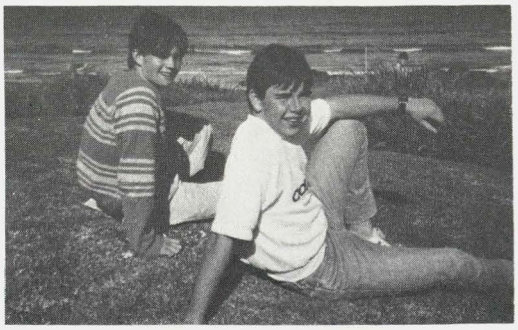

The Jesuit Holiday House at Gerroa on the South Coast and a log cabin at Lawson in the Blue Mountains were the two locations for twelve different Review of Life week-ends conducted during the year for the 175 students in Year 11.

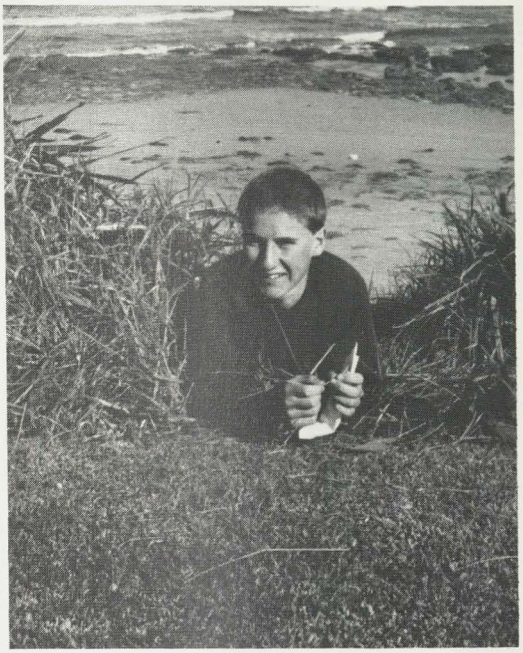

The student groups were intentionally small in size, normally twelve, and the week-ends were directed by Fr Peter Norden as Chaplain to the form. Fr Brian McCoy, a Jesuit from Townsville, assisted with two of the week-ends during 2nd Term.

This program was an alternative to the large Christian Living Camps which had been traditionally provided over the last ten years. Despite their advantage in being coeducational, these Christian Living Camps had been found to be of limited value. The very large number of students on each camp and the novelty of being involved in a residential program with the two Loreto schools seemed to outweigh the possibility of any serious discussion and reflection taking place.

The process of "review of life" offered the opportunity for our students to spend some time talking together and thinking alone about the future direction of their lives. This would usually involve coming to a deeper and more personal appreciation of one's gifts, and examining ways in which they may have failed to use those gifts in the most profitable way in the past. Through group discussion the students were able to explore various different philosophies of life — how best to use one's gifts in a way which will bring about a lasting satisfaction.

Each of the week-ends involved periods of time each day when the individual students could spend time in prayer and personal reflection. The expanses of the Seven Mile Beach and the bush tracks around the Blue Mountains provided suitable locations for this exercise.

Some of the following reflections of the students written some months afterwards indicate something of the nature of the benefits obtained:

> "I believe that it was a good opportunity to understand yourself better."
> "During the camp I think I became more aware of myself and the effect that I can have on others."
> "I guess the trip made me look at myself and my thoughts a bit more than I normally do."

A further objective of the week-ends was a deepening of a sense of God in the lives of the students and an ability to see the relationship between Christian faith and the issues and tasks facing them in everyday life. Too often, within the context of the school environment, purposeful discussion and thinking of this kind does not take place.

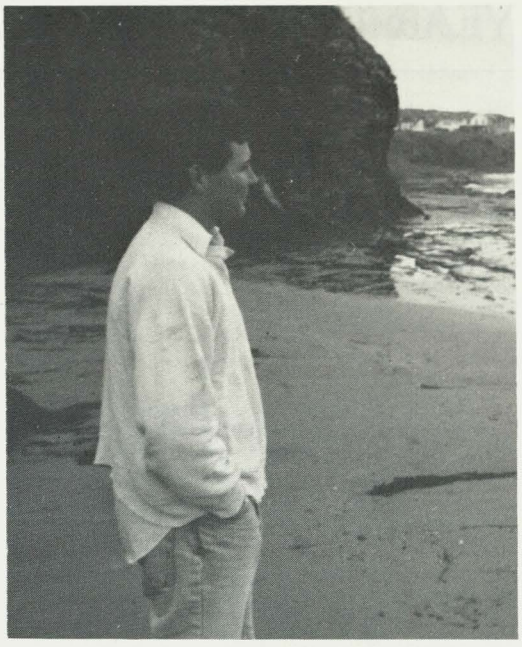

The students' comments express something of their experiences in this area:

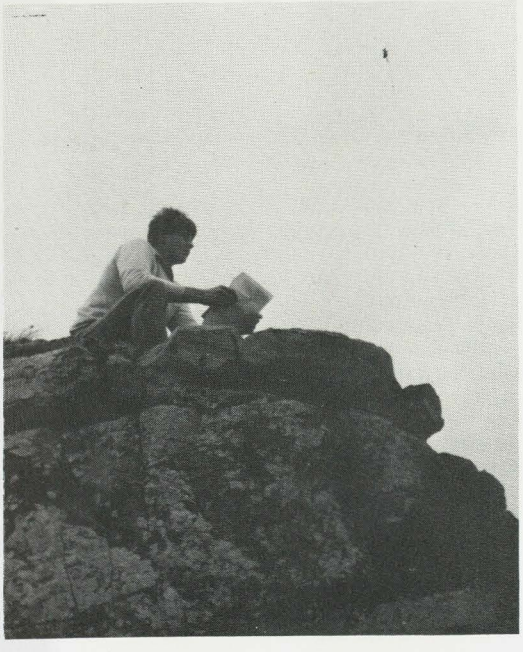

"The experience added another layer to my faith which made me more aware of the beauty and goodness in the world given us from God."
"I became aware of God in his natural element, I felt a closeness to God."
"The informal style of discussing religion was new to me and I really enjoyed being able to talk about faith and religion outside of the church atmosphere."
"I learnt that while people appear to be irreligious and unfaithful on the outside, they may still be deeply religious and faithful on the inside."
"The experience of the Mass in such friendly and small circumstances was the most incredible religious experience I've ever had because I felt so close to God."

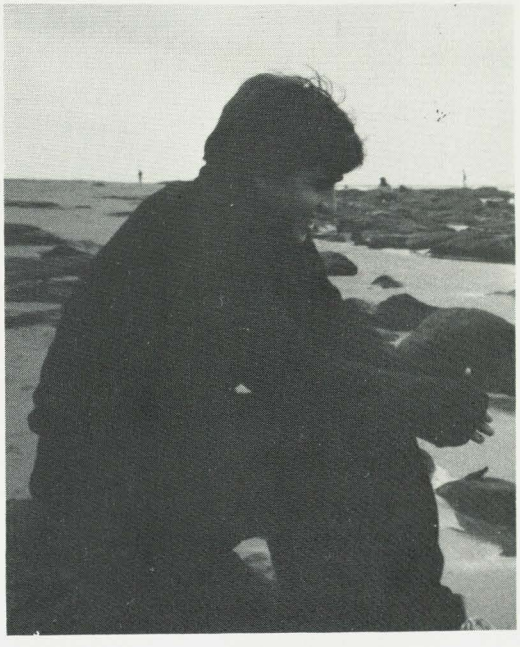

The range of experiences which the students are developing during the period of Year 11 is widening rapidly. Unless there is an opportunity of integrating that broader experience within the context of their christian faith, religion soon becomes a distant concept with little implications for day to day living.

Being able to talk freely about issues of this nature with other friends, in a relaxed setting, and with the assistance of a religious director, the students showed that they were able to move towards a greater understanding of their lives and a more mature appreciation of their faith.

YEAR 11 OUTWARD BOUND CAMP

"Help you to see you." As many know this is the object of the Outward Bound Movement, an association first established during World War II to combat the high casualty rate of sailors lost at sea. Since then the movement has continued to provide programmes, not only for the navy, but also for everyday people. The basic aim of these programmes is to put the participants into a position in which they are forced to extend their levels of self-confidence, self-independence and leadership.

It was on the principles of this movement that thirty Year 11 boys ventured to Castle Mountain, Wiseman's Ferry, where, under the guidance of Fr Peter Norden, Mr John Townsend, Mr Roy Sinclair, Miss Mary Bayldon, Dr Charles Morris and Mr Frank Monagle, they experienced numerous tests of endurance, discussed various topics and eventually arrived at a more detailed and thoughtful knowledge of themselves and their environment.

The activities which were conducted included three-hour canoe trips, bush trekking with maps and compasses, rock-climbing and abseiling, obstacles courses and marathons while carrying a log. Interspersed between these activities were various workshops where such topics as "Decision-making", "Meditation", "Communication" and "Goal-setting" were discussed.

In the evening further discussions were held, videos were shown and the opportunity was given to all to reflect in their thoughts in front of the crowd. Most people enjoyed the activities and many remarked that they developed a great sense of achievement from completing the tasks and awakening a greater appreciation of the bush.

The most unusual of the activities was the Solo Night Expedition in which each one was led into the bush, taking with him only a torch, a groundsheet and sleeping bag, to spend the night on his own. It was this activity which really enabled one "to see oneself".

The camp which lasted for three days was characterised by good humour, and a genuine feeling of peaceful co-existence. For every one, in one form or another, it was a truly rewarding experience in which there were many benefits.

PRO LIFE GROUP

In Term 3, 1983 a Pro Life Group was formed with the objective of bringing to students some of the issues that confront those who are concerned about the quality of life in our society, and even life itself.

The President for 1984 was Sean Hogan, Vice Presidents — Mark Crawford and Andrew Meagher. Secretary was Nicholas Fish and in charge of liaison was Stephen O'Dea.

Membership was confined to Year 11 and Year 12 students and the numbers were deliberately kept small so that all might be usefully involved.

The Pro Life Week was held in April and on each day of the week a particular theme was chosen for presentation to the students by way of posters, films and lectures. Topics covered included the right to life and abortion, care of the mentally handicapped and prisoners of conscience.

The executive of the group is to be commended for their efforts in this inaugural year of the Pro Life Group. They found time in their busy lives to discuss, plan and make contact with outside resource people.

A significant event in the life of the school took place on Sunday evening, 19th February. For the first time in the history of Riverview a major musical work for the stage, written by school students, was presented. Campbell MacBean, lyricist, and Barry Kenny, composer, presented their work "An die Musik", a dramatic musical performance celebrating the life of the composer Schubert. Campbell and Barry were joined by Miss Kate Wright and Miss Camille Stone in their presentation. Ten original songs coupled with two of Schubert's works formed the basis of hour long entertainment which portrayed scenes from Schubert's life. The lyrics and music created a variety of moods and painted vivid scenes representative of the composer's extraordinary life.

The event was a special joy for the staff of the music department, as we see in such a happening the realisation of the department's creative endeavours.

The latter part of 1983 had the usual two feature concerts: "Composers' Night" and the Junior School Concert.

COMPOSERS' NIGHT

This evening's endeavour provides for several areas of growth in the development of our young musicians. As indicated it provides a vehicle for youthful composers and arrangers. It gives opportunities for leadership to students in each form. Year 11 students are in control of all aspects of the evening's activities.

JUNIOR SCHOOL CONCERT

This year the concert was a true representation of the many creative activities that happen in the life of the Junior School. The musical content was the result of the time spent in the musical activities programme during the year. The work of Mr Barry Hayes, Drama Tutor, enlivened the second part of the concert after a vigorous display of gymnastics under the direction of Mr J. Townsend.

Eisteddfods, Band Competitions, musicals are the stuff of Term II for a music department and we have little time for reflection. This certainly was the case this year.

Many students participated in the Warringah Eisteddfod, and all acquitted themselves well. Special awards were won by Roger O'Keefe, Morgan Jones and Paul Jarman. Campbell MacBean and Barry Keeny entered the open section of the Sydney Eisteddfod and gave creditable performances in the Lieder section. Campbell, competing against young men all older than himself, gained 3rd place in the Modern British Art Song. Barry competed against fifty-one other contestants in the Mozart section and performed with distinction.

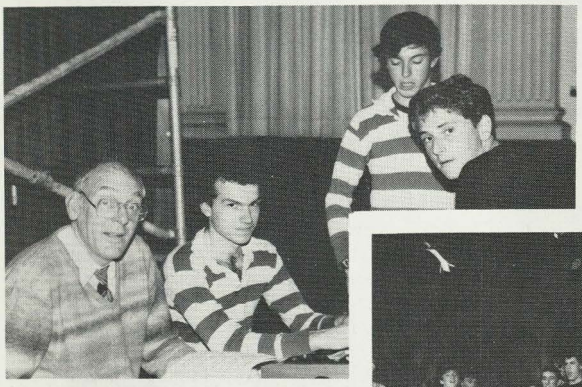

In the Band competition many of our young bandsmen gained places in their respective age-groups. Robert Morrison, Trombone, 3rd place. David Chisholm, tenor horn, 3rd place. James Hurley, Trombone, 3rd place. Tim Hill, tenor horn, 1st place. Paul Tosi, baritone, 2nd place. Greg Taranto, euphonium, 1st place. David Walsh, euphonium, 1st place. John Molloy and Matthew Dickson received merit awards.

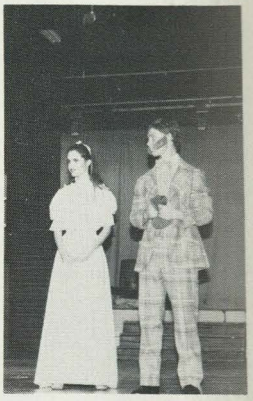

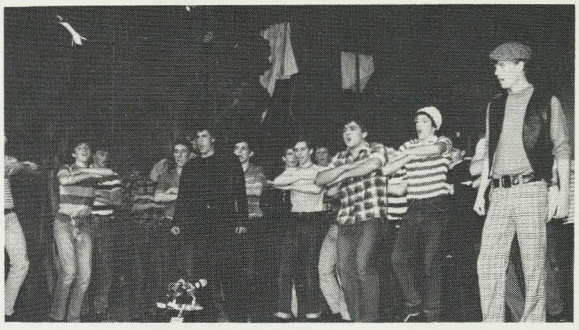

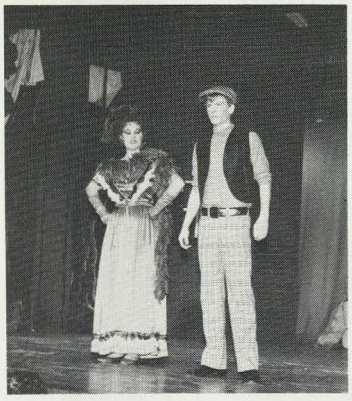

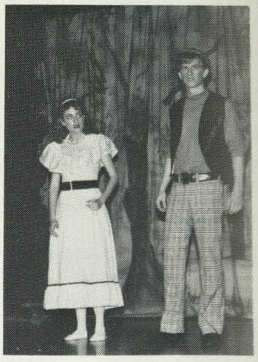

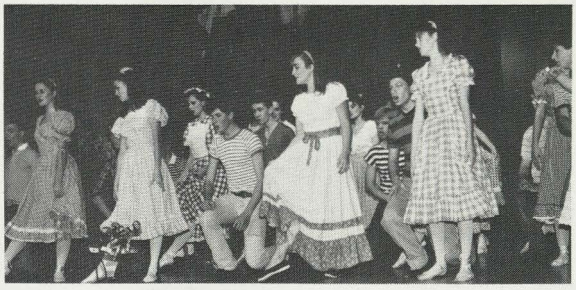

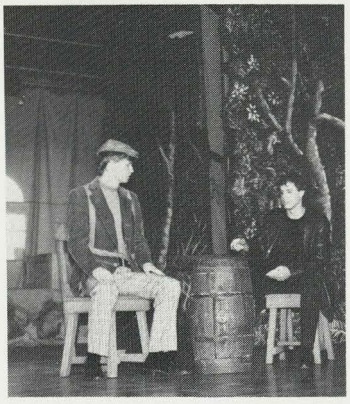

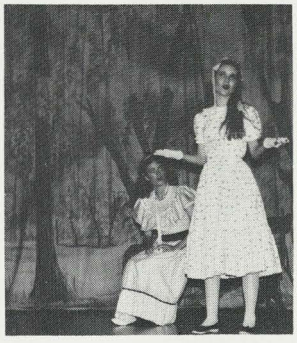

Both the concert and brass bands performed well in the Schoolboys' Junior and State Concert C Grade and Brass Band B Grade Championships. The Brass Band received 3rd place in the March section and 3rd place overall. The Concert Band achieved 1st place in the Own Choice Selection and 3rd place overall.

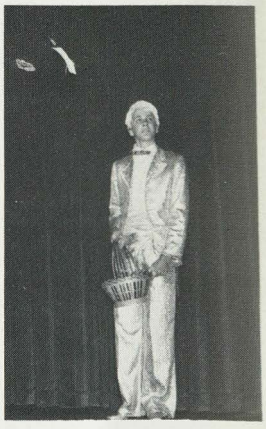

Morgan Jones: Enoch Snow Jnr.

CAROUSEL

One hundred and eighty people worked together to create "Carousel". Many months of cooperation and hard work ended in a very worthwhile season of entertainment. The hall was full to capacity each night and gave great support to the cast. Every individual contributed from the principals, who may see this experience as the beginning of a possible career, to the musician in the pit, one of whom had had his instrument for barely eight months, to the apprentice lighting man.

JUNIOR SCHOOL MUSICAL

"The Musicans", written and directed by Mr Barry Hayes, was a major musical production, staged entirely from the Junior School. Apart from the wealth of talent amongst our boys it proved to be a rewarding experience which should encourage participation in the future for senior school productions.

Year 8 students, Robert Cooper, Ben Scarf and Rod Toomey along with Mrs Marlene Jones, had many hours of music making to provide their own arrangements. The result was an achievement the boys can be well proud of.

It was hard work, but the involvement and the time spent in rehearsal finally made the two performances both fun and something the boys will remember.

The Musicians was first performed by the Rocks Theatre for the 1981 Sydney Festival. The Choreography in our production was adapted from the original by Caralie Hinkley.

Year 12 Music Students, 1984

At the time of writing H.S.C. music performance is just a few days away. A concert given by the Year 12 music class on September 24th showed how ready they were for this important event. The team teachers of Year 12, Mr Holmes and Miss Rawlings were delighted and rewarded by the efforts of these young men who in the preceding months had lifted their standards in an extraordinary way. Especially gratifying has been the way the class have united in a special way to support and encourage each other in their aspirations.

Patrick Clarke — 1984 Music Captain — has led the department in a positive and encouraging way by both example and inspiration. He is a fine clarinetist and excellent musician.

Paul Healey is an accomplished flautist who has consistently topped the class in academic work and has shown special skill in composing.

Barry Kenny this year has fulfilled all his promise as a pianist and composer. In the music part of "An Die Musik" Barry showed the direction he may follow in life. Ten songs of great beauty were presented, Barry accompanying all of them and singing some.

Campbell MacBean, the lyricist of "An Die Musik", appears to be laying down the paths of his potential career: singer, lyricist, poet. A successful year of singing — the principal role of Billy Bigelow in "Carousel", "An Die Musik" and success in the Sydney Eisteddfod, Campbell has taken all this valuable experience to a peak for his ambitious programme for the H.S.C.

Barry O'Dwyer — a keen musicologist Barry's sensitivity and musicality are all reflected in his violin-playing.

Adrian Murray is a gifted pianist who has gained confidence this year and consolidated his obvious talent.

Nicolas Wright over the past few years has displayed his versatility as a musician-performer. A gifted singer-entertainer Nicholas is revealing his skills as a promising violinist, his medium for H.S.C. music.

Chris Caruana was a late starter in the true use of his vocal skills. He has entertained in the folk-guitar idiom, especially with his own songs.

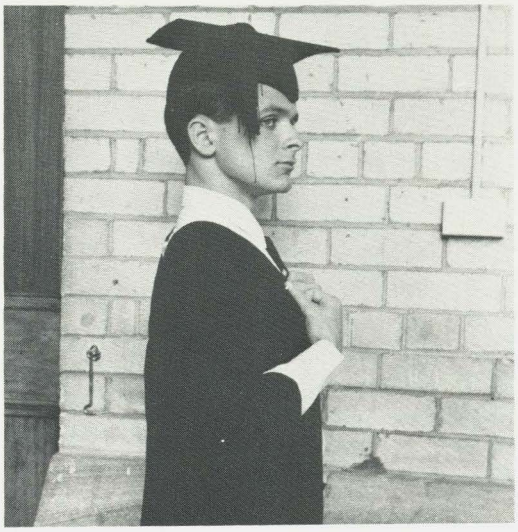

Our best wishes go with them all.

Music Staff

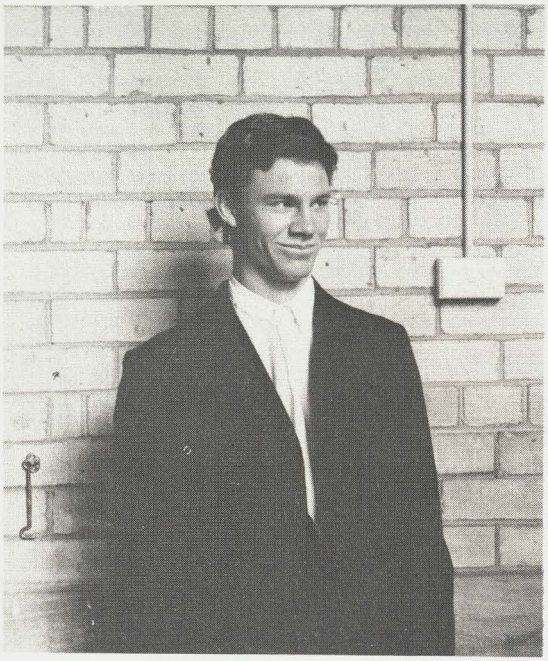

Our full-time music staff has remained constant, but several changes have taken place in our instrumental tutoring staff. Miss Sharon Haylen has recently won a place in the Adelaide Symphony Orchestra. Her replacement in tutoring the flute is Miss Leonie Kloury in the Senior School and Miss Lisa Murphy in the Junior School. Mr Richard Percival has joined our ranks with his teaching emphasis on the saxophone. Mr Simon Evans has taken our 'cello students and Mr Chris Cody the tuition of the string bass. It is gratifying to have Old Boys such as Simon and Chris return to share their talents. Along with them we have in the Junior School Activities' teaching staff Bruce Meagher (recorder), Michael Harvey (guitar), David Deverall and Paul Brassil (clarinet) all new in 1984. Mr Phillip Kellett and Mr David Druery have joined the percussion staff. Mr Andrew Bell is tutoring the recorder in Junior Activities and Miss Michelle Harry has just commenced tuition in the oboe. Finally we welcome Mr Peter Trotta who replaces Mr Paul Kellett in trombone tuition.

As usual I wish to pay tribute to a dedicated, hard-working group of colleagues who are willing to give generously of their time and talents.

M. W. Holmes.

Justin Sheedy: Principal.

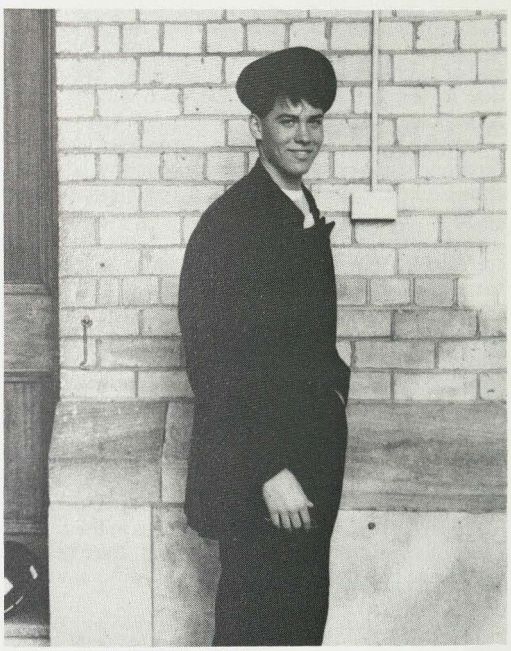

Kieran Jones: Enoch Snow.

Ian Delaney: 1st Policeman.

Craig O'Brien: 2nd Policeman.

Bill Allen: Captain.

HORIZON

In second term, the Horizon Programme was introduced into Second Division.

As the name suggests, the project's aim is to widen the intellectual and cultural horizons of our students by leading them to enjoy an evening that engages the mind, works on the emotions and stimulates the imagination.

Boarders are divided into fifteen self-selected friendship groups, and a parent or member of staff organises for that group an evening at the theatre, a concert, the opera, a musical, an exhibition, a film or a suitably exotic event. Afterwards, all repair to a timely coffee house to chat about the issues raised by the performance or exhibition.

Parents and staff were hearteningly generous in participating in the enterprise, and response from boarders was enthusiastic. Given the inconvenience to them in having to miss studies and return late, their commitment in the circumstances demonstrated a properly positive disposition.

Two particular problems the project met were the forbidding cost of tickets to mainstream theatre — even with student reductions — and the arguable value of many films as vehicles for serious ideas. Given most boys' easy and regular access to videos, choice of films was agreed to demand greater discernment than at first was thought.

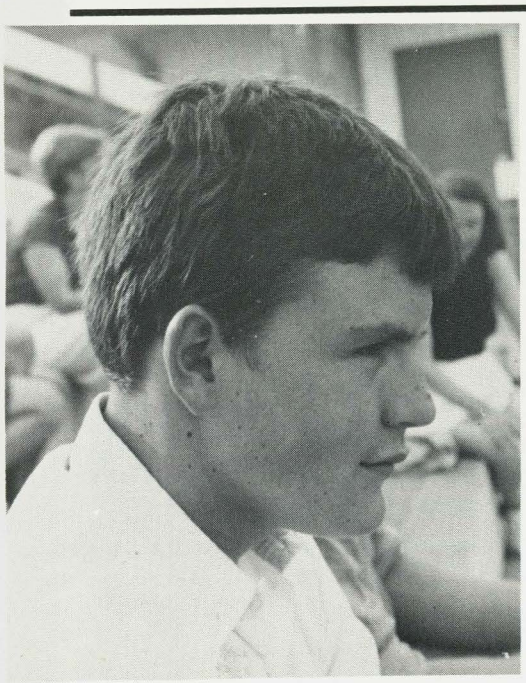

Following the success of the venture in second term, third term saw the establishment of two Horizon sessions with a new group of fifteen leaders. Not only for financial reasons, accent was placed on Fringe theatre as being likely to prove more challenging as well as intriguingly off-beat.

With the backing of parents and the clear enjoyment of the boys, Horizon's popularity looks like ensuring its continuation.

Our particular thanks to Mrs Shepherd, Mrs O'Neil, Mrs Bennett, Miss Burkett, Miss Hume, Miss Healy, Mrs Finn, Mrs Kevin, Mrs Magarey, Mrs Stinson, Mr McLean, Fr Norden, Mr Bradshaw, Mr Condon, Mr King, Mr C. Hayes, Fr O'Kelly, Mr Saines, Mr Bunbury, Mr Castley, Mr Sinclair and the many others still being contacted at the time of going to press! Who knows? Parents may soon be volunteering.

Report on the Geography Study Tour to Singapore, Malaysia, Thailand and Burma 1984

Over the long vacation at the beginning of this year, twenty-three Riverview students were fortunate enough to find vacation employment, for they had a clear goal in mind. Earning a proportion of the fare was a condition of their being able to participate on a field work experience in Asia. And work they did — as building labourers, cleaners, gardeners, lawn mowers, and so on.

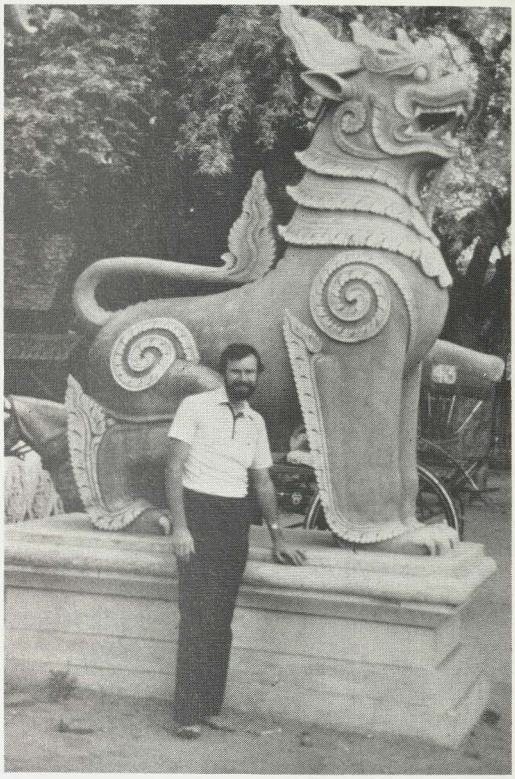

The ultimate destination of the study tour was Burma. Burma is an isolated, enclosed country (the "Albania of the Orient"), possibly the last country in the world where one cannot buy Coca-Cola, and it is a place where the poverty of India and Ethiopia can be seen without the misery of these places. Accompanying the tour leader (Mr Codrington) were two other teachers (Fr Norden and Mr Christie), one parent (Mrs Chan) and a doctor (Dr Daly). In addition to the five adults, there were 23 students: four from Year 8, seven from Year 9, eight from Year 10, and two each from Years 11 and 12.

The group departed from Sydney on Wednesday 25th April. After crossing a beautifully clear Central Australia, the group arrived in Singapore late that evening, although departure from the airport was delayed due to the non-arrival of one boy's luggage. (This luggage was subsequently located and it rejoined the group at Bangkok, much to the relief of both the boy concerned and the noses of his friends.)

After an overnight stop at the Metropolitan Y.M.C.A. in Singapore, the group left early on Thursday morning for Singapore railway station. Our first daytime view of Singapore left a lasting impression of a nation-city which was active, growing and disciplined — a nation which in many respects is more economically developed than Australia. Where else in the world would there be a law forbidding the re-registration of cars twelve years old on the grounds that the country cannot afford to have slow cars on its roads?

Three trains were necessary to reach Bangkok. After passing through the Tin and Rubber Belt of West Malaysia, we reached Kuala Lumpur and explored the city's Chinatown district. The next day, the group travelled through the Kedah "rice bowl" of northern Malaysia, a region of traditional subsistence rice cultivation with widespread use of water buffalos, small fields, picturesque villages and steeply rising karst limestone hills. We reached the Thai border at midday and the train left (without warning!) for the journey through southern Thailand. Compared with Malaysia, Thailand impressed the group immediately as being less wealthy but more regulated (many of the people on the train seemed to be gun-carrying officials).

We reached the Thai capital, Bangkok, shortly after dawn on Saturday, 28th April. We were struck immediately by the extensive shanty town areas of the city, which lined the railway almost all the way from Bangkok's outskirts to its centre. On arrival at Bangkok railway station, we transferred immediately to a bus for a tour to the south-west of Bangkok. After travelling through the congested, hectic traffic of Bangkok we drove through the vast salt evaporating flats of Samut Sakhon to Damnern Saduak. Many areas of Thailand are linked to outside areas by canal rather than by road. Consequently, we transferred into canal boats for a journey along the canals (or klongs) to see traditional Thai village life, including a large floating market where locals barter produce from boat to boat.

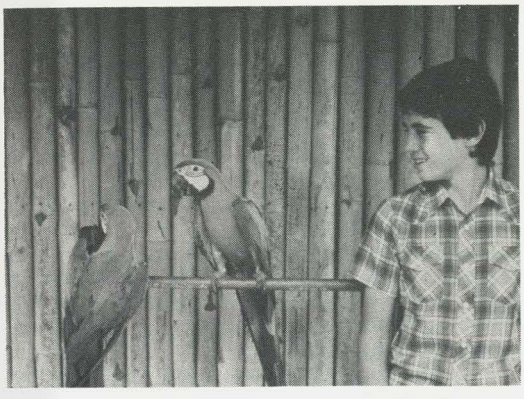

From Damnern Saduak, we travelled by bus to Nakhon Pathom, where we visited the 127 metre high Phra Pathom Chedi, the world's tallest Buddhist monument and a centre of Buddhist devotion, pilgrimage, religious worship and study. Over a thousand years old, this pagoda represented our first encounter with Buddhist worship which was to impress the group for its gentleness, sincerity and obvious centrality to everyday life. From here, the group witnessed a performance of Thai culture, featuring the ordination of a Buddhist monk, the finger-nail dance, Thai boxing, minority group (Miao) dancing, self-defence, cock fighting, bamboo pole dancing and elephant work.

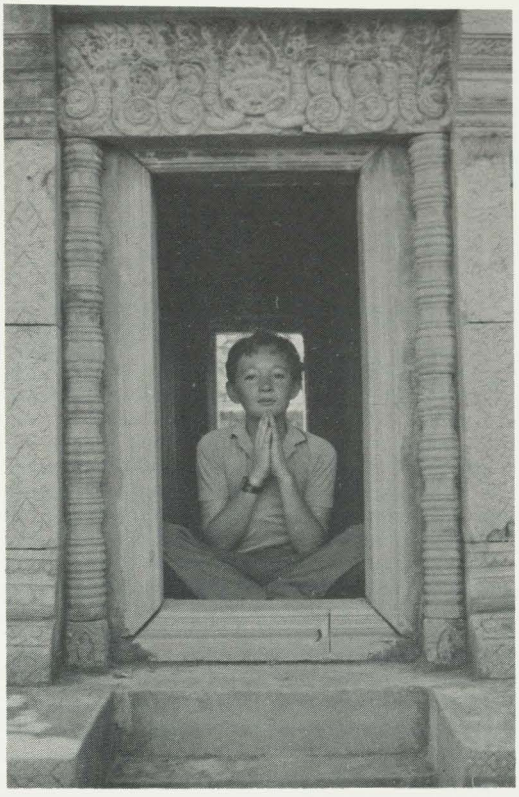

The night of our arrival in Bangkok, students were asked to reflect on how they felt they came across to the local Thais. A section from one perceptive response is reproduced below:

> "The young people seem to be happy with us foreigners, but the old people don't seem to like us. Whenever we wave to the young generation when their grandparents are about, the young people smile, but the grandparents just sit there with a stern face. I'm getting the feeling that the elders despise us and dislike us trespassing into their country." (Year 9)

The next day (Sunday 29th April) was spent at a more leisurely pace exploring the poorer areas of Bangkok found along the city's canals. In the morning, we travelled along the canals of Thonburi, seeing small timber houses built over the canals, experiencing the sights and smells of canal life. Students were amazed to see that despite the obvious filth of the water, only partly caused by its use for sewage disposal, local residents used it for drinking, washing and bathing, and indeed one of Bangkok's large ice works used the canal water for its production. This tour concluded at Wat Arun (Temple of Dawn), a 79 metre high Khmer style ceramic covered temple beside the Chao Phraya, the largest river in central Thailand.

A short drive took us to the Golden Mount, an artificial hill which was built as a combined temple and fortress, but which now serves as one of the few vantage points from which to get an overall view of the very flat Bangkok. After lunch, another canal trip showed us the canal settlements to the immediate north of Bangkok, including a visit to a "typical" Thai house.

As one wrote of Bangkok,

> "This metropolitan of over five million appears at first glance to be a bewildering conglomeration of new and old, East and West, serenity and chaos, the exotic and the commonplace — all thrown together haphazardly into a gigantic urban stew following no apparent recipe... You can stand at one moment in a hushed temple courtyard, lulled by the rhythmic chanting of priests and the silver tinkle of bells, and at the next, risk life and limb crossing a street down which hurtles some of the most lethal traffic in Asia."

On Monday 30th April, we travelled to the south of Bangkok to the "Ancient City", described as the world's largest outdoor museum. Covering some 80 hectares of land in the shape of Thailand, it contains replicas of the architectural styles found throughout the country, including reconstructions of many famous buildings which are now in ruins. That afternoon, we flew to Rangoon, although the departure of one student appeared tenuous for a while following the loss of his ticket. On arrival at Rangoon, we followed the "correct procedures" with the customs officials and thus were able to leave the airport after a "fairly short" three hour period.

Although our arrival in Rangoon was in the early evening, Rangoon provided a clear contrast with the hectic, Westernized Bangkok that we had just left. The local people wore traditional dress (the longyi), few cars were newer than late-forties models (and the buses somewhat older than that), and the tallest structures in the city devoid of modern concrete buildings were pagodas! The city centre (where we stayed) consisted of buildings built by the British in the inter-war period, and there was no evidence of new building (and little evidence of maintenance) since the Japanese invasion. Our hotel, the Strand, was very well maintained, however, and its old paddle fans, antiquated elevator and the lost property case in the foyer, containing fob watches, fans and other very dusty items obviously misplaced during the days of the Raj, added to the charm of the establishment.

The tour of Rangoon next morning (May 1st; Worker's Day public holiday) commenced, appropriately at Kipling's "beautiful, winking wonder", the 2500-year old Shwedagon Pagoda. The symbol of Rangoon, this 100 metre high stupa is said to contain more gold than the vaults of the Bank of England, together with 5448 diamonds and 2317 rubies and is surrounded by almost 100 smaller temples and pavilions. It is a centre of faith for the Burmese, and an architectural wonder for any visitor. More than any other place seen on the tour, it was a building which overwhelmed the individual, making him fully aware of his own insignificance. As well as the myriad of Burmese life on display at the Shwedagon (such as Buddhist devotions, washing statues, begging, selling caged birds to free in order to gain merit, cheroot-smoking ladies), we were also privileged to witness a part of the ordination of several young boys into the Buddhist monkhood on the central platform of the pagoda.

Our Rangoon tour continued with a stop in the city centre near the Sule Pagoda, followed by a drive past Royal Lake to see the Karaweik Hall and Shwedagon Pagoda from a different angle, and finally to the Chauk Htat Gyi Pagoda to the somewhat grotesque 70 metre long reclining Buddha (the world's largest such image). From here, a drive to Rangoon's Mingaladon Airport saw the group have an airport lunch before leaving for Heho. This flight was smooth and presented superb low level views of the beautiful pagoda-studded Burmese landscape. Furthermore, the crew proved to be very friendly, and most of the students took the controls of the aircraft for brief periods!

From the airport at Heho, the group travelled to the provincial capital of Taunggyi, an old British hill station on the edge of the Shan Plateau. On arrival in Taunggyi, we explored the local markets where ethnic minority people dressed in colourful costumes sold bright red and orange spices, vegetables, well matured fish, and very alive poultry. The main street of Taunggyi was also noteworthy for its old cars, colonial architecture and dentists' signs with large, colourful, "eyecatching" portrayals of dentures, gums and fillings. The students learned something of the freedom of movement we take for granted in Australia from the patrols of bayonetted, machine gun holding security guards at the Taunggyi Hotel.

Next morning (Wednesday 2nd May), we travelled from Taunggyi to the town of Yaunghwe, the largest town of the Intha people on the shores of Inle Lake. At Yaunghwe, we transferred to two motorized longboats to travel across Inle Lake to study the unique rural lifestyle of the Intha people. The Intha have developed techniques for building floating islands for cultivation and of rowing boats with their legs while fishing. At the southern limit of the Inle Lake excursion, the village of Ywama, we visited a weaving workshop, a floating market and the Phaung Daw U Pagoda.

From the Shan Plateau, the group flew to Burma's second largest city, Mandalay, described as the most Burmese of Burmese cities. After a short clean-up, we set off to climb the 1729 steps of Mandalay Hill, a large (236 metre high) hill of strategic, religious and scenic importance. The summit of the hill presented the group with a fine panorama of Mandalay city, the old palace grounds and the surrounding rural areas of the Irrawaddy plain.

The next day featured a number of tours around Mandalay. We began by crossing through the central area of the city where we witnessed the effects of a large fire which in March 1984 destroyed about 2000 buildings. After passing through the poorer area of the city near the flood-prone banks of the Irrawaddy, we boarded two small boats to travel upstream to the village of Mingun. Now largely a retirement centre for Buddhist monks and nuns, the highlights of Mingun were the world's largest intact bell, the earthquake damaged Mingun Pagoda, the Hsinbyume Pagoda modelled on Mount Meru, and of course the Burmese village life of markets, ox-carts, Buddhist monks and children with thanaka-bark powder covered faces.

We returned to Mandalay for lunch before travelling to the south of the city to the Maha Muni (Living Buddha) Pagoda at Arakan, a wood and ivory carving workshop, and a typical textiles factory employing girls aged eight to eighteen for $6 per week, before crossing the Ava Bridge (the only bridge over the Irrawaddy) to Sagaing.

On the next morning (Friday 4th May) we began our studies on the shores of the Irrawaddy River, looking at the water buffaloes hauling teak logs from the river onto what can only be described as old remnants of trucks. This not only provided an opportunity for Year 8 boys to ride some water buffaloes, but gave valuable insights into typical Burmese working life, Burmese semi-urban transport which uses Brahmin bulls pulling heavily laden, large, wooden-wheeled carts, and water-side life in single-roomed, open-fronted thatched huts on the levees of the Irrawaddy river. From here, the group toured the Zegyo Markets in central Mandalay, a huge complex in which stalls were found selling everything from well-aged fish, very alive chooks, seven-inch long cheroot cigars, local woven textiles and luxury goods smuggled in from Thailand. After the markets, we travelled to the remains of the old Mandalay Palace, the home of the last Burmese kings before British occupation in the 1880s. Now (as then) a military base, the immense, intricately carved wooden palace complex was destroyed by British troops driving out the Japanese a couple of weeks before the end of World War II.

Our next stop was Pagan, the capital of Burma from 1044 to 1287. Billed as the "city of four million pagodas", the younger students were delighted to learn that most of the Pagan pagodas were genuine ruins which could be CLIMBED! Our late afternoon touring of the dry Pagan plains began with Pagan's largest pagoda, the Dhammayangyi Temple. Its masonry is said to be the best in Pagan, as the then ruler (Narathu) oversaw the construction personally, and had the masons immediately executed if a needle could be pushed between the bricks they had laid. The temple was never finished as Narathu was himself assassinated. Some other temples were briefly visited before the group went to the shores of the Irrawaddy to see the sunset and witness local village life beside the river. From here, a traditional lacquerware factory was inspected before those without diarrhoea caught taxis (which in Pagen means a horse and cart) to dinner.

The following morning, the group inspected the local markets at the neighbouring town of Nyaung U, and expressed particular interest in the storage of fish for sale and the large size of the Burmese cheroot cigars being smoked by the women. After lunch, some free time was allowed, during which many students took the opportunity to hire bicycles for some individual exploration of the ruins near Pagan village. Then, after visits to the Shwezigon Pagoda (the prototype for all later bell-shaped pagodas in Burma) and a small temple with wall paintings, we left for the return flight to Rangoon.

Our penultimate day in Burma was spent on a day excursion to the old seaport of Pegu, 80 kilometres north-east of Rangoon. On the way, visits were made at the large war cemetary at Htaukkyna, containing the graves of some 27,000 British and Commonwealth soldiers. After a stop at a small fishing village, we came across the celebrations and feast for the ordination of some young boys into the monkhood. The father of the boys extended us a warm welcome, and we were honoured to participate in the music, dancing and festivities. Our Pegu excursion then focused on visits to three contrasting pagodas.

An unscheduled visit was then made at St Joseph's minor seminary at Pegu, where we were greeted most warmly by the priests and nuns (Indian and Karen). They genuinely appreciated our thought of calling in (we were the first group of outsiders to do so), and they told us of the subtle pressures to which the Christian church is exposed in the seeming tolerance of Buddhist, socialist Burma. They told us of the lack of contact with the outside, and of the nationalisation of all Church schools some years ago. Despite this, they also told us of the great growth in the Christian church in Burma, with several hundred young men training for the priesthood in each of several centres in Burma. Their parting words were often repeated through our contacts with the church in Burma: "Please pray for us and the church in Burma". Appropriately on our return to Rangoon, we attended Sunday mass at St Mary's Cathedral in Rangoon.

The group had a free morning on the following day, Monday 7th May. While some slept others explored the old centre of Rangoon on foot, some went shopping, and several groups took the opportunity of re-visiting the Shwedagon Pagoda by taxi (taxis here being large American cars of 1940s vintage). Many of the unforgettable memories of Rangoon were gained during such free time. Images such as small girls catching crickets in the streets to eat, old men eating discarded straw baskets for breakfast, the locals who kept offering members of the group the blackmarket rate of 20 kyats to the $1 when the official rate was 8 kyats to $1, the experience of having to pay in some shops in U.S. dollars because the local currency was unacceptable, the old cars and buses. In other circumstances, these may have been repulsive images, but by now they were part of a Rangoon we had grown to appreciate, if not completely understand.

Everyone in the group had been challenged and changed by their experience in Burma. We had learned, as Michio Takeyama pointed out in the 1946 book Harp of Burma that "Burmese live every phase of their lives in accordance with a profound teaching, and cannot be considered uncivilized. It's wrong to ridicule them because they don't have the kind of knowledge we do. They possess something marvellous that we can't even begin to understand". As John F. Cady stated in his History of Modern Burma, "The country casts a kind of spell over its friends which they cannot break even if they would." We knew we had left Burma by the comparative lack of bureaucratic formalities in Bangkok, the noise and fumes of the city and what must be the world's worst traffic congestion which saw a trip of a few kilometres take almost an hour.

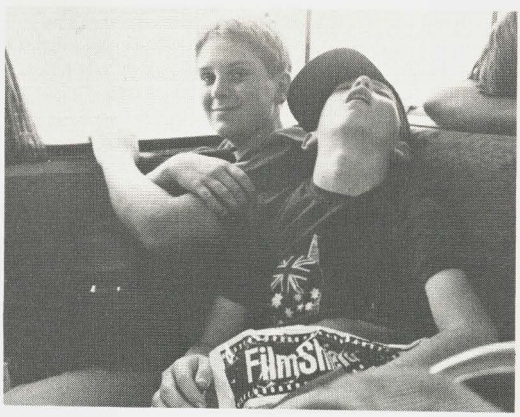

On Tuesday 8th May, we travelled north of Bangkok to inspect the old summer palace of the Thai royal family at Bang Pa-in, and then we moved on to Ayuthaya, the capital of Thailand before it was destroyed by the Burmese in 1768. Several ruined and contemporary Thai temples were inspected and the local markets patronised. The return journey to Bangkok was by boat along the Chao Phraya River, and was outstanding for the views of Thai river life it presented; small riverside homes, rice barges, timber and rice mills and fishing.

Our final morning in Bangkok (Wednesday 9th May) was free time. Some used this time for shopping, others for sleeping, a small group went to an amusement park (!), while another group inspected the Grand Palace, home of the Thai Royal family. In mid-afternoon the group boarded a train to begin the return journey to Singapore. The first leg was a 24-hour journey to Butterworth, made somewhat tense by a student's announcement just after departure that he had left his passport, cash, travellers' cheques and identification at the hotel! Enquiries to an Immigration Official on the train established that nothing could be done until we reached the border crossing at Hat Yai.

This border crossing was duly reached at midday the following day (Thursday 10th May). The border officials refused the student permission to leave Thailand, and desperate phone calls to the Australian legal office at Butterworth achieved nothing. Consequently, Fr Norden accompanied the student back to Bangkok, and then spent a hectic time in Bangkok completing Police reports, arranging replacement travel documents and replacing travellers' cheques. With help from the Jesuits in Bangkok, airline tickets were purchased and the two re-joined the rest of the group in Singapore on Friday evening.

Meanwhile, the group reached Butterworth at sunset on Thursday and joined the overnight express to Kuala Lumpur, reaching the Malaysian capital at 7 a.m. next morning. A rapid transfer was made to an express train which left at 7.30 a.m. This journey was marred by the disclosure some minutes after leaving that another student had left his passport, cash, travellers' cheques and identification on the overnight train. A message was passed to the station master at the first station we came to, but this was to no avail and upon arrival at Johor Bahru (the exit station from Malaysia to Singapore), the student was informed that he would have to return to Kuala Lumpur to complete Police reports and arrange replacement travel documents. Prolonged negotiations occurred, as a result of which the student was eventually allowed to walk across the causeway into Singapore.

Saturday 12th May was a busy one for the group. Those students who had lost passports had to arrange new airline tickets for the return journey to Sydney. Attempts to do this revealed that the airline had lost the entire group's reservations for the flight, but these were re-booked with only a little fuss. The morning was taken up with a tour of Singapore city and suburbs, including the Central Business District, Chinatown, high rise apartments, Mount Faber look-out, two factories in a high rise factory complex (a pewter factory and a batik works), Tiger Balm Gardens and the "Singapore Experience", a 45-minute eleven-screen slide presentation on the history and geography of Singapore. After lunch at Lucky Plaza, the group travelled by ferry to Sentosa Island, travelled around the island by monorail, and returned to Singapore island by cable car. The evening was left free for shopping and resting.

Our final day of touring (Sunday 13th May) was spent travelling to Johor Bahru in Malaysia. Hitherto, we had only seen Malaysia (apart from Kuala Lumpur) from the windows of passing trains. This tour took us by bus across Singapore island, across the causeway, through the town of Johor Bahru to the agricultural areas to the north. Being a Moslem state, it was business as usual in Johor Bahru (Friday is the Islam rest day), and we inspected a rubber plantation and smallholder's processing works, an oil palm plantation and a pottery works.

The last activity of the study tour was a mass conducted by Fr Norden, held at the Y.M.C.A. in Singapore. We had held mass on almost every day of the study tour, including under some difficult conditions on the trains. During this final time together, we summed up many of the experiences of the study tour, referring to Matthew Chapter 5. We reflected that Jesus taught that happy people are those who are poor in spirit, patient, merciful, hungry and peace-makers. We noted that Jesus did not promise happiness to those with luxuries, wealth and sit-down, flush toilets! For the group, leaving as it was poor but happy, non-materialistic people in Burma for the pressures of Singapore and Australia, it was a timely warning. Everyone in the group had noted the clear inverse relationship between wealth and happiness over the past few weeks.

Our aircraft left at 9 p.m., so after a few hours rest, the group loaded up for the airport and a smooth return flight. There were many happy and relieved faces on students and parents alike on the group's return at Sydney airport early moning on Monday, 14th May.

We were fortunate that there had been no serious health problems during the trip. Students were warned before departure that water (and ice) were not to be consumed, and this was adhered to strictly by some for the entire trip. Some students became a little complacent after a week or so, and as a result of this about half the group experienced mild diarrhoea at some point.

One student was bitten by a street dog in Mandalay. As a precaution, the student was taken to a local doctor, who suggested that he be put on a course of anti-rabies injections. The experience of watching the student being given these anti-rabies injections radially around the navel at the casualty ward of Mandalay General Hospital was an unplanned, unexpected bonus of the study tour.

Several evaluation sessions were held during the study tour, and some excerpts from the last of these sessions are reprinted below:

"I am now more curious, in the sense that I would like to explore more of Burma, study the lives and maybe help and live with some people." (Year 10)

"The trip made me realise how well off we are and how the richer we are, the sadder we become." (Year 9)

"I now respect people who are less fortunate than myself. I will never forget some experiences on this trip." (Year 9)

"I am a different person now because I am aware of what I have in Australia. I am aware of my belongings, my affluent surroundings and my opportunities. This has changed me because it makes me appreciate what I have and it makes me want to help people less affluent than I." (Year 11)

"I developed a sense of belonging to the group, and also of looking after each other." (Year 8)

"Money isn't everything. People I've seen though very poor seem satisfied with what they have." (Year 8)

"After the experience with my passport, I find that I will look after my things more and hope never to have that situation again. Also, I am absolutely sick to the brim of boiled RICE." (Year 9)

"The views on the train trip shocked me. I knew people lived in poor conditions, but I didn't really expect it to be like this." (Year 11)

"The trip has made me really think about religion, which is the right way to go. They are so deep in their religion!" (Year 10)

At Rangoon, the group was asked to comment on the aspect of the study tour which had made the most impact on them up to that time. Some excerpts are reproduced below.

"The highlight of the trip for me is simply meeting new people and seeing how they live." (Year 9)

"The thing that most impressed me was the amount of religion we saw. We've seen thousands of pagodas and although I got sick of them, I was impressed. And the people have a great amount of faith." (Year 10)

"The Shwedagon Pagoda is fantastic. It made a lasting impression." (Year 10)

"The city of Bangkok is filthy. It is so dirty. It stinks and the stench is incredible. Just about all the canals are polluted and there is no life at all. Bangkok is full of salesmen." (Year 10)

"The thing that made the biggest impact on me was the friendliness of the Burmese people. An eight-year old boy even invited me into his home one morning." (Year 8)

"Pagan has its own character. The pagodas are amazing. And when I went for a bike ride, I turned off the road to dirt — it was as if I was riding in Egypt between the pyramids." (Year 10)

"I was impressed by the richness of the gold on temples and images compared with the poverty in the streets. They are rebuilding the pagodas but they are not doing much for the people." (Year 8)

There is no doubt that participation in a study tour such as this required sacrifices to be made, by the students, their families and by the tour leaders. Before the study tour departed, one parent wrote to me, saying:

> "The excitement and joy of this family at the opportunity our boy is being presented with is beyond imagination. We are a farming family: poor by usual social standards but incredibly wealthy by our own. These standards do not provide much in the material sense, but we seem to need less anyway. The chance for young . . . to widen his horizon, to his father and me, is more than precious!"

The question that must come to mind, of course, after an exhausting three weeks such as these is "Was it worth it"? And the answer must be an immediate and vocal YES! The teachers leading the tour believe that being able to share such experiences with the students was one of the most worthwhile things they have ever done as teachers. It was also one of the most tiring! Yet, to see students visibly maturing during the study tour as they were challenged by new sights, smells, sounds, experiences, people, cultures, political systems and religions is an experience that was an absolute joy for teachers to witness, as was the development of a sense of group commitment and caring. Several parents of students on the study tour have remarked that their children have been totally transformed by the experience — they are now more considerate and caring towards others while being much less materialistic within themselves. If that is so (and we believe that it is), then without doubt the "Burma experience" was a worthwhile one!

Seated: P. O'Brien, J. McKay, D. McLennan (C), Mr M. Punch, G. Fisher, J. Donohoe, P. Sheridan.

Captain: D. McLennan.
Vice-Captain: G. Fisher.

> "Fierce mid-day sun upon the ground
> Through heat-haze came the hollow sound
> Of wary bat on ball, to pound
> The devil from it, quell its bound."
> — John Arlott

Unfortunately there was little "fierce mid-day sun" on the Riverview fields as, once again this year J. Pluvius took up his place on the cricket fields as a sort of permanent residence for the season. As a result some teams played only three of the seven games. Nevertheless, there was much to enthuse about when the "hollow sound" was able to be heard.

OPEN

The cricket week before the return to school in First Term revealed the First XI as a team of much depth and talent. Indeed, only against Scots did the team falter, but two complete washouts and one rain-affected draw meant that third place was the position in which they finished the competition.

Duncan McLennan was an inspiring captain and fieldsman and a vastly matured batsman who deserved his selection in the Combined G.P.S. First XI, as did Peter Giffard, a bowler of frightening pace who clean bowled twelve of his fifteen victims. Dom Frawley's devastating displays at the head of the innings and Phil Sheridan's slow left-hand spinners won them selection in the Combined G.P.S. Second XI.

With the wealth of young talent in Year 11 — McKay, O'Brien, Donohoe, Towzell, Shillington — much may be expected next season.

The Second XI, enthusiastically captained by Damian Tynan and coached by Mr K. Garrity, on the other hand, suffered from repeated batting failures right up until the end of the season, when, in the final match, they hit up 204 against Sydney High. In a team which often fielded to low scores, the two spinners, P. Gillespie and S. Thorp, bowled with admirable success and intelligence.

Of the other three open teams the Fourth XI, again undefeated under the astute guidance of Mr Chatfield provided the highlight of the season when they dismissed Scots for ten (10) runs. Richard Kearins (five wickets for 4) and Peter Connor (5 wickets for 5) wreaked the havoc.

Chris Henville's consistent batting was pleasing, but the most pleasure was probably gained by the Fifth XI's 55 minute last wicket partnership to draw the game with Shore.

UNDER 16

This age group was expected to be severely affected by the promotion of five players to the open teams, but, in the truncated season both the A's and B's remained undefeated. In the 16A's, coached by Mr Gillet, six batsmen averaged more than 20 runs each — of whom Paul O'Sullivan was the top scorer — and 5 bowlers shared the spoils almost equally — Rohan Delany's seven for thirty-nine against Grammar was the highlight of their season. Guided by Mr Lees and captained by Morgan Jones the 16B's won all their games by convincing margins. Alex MacDowell, Simon Edwards and Phillip Evans all scored runs regularly but were not able to win places in the strong A side. The C's and D's were mainly a group of enthusiastic boarders from Second Division who brought much keenness and enjoyment to their Saturdays and to their coach, Dr C. Morris.

UNDER 15

There were some fine players in this group. The batting was strong and consistent. In the A's Ben Frawley and Tim Stack made a significant opening stand in each match, culminating in their 93 run stand in the last game against Sydney High. Frawley's 188 runs, Stack's 116 and Andrew Towzell's 105 were testimony to fine techniques and temperaments. Andrew Hall continued to develop as a leg spinner of distinctive ability. In the B's, coached carefully by Mr Castley, Carl Jarrett and Craig O'Brien showed sound batting skills, and Michael Sheridan a tenacious ability to hit the loose ball. Chris Finn's sustained accuracy was rewarded with such fine figures as his 5 for 24 from 16 overs against Scots.

UNDER 14

The effective coaching of Fr. N. Bradford produced an A side worthy of their place at the head of the group. John Davison and Greg Easy were the best batsmen of the group and generally gave the team a good start. Easy's 50 against Shore was the highest score. Despite injuries Sam Mende developed pleasingly as an opening bowler. The B's found runs impossible to find. Incredible as it may seem, only one player averaged more than 10 runs, but the bowling, particularly that of Baggott and O'Sullivan was steady. The C's and D's found batting a little more productive, Malcom Hall's 173 runs for the season was one of the highest returns in the school for the season. His partnership with Adam Thorp of a century was the best of the season.

UNDER 13

The task of sorting out almost a hundred cricketers new to the school fell to the hard working Under 13 coaches, headed by Mr J. Bradshaw. That the age group eventually revealed much talent and potential was due to the attention of these coaches. In the A's John de Carvalho and Adam Smith emerged as talented batsmen who backed their potential with solid scores. Three spinners, Richard Odillo Maher, Tim Odillo Maher and Sam Bennett all showed ability, while Chris Robinson was the pick of the new players.

2nd XI

Seated: S. Byrnes, A. Meagher, D. Tynan (C), Mr K. Garrity, S. Thorp, T. Shillington, E. Flitcroft.

Other teams had much enjoyment from their games and some measure of success. It fell to the 13E's to record the highest team total for the season, with their extraordinary total of four for 259 in two hours against Shore. Chris Delaney in the 13D's was the most outstanding run-scorer of the age group.

11th February v. S.G.S. At Home. Won. S.I.C. 9 for 211. S.G.S. 143 (dec.)

We won the game with 29 balls left for play. After a bad start (2 for 5 and 4 for 35) a good partnership by McLennan and Giffard gave us some chance. From 5 for 135 at lunch we slumped to 7 for 139; then another hard hitting partnership put us well in the game. We declared at 2.09 p.m. Grammar had two hours twenty minutes to bat plus twenty overs. While they had a chance to win, so did we. At tea they were 2/64, but our team lifted itself. An excellent runout in the first over after tea, and another one later, some tight swing bowling from Fisher, two Towzell catches behind and we were home. A fine and very heartening win for the team.

25th February v. S.J.C. Away. Drawn. S.I.C. 4 for 161 (dec.). S.J.C. 4 for 128.

Because of wet weather play did not begin until 1.45 p.m. St. Joseph's, to their delight won the toss and sent us in to bat. We began very well. Frawley's innings of 69 runs in 70 minutes was sparkling cricket. He chanced his arm, certainly, but luck was with him, and after fifty minutes of play the score board read 0 for 80! The fieldsmen had been posted to all parts of the field; the six around the bat early in the game were now all round the boundary. The opening partnership of 91 came in sixty minutes. McLennan added the cream to Frawley's cake and we declared much earlier than we had expected.

Despite a quick over rate, fairly accurate bowling and some good catches (two by I. Harris) St. Joseph's countered well. Their score looked better as we employed few, if any, defensive fieldsmen.

This was a most entertaining game and must have given further heart to the team.

3rd March v. T.S.C. At Home. Lost. S.I.C. 93 and 5 for 55. T.S.C. 6 for 179.

This match had a great bearing on the result of the competition. Had we drawn the match we would have ended the competition as co-premiers. Indeed, a draw, if not a win, seemed likely after the opening 35 minutes of play, when thanks to Frawley, we were scoring at the rate of a run a minute. His quick 30 forced the Scots' Captain to push his fieldsmen back and bring on his change bowler. That was a crucial moment in the game; Frawley lofted a full toss to wide midoff and was caught. McLennan failed — his only blemish in the season — and most of the other batsmen — Fisher excepted — did not apply themselves as they should have. Eight of them were caught as we crashed to a total of 93. Such a paltry total had not seemed possible when we had stamped such authority on the game in the first half hour.

Our bowlers tried manfully. Indeed, they had half of the Scots strong batting side out for 80. Our fielding was excellent, two brilliant run outs resulted. Sheridan was the pick of the bowlers.

Scots scored more quickly once our total was passed and gave us the chance for a second innings.

Scots 4ths, chasing a Riverview total of 152 were at one stage of the game 6 wickets for 1! Their total of 10 is being claimed as a record low in the history of Riverview Open cricket by their coach Mr P. Chatfield. (He is wrong! On one occasion in the '60s our 4ths, coached by the great Barry Ryan, were all out for 1. The single being scored by a rower who was angariated into playing when the eleventh man of our team failed to turn up for the game. Editor)

We found ourselves again batting first, after McLennan had lost his fourth toss. Again Frawley and O'Brien set us on our way briskly. The opening partnership of 48 was posted in 47 minutes. McLennan and Giffard then consolidated, after McKay had again failed. Both batted soundly so that we were 5 for 117 at lunch. Our mid-order batsmen then showed their wares. Harris, Towzell, Fisher and Sheridan all scored quickly with some fine, aggressive batting. 77 runs were scored in 56 minutes after lunch.

Shore lost two quick wickets, but then their batting gathered momentum and they went to three for 103 and four for 129. With twenty overs remaining the final 66 runs appeared a mere formality. But fielding gave fine support to our tight bowling. McLennan led by example, taking two brilliant catches off successive balls — one in slips from Giffard's bowling, the other a running catch at deep mid off from Sheridan's bowling. Giffard's great pace and Sheridan's guile saw Shore slump to 8 for 151 and for the final six overs they defended grimly. To swing the game round in the last hour of play was a fine team effort from our side.

17th March v. S.H.S. at Home. Won. S.I.C. 3 for 97 and 7 for 102. S.H.S. 93 and 6 for 108.

This was a thrilling and memorable game quite in keeping with the matches between Riverview and High in recent years. We won the toss and sent High in to bat. Giffard in a fine display clean bowled five batsmen. High's innings ended at lunch (12 o'clock) off our 54 overs.

Our aim was to score the necessary runs for a first inning victory in 20 overs. Unfortunately for us it took High 80 minutes to bowl the 19 overs in which we reached 95 for 3 wickets. At that score the captain declared. Frawley (30) and McLennan (35) were again in fine form.

High entered into the spirit of the game, posted their 100 runs in 122 minutes and finally, after four of the last twenty overs had been bowled, closed their innings. We had bowled another 48 overs. Fisher recorded the fine figures of 4 for 25 from 13 overs.

We needed 107 runs for victory from 13 overs — an average of 8.23 runs an over. Ours was an outstanding innings. Balls were hit to every part of the ground; three runs came from a slowly hit ball to mid off, a further three leg byes were scored from a ball which brushed a pad and went through to the keeper. Four towering sixes were hit (three by McLennan) and four fours. All the other runs were scored from intense running between the wickets. High for their part kept bowling at the stumps and were put under extreme pressure. They dropped several catches, but held some excellent ones. There were three run outs. When the dust subsided we found ourselves just five runs short of an outright win. All agreed it was a game they would never forget.

P.S. The High coach several weeks later admitted that in timing his team's declaration he believed that he was giving Riverview 16 overs to play, having forgotten that three overs were to be lost in the change over period!!!

The games against Kings (18th February) and Newington (24th March) were not played because of wet weather.

JUNIOR SCHOOL CRICKET

The Junior School fielded nine teams in what was for most of them a frustrating season. It was difficult to get matches against other schools for some of the teams, and often when games were arranged rain prevented any play. 27 games were unplayed for one or other of these reasons.

Despite their frustration coaches and boys carried on manfully at practice; skills were developed and team spirit and enthusiasm ran high.

The most successful team was the Under 12 As who played four games and won them all, and on each occasion they succeeded in getting the opposing team out.

There results were:

S.I.C.	5 for 139 declared	v. S.G.S.	44
	121	v. T.S.C.	52
	85	v. S.C.E.G.S.	74
	190	v. S.H.S.	48

Gerrard Perrignon, the best batsman, had two good innings of 43 n.o. and 30 n.o. Chris Dougall, the best bowler had the excellent figures of 5/6 in one and 3/7 in another.

The Bs played only two games against other schools. The game against S.J.C. was drawn, S.I.C. 6/101, S.J.C. 9/87. The other game against S.C.E.G.S. was won 81-25.

Toby Tancred did best with the bat: 25 n.o. and 20. Chris Hansen in one match took 3/14.

The Cs played only one outside school, Knox, and won 110-41. Their best batsman was Andrew O'Kane, the best bowler Bill Haddrill.

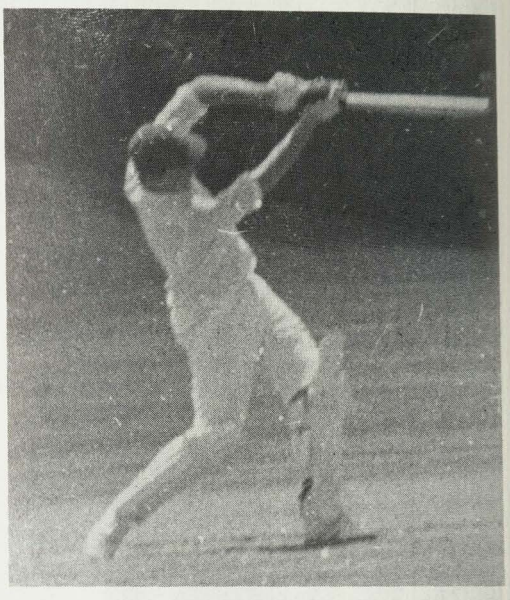

The Ds played no game at all, but had an excellent record for attendance at practice and showed great keenness for the game.

The Under 11 As played only two games, so too, did the Bs. The As defeated S.G.S. Prep, but lost to Waverley. J. Keighery distinguished himself as a fine 'keeper and M. Hill led the team very capably. The Bs lost both games. Their best batsman was C. McElhone who made 23 against S.G.S. P. Booth, their bowler, and their best all-rounder was B. Graham.

The Prep 1st lost their opening match, then developed into a well-disciplined team and won the other three matches that they played. Julian O'Neil was a consistently good batsman, with scores of 29 n.o., 25 and 25 n.o. M. Ward took wickets, on one occasion 3 for 8, on another 4 for 11.

The Prep 2nds did not fare so well. They lost the four games they played, but their enthusiasm never wavered, nor their good behaviour and courtesy to one another, their coach and the visiting teams. D. Hazard was a reliable opener, W. Ryan the best bowler.

The Under 10s was a group of newcomers with no experience of playing teams who had been together for a season or two. Of the four games they played they won one. The top scorer was C. Fraunfelter, their best bowler B. Lynch who also took many good catches.

The 1984 season proved to be a successful and exciting one.

Our success was clearly evident in the improved performances and placings at the various invitation carnivals.

The excitement of our team reached a fever pitch when Michael Delany, our team captain last year, was selected to represent Australia at the Los Angeles Olympic Games in the men's individual 100 metres freestyle and the 4 × 100 metres relay, after being placed second in the 100 metres at the Olympic trials.

Nicholas Pagent (U13) added to our excitement by establishing himself as one of the most outstanding future backstroke prospects in the State. He also had an outstanding inter-school season.

John Studdert, our team camptain, was a dominant figure in our success this year. He led the team with great determination and vigour, and was a fine example to all with his dedication and improvement through the year. He was ably assisted by our vice-captain Michael Southan.

Our senior swimmers would have won the G.P.S. relay even several times but for the strength of Sydney Grammar. Thanks to Tony Unwin, Simon Lennon and our two "Year 13" swimmers, John Ward and Simon Dominguez.

Our junior team was also very strong with the Webb brothers, Brian Curtis, and, of course, Nicholas Pagent leading the way.

Probably the most commendable feature of the season was the way in which many fellows who are involved in other sports on Saturday "doubled up" to swim on Saturday night. Nick McDonald, Chris Hammond and Justin Herlihy were typical examples.

With enthusiasm and spirit like this, the future of swimming at Riverview is assured.

— V. Lowry
Coach.

House Swimming Carnival

The School House swimming carnival was held this year at the Lane Cove Pool on the night of February 28. The carnival began at 7.30 p.m. and was finished by 9.30 p.m. While the weather was not quite sub-zero there was a certain coolness in the air which tested even the stout of heart, especially if they were wearing only swimming costumes. Still, despite this difficulty the carnival was most enjoyable with a spirit of rivalry and camaraderie.

The competition was close in two areas: at the top and bottom of the score board. This meant that while some teams were struggling to remain on top others were locked in combat, trying to keep off the bottom of the ladder. The overall results depended eventually on the last relays and this maintained the interest right to the end of the carnival. The final results were:

Cheshire	124	Campion	70
Southwell	122	Ricci	68
Xavier	100	Owen	56
Claver	72	More	54

Over the past few years the school has had some very good swimmers, not the least of whom is Michael Delany. (We wish him well this year, as he swims for Australia at the Olympic Games.) Consequently the school has some outstanding times and records. While none of these records were broken on this night some fine performances were witnessed.

1st Eight

Vice-Captain: R. Beniac.
Committeeman: S. Duggan.

The 1984 rowing season ended on Saturday 31st March with our senior crews competing in the G.P.S. Regatta at Penrith. It was a day of rejoicing for the magnificent performance of our Fours, but tinged with sadness for the Eights which did not produce their true form. The support given by the school on the banks of the Nepean was truly inspiring: the Club thanks all those who came to Penrith to cheer our crews.

The send-off by the school in the quadrangle the previous Thursday was probably the most rousing ever given to Riverview crews. It was well-organized, enthusiastic and most encouraging. Those who planned it showed real imagination.

Our crews stayed at St. Columba's Retreat Centre at Springwood, where they were very well cared for. There was a separate room for each oarsman, the meals were appetising, the helpings were larger than most could eat. All crews were generous in helping with the washing-up and the laying of tables after each meal. St. Columba's has a beautiful Chapel, where we were able to offer Mass together, asking God to bless our efforts on the river and to draw us closer to Him and to one another.

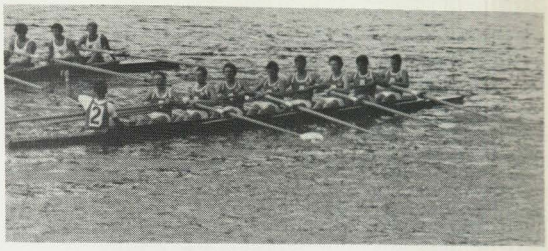

A mishap to the First Eight at the very start of the Head of the River caused the crew to lose a length and a half in the first five strokes. After that they made a gallant bid to regain the ground they had lost and succeeded in moving up to third place. But the effort needed to do this was so great that the crew dropped back in the closing stages of the race. This First Eight which had given us so much pleasure during the rowing season by their performances at the various club regattas deserved a better fate. We will remember, not their last race, but the series of victories that preceded it. They did great credit to the school and to their dedicated coach, Denis Rowe.

Competition among Second Eights was strong this year. Shore produced another fine crew and High, coached by Fred Fullerton, was also strong. Like the First Eight, our Second Eight had given several fine performances in earlier regattas, but their row at the G.P.S. Regatta left them feeling disappointed. They had trained hard, they cooperated fully with their coaches, Bob Wilkinson and Brian Casey, they had no reason to be ashamed. Simon Winston-Smith rowed in this crew. In 1983 he had been the stroke of the First Eight, but this year his size prevented him from retaining his place in the First Eight, and his enthusiastic efforts in the Second Eight were an example to all.

M. Hallmann (Cox), P. Ingram, N. Fish, M. Backhouse, J. O'Loughlin, S. Duggan, G. Larbalestier, R. Campbell, S. Winston-Smith.

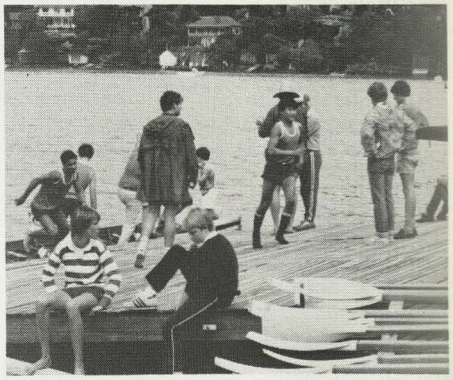

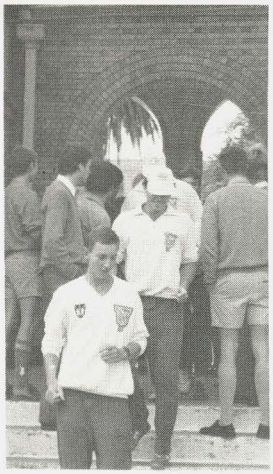

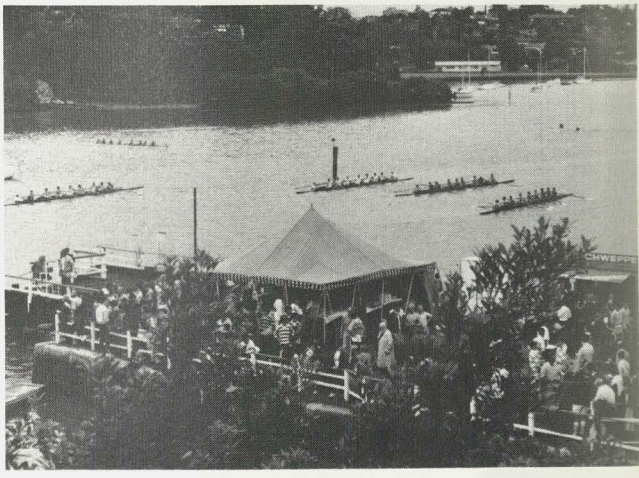

The First Four was coached by Don Shiell. They began quietly, but they improved steadily as the season progressed, and they felt that their performance on the Nepean was their best for the season. They came a close third after a courageous effort by each individual. They had reached their peak at the right time, but were not strong enough to carry off the Yaralla Cup.

Some have said that the Second Four's row on the Nepean was the best of the day. Their training had been interfered with by illness and the temporary loss of members of the crew. But inspired by their coaches, Ed Fessey and John Loneragan who drove them relentlessly, they started off again after each set-back with even greater determination. Their row in the G.P.S. Regatta will long be remembered for the sheer courage they showed.

What a finish! This was the comment made by so many after Shore and St. Ignatius had crossed the line in the Third Fours' Race. These crews had battled their way down the course, refusing to give ground, and it seemed impossible to separate them as they crossed the line. Unfortunately the judge's decision did not favour us—we were beaten by a third of a second. Mark Williams in his first year as a coach could be proud of his achievement. His crew had won their heat and the final at the Gold Cup Regatta and were only beaten by the narrowest of margins on the Nepean.

The Fourth Four, coached by Les Kirkpatrick, began the season with a win in their first regatta, and they performed consistently during the season. Their courage almost gained them second place at the Head of the River. They had hoped to emulate our Fourth Four of 1983 by being first across the line, but Shore were too strong.

The Club boated several Novice Fours during the season, and they were well coached by Graham Normoyle and Peter Hardy. The First Novice Four was victorious in several Club Regattas.

There were three Junior Eights coached by Charles Rowe and Michael Maher. There was much promising material in this group and the training they received will prove valuable when they move up to senior crews in 1985. The best performed of these crews was the Third Junior Eight.

The Senior Tubs numbered nine crews, coached by Peter Wright, Gregory Haines, Eric Longley, Pat Mann and Stephen Loneragan. They competed in all the school regattas and earned high praise on Gold Cup Day when, despite having to boat away from their pontoon, they were in time for all their events. The Seventh Tub was the outstanding performer for the season: the crew won medals at several regattas.

The Junior Tubs were under the command of Father Gorman, Philip Lee and Michael McGlynn. These crews were made up of beginners. Judging by the way they raced on Gold Cup Day, they had been well coached.

There were not as many scullers as in previous years, mainly due to the difficulty of keeping all our sculls in good repair. Our best performer for the season was Pat Hore.

It is true to say that we began this season with real trepidation: we had lost those two stalwarts, Father John Ramsay and Colin MacEntyre, and people wondered how we could cope. Both Father John and Col had been successful coaches who had kept abreast of all the latest developments in rowing technique. They had the ability to motivate and to inspire. The deep, personal interest they took in every boy made them confidants and friends of so many rowers.

That the Club was able to cope with the loss of two such great men was due to a superb team effort on the part of our coaches and our rowers led by the Captain of Boats, Richard Campbell and Reg Beniac. The present Rowing Master cannot praise too highly the cooperation and support he received from coaches, boys, parents and old-boys during the season. The young old-boys who lifted our Fours to such great performances deserve special mention.

That there was little interruption to our training during the season was due to our Maintenance Team who served the Club so faithfully. Bill Clements, our Boat Carpenter, generously put off his trip to Hong Kong till after the Regattas, so that he would be available right through the season. Chris O'Brien took some of his annual leave at the time of the Gold Cup and the Head of the River Regatta and worked tirelessly from the Wednesday before the Gold Cup till the Monday after the G.P.S. Regatta. It is no wonder that he was awarded a Gold Oar by the Club in his final year at school in return for all that he had done. Mark Madigan, Chris's successor, showed great dedication in his care of our motor-boats and coaches' equipment throughout the season. He was assisted by Brendan Jones, Michael Tinning and Matthew Tynan.

Some events during the rowing season deserve to be remembered. That renowned coach of the First Eight in former years, Noel Hammond, died and was buried from the College Chapel on Monday 26th March. It was good to see so many of our rowers both past and present in attendance at his Requiem. The Club will remember Noel with admiration and deep gratitude for all that he did for Riverview over the years. Right up to the time of his last illness he came to the sheds each Saturday to help Father Gorman with the coaching of our beginners. He loved Riverview, and Riverview saw in him a true friend.

The Fathers-Sons Rowing Dinner was an outstanding success once again. The Memorial Hall had been beautifully decorated for the occasion by rowers and their mothers. Mothers waited on the tables, and though they had to work hard with so many diners, they still seemed to enjoy the speeches and the good-humour that prevailed during the evening. We are deeply indebted to them and to the staff of Nationwide for making the dinner so enjoyable. Special thanks are also due to Julian Campbell, Alison Shillington and other mothers who provided food for the hungry at so many Regattas during the season.

Father Frank Gorman, author of Rowing at Riverview which was published to mark the Centenary of the Boat Club, again showed his talent by producing a beautiful supplement to the Gold Cup Regatta Programme to mark the One Hundredth Regatta. It was admired by all who saw it on Gold Cup Day and requests for copies of it have been coming in ever since. The text contains much interesting information about the history of the Regatta, while the photographs make those early days on the Lane Cove live for us. The Club is also indebted to Morris Lees, Margo Doyle and Margaret Collins for the printing and the typing of the Programme for the Gold Cup Regatta.

Finally mention must be made of the Gold Cup Regatta. We were delighted to welcome Father Ramsay and two crews from Xavier and Hubert Frederico and his crew from St. Kevin's. Unfortunately the weather leading up to the Regatta was simply appalling. At nine-thirty on the morning itself the Rowing Master from Shore came over to ask whether we would cancel the Regatta, since rain was still pouring down. The previous night all the tarpaulins to provide shelter at Cova Cottage had been carried away by the wind and John Evans, Barry McDonnell and our maintenance men had to work into the small hours with Warwick Knight to repair the damage. The Regatta was due to start at ten o'clock, and between ten and the last race at four-thirty not a drop of rain fell. The Hundredth Regatta turned out to be one of the most enjoyable we have had. TENNIS

After the years of success in 1982 and 1983 the results of this year's open competition were relatively disappointing for the First Grade. They finished the season in sixth place, well behind the premiers, The King's School. The Second Grade team, defending champions, had a more successful time. They finished runners up to The King's School, by the narrow margin of 2½ points after the seven rounds of the competition. We congratulate The King's School on their double victory — a feat achieved by Riverview in 1983.

"An unfinished loss" against S.J.C. was the only defeat of the team. Sean Patterson was undefeated in singles play. Michael Paul was the most improved player of the team.

3rd Grade

The team of A. Wilson, D. Burke, P. Duffy and J. Irvin lost only one match in the season. Andrew Wilson was the most improved player of the group, and played with the 1sts for the N.C. match.

4th Grade

The team of S. Shepherd, M. Kelly, D. Clark and A. Green was undefeated in the four competition matches they played. The most improved player was Steve Shepherd.

Under 16

The A team, Adam Phillips, Nicholas McDonald, Stuart Rathborne and Andrew McFadden, were undefeated in the season. They won five of the six rounds they played six sets to O. Phillips was the best player of the group. In each of the other teams the best players were: Andrew Meehan (16B), Malcolm Shackell (16C), Andrew Huntington (16D) and Matthew Madden (16E). Two of the seven matches, those against Kings and Newington, were washed out. Of the remaining five matches the B team won four, the Cs won three, so too did the Ds. The 16E team played four matches, in one only of which they were successful, that against St. Joseph's.

The Under 15s were a strong group this year, but they were unfortunate to have only one team, the B's go through the season undefeated. The A's had four players — M. Fox, D. O'Meara, A. Richards, B. Spurrett — of about the same high standard. So close were they in ability that it appeared, at times, that they were keener to have the captaincy of the team than to defeat their opponents. It was Sydney High who beat them narrowly in the last match of the season and so deprived them of an undefeated pennant. But it was an important lesson for the A's aggressive play is not the only way to win matches, and they must develop greater patience and consistency if they are to beat players who aim to do no more than get the ball back into play.

The B team — L. Rathborne (C), A. Keighery, J. Terry and J. Kwan — were the group's only undefeated team. As their play was of a consistently high standard they deserved their pennant. The C's and D's also did well. But teams would have been undefeated but for the fact that they were playing one man short in the fixtures which they lost. Lack of commitment to the team on the part of a couple of players robbed these teams of their pennants.

Some of the E's and F's are to be commended particularly on their consistent presence at training despite the fact that very few matches could be arranged for them during the season.

There were three teams: The A's: I. Johnston (C), M. Hunter, D. Batty and S. Curtis; the B's: R. Webb (C), J. Bull, A. Christie, T. Van Rol; The C's: P. Breslin, S. Holland, S. Evans, P. Cameron.

Wet, rainy Saturdays prevented the teams from playing against any more than four of the G.P.S. teams and all three teams were undefeated during the season.

Against Grammar who were unbeaten in the previous third term practice the A's won by 24 games to 23, after the sets were 3-3. This was the only match the B team lost in the season (2-4) while the C's and D's won handsomely.

The Grammar day was the most exciting of the year. Shore, High and Scots could not take a set from our players in any team.

Under 13

There were four teams in this group, The A's and B's from the Senior School, the C's and D's from the Junior.

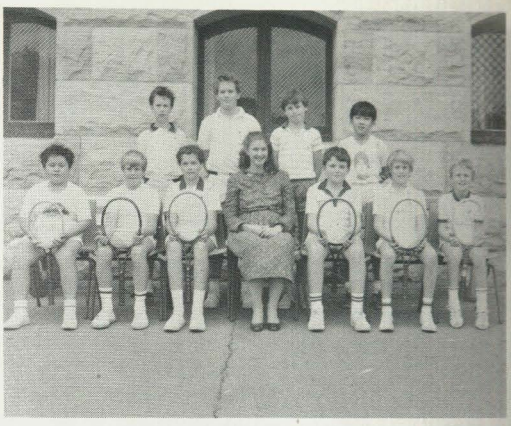

The teams were:

The teams played only four matches during the season, against Kings and Scots, in which all four acquitted themselves very creditably and won all eight games. Their best players were M. Heny, S. Wickman and J. Rowley.

The boys in the Riverview Amateur Sailing Club can be proud of the progress they have made since the Club's inception just last year.

We now have five sailing boats (3 Flying 11's, 1 Swinger and 1 Gypsy), and we also have our own rescue boat and a 10 h.p. outboard.

As well as several races within the Club, we have taken part in one race against St. Joseph's (we lost) and another schoolboy regatta at the Woollahra Sailing Club, where we came fourth in a field of about twelve schools. We had the largest entry on the day!

Our first sailing camp was a huge success — thanks to the unselfish assistance of many parents who provided transport and helped in other ways. It was held off Lake Macquarie, where the boys had a very happy weekend.

As well as developing their sailing expertise, the boys, by carrying the boats down to the shore from where they were stored, some 150 yards away, have also developed their muscles!

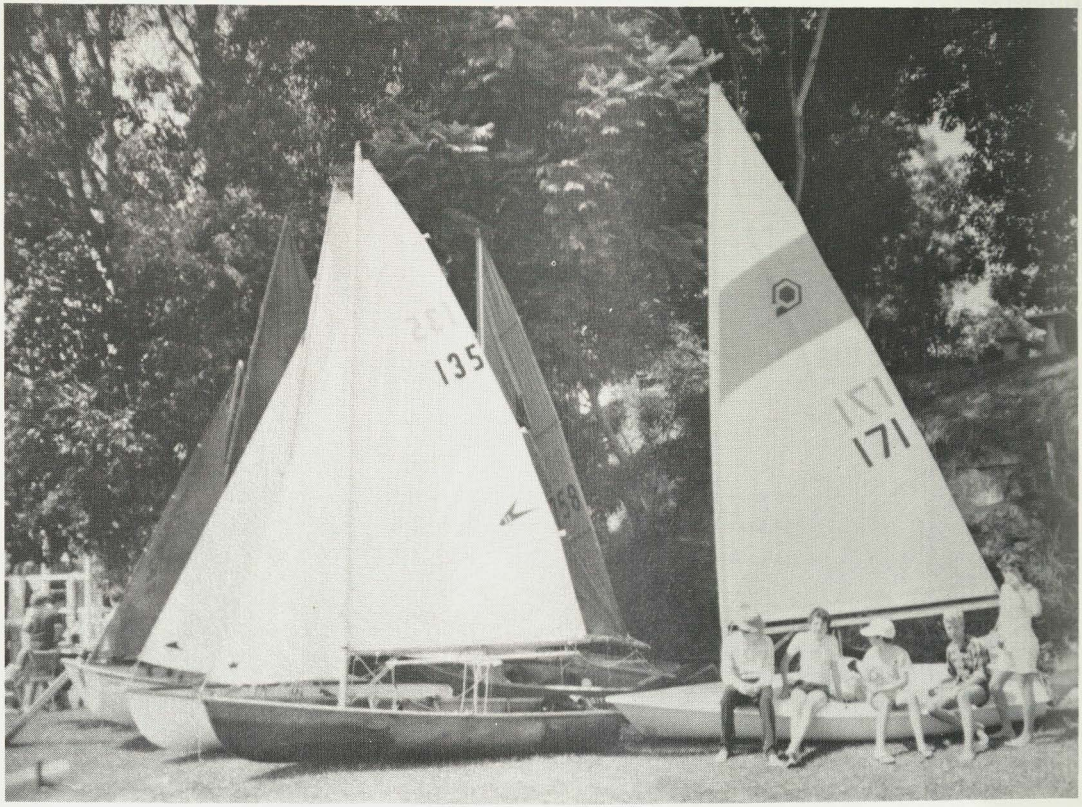

Membership numbers forty — half of that number combine sailing with some other sport.

Our first captain is Chris Terry who is ably assisted by Pat MacQuillan and Philip Drury, our first two "mates". These boys are always around to assist in any way possible to keep things flowing. Our Captain provided fine leadership at the Camp and on the cruise aboard "Buccaneer", an ex-Sydney-Hobart yacht, which provided us with a most enjoyable day on Sydney Harbour by the kind courtesy of the Morgan Family (Scott, Year 9).

Boys who previously knew nothing about sailing are now skippering boats and others have become expert crews. In other words, many boys have been introduced to a sport in which previously they had had no opportunity to participate; this was our objective and it has been achieved.

With the new boatshed soon to be commenced, we hope to go on to bigger and better things, as is the Riverview tradition.

Absent: A. O'Reilly.

Twenty teams took to the courts each week, which meant that two hundred boys and twelve coaches took part in the sport and enjoyed their work and play. The boys themselves are, to a large extent, responsible for the smooth running of the sport. Each week of the competition they keep the time and the scores of each game and help with the refereeing.

I appreciate all they do and thank them for the support they have so unselfishly given. I thank the coaches who have all worked hard and have often given up their spare time for such things as coaching courses. All our referees have completed the Level 1 Basketball Coaching Certificate Practical Course, and some have completed the higher level courses, as well.

There were four undefeated teams during the season, Fourths, Fifths, Under 15 A and B teams. The Under 15 group, with all their wins, look promising for future years and we wish them continued success.

Five players returned from last year's side and provided the team with a solid nucleus of experienced players, so that we had high hopes for a good side. The results of the trial games proved anything but bright and though many changes were made in the team in preparation for the camp our hopes were somewhat dashed and some doubts about the strength of the side were entertained. Losses to North Sydney Boys' High, St. Aloysius and Shore were disappointing, but they showed where our weaknesses were and helped greatly in the final structure of the side. Good wins against Oakhill and Knox confirmed positional changes that we made.

For the first time since 1980 we had a sizeable pack — such a component of a team if it is to be a force in the highly competitive G.P.S. competition is essential.

The front line of A. Magrath, S. O'Dea and R. Campbell formed a successful platform for the scrum (the laws for which were modified after the second round of the competition. S. O'Dea, inspired by two generations of 1st XV players (grandfather and father) carried on the tradition of winning tight heads. It was not surprising that this trio were selected to play in the Combined G.P.S. teams or that A. Magrath was picked for the Second N.S.W. side.

The experience of J. Ward and the physical attributes of P. Giffard gave us a forceful second row and were the source of valuable possession in the line outs.

The tight five became a well-drilled pack in rucks and mauls and provided good quality ball for the backs. They perfected the skill of surrendering territory for controlled possession.

Our flankers, B. Ireland and P. Weston, lived up to Riverview's fine tradition of excellent back rowers both in the skill of reading the game and with maximum efficiency the technique of pressurising backs. P. Weston was selected to play in the G.P.S. Thirds and injuries to B. Ireland towards the end of the season cost him the chance of the same honour. P. Weston was awarded the J.E. Hayes Trophy for the best forward.

A. Dempsey, playing for the third year in the Firsts, captained the side for the second time with experienced leadership and example. Many will remember his lock forward games, but especially his fine display against Kings. He was selected to play for the Combined G.P.S. Firsts and his withdrawal through illness from the game against C.A.S. cost him his place in the N.S.W. Firsts. He had to resign himself for the second year to be picked for the N.S.W. Seconds. He was awarded 'The Arnold Tancred Trophy' for best and fairest player — an honour earned for the second time.

During the season the backs were plagued with injuries and several changes in position had to be made. J. Hunter and D. Prichard showed their versatility by playing out of position. Both of them had played in the Firsts last year and accepted their changes for the good of the team. J. Hunter undertook the fullback role with the same enthusiasm with which he played. He brought attack into the backline with each visit and successfully took on the role of goal kicker. D. Prichard was moved from five-eight to the centres when J. White was injured in the Shore game. He was selected for the G.P.S. Thirds.

S. Thorp can take pride in winning the J.E. Hayes Trophy for the best back, from a line up of many fine players. Accurate passing, the ability to work the blind side effectively and to kick high in front of the forwards were characteristic trade marks of his fine play.

Our supporters will long remember R. Kearins' field goal that snatched the game away from Shore 7-6 in the last few seconds before full time. He maintained that skill throughout the season and dictated our plan of play.

Our wingers N. Breslin and W. Cummins scored seven of the twelve competition tries, gained valuable ground with elusive pace and finished off moves with their individual skills. Cummins' five tries against Sydney High has entered our record books as the highest number of tries scored by one of our players in the G.P.S. Competition. Jim Fitzgerald holds the record of six tries, scored in 1895 against Shore, but that was before the G.P.S. Competition had begun. W. Cummins was selected for the combined G.P.S. First XV and the N.S.W. second side.

M. Eather played the season with great promise and gained valuable experience that should stand him in good stead next season.

Other players who represented in the Firsts when the regular members were injured must be thanked for their contribution towards a successful season.

Many people must be mentioned for the services during the term.

We thank Dr John Frawley for the care he showed to members of the team and the many hours he spent watching over their safety.

Our appreciation is extended to Mrs Cheok for her professional help and guidance throughout the winter and for the use of her physiotherapy equipment.

Damien Scroope has again spent a season drilling the forwards and moulding them into the forceful unit we have come to expect from his coaching. We thank him for his time.

James Rodgers continues to write accounts of the games as only he can do. He has completed his fourteenth season and we express publicly our appreciation.

Our thanks go to Ken Watson for his services with the backs and to Nick Wright for his video work of the game.

The coach is grateful to Mr G. Whealing for his continued support and co-operation.

We regret that there is no record, apart from the Firsts and Seconds, of the senior school football. No reports or results were handed in.

SECOND XV

For the third time only since the competition began in 1904 have our Second Fifteen won the competition; the previous occasions were in 1961 and 1980.

This year we won 6 of our 7 games, scored 132 points 'for' to 48 points 'against', and shared the premiership with Shore.

The final points table for the competition was:

S.I.C.	12	N.C.	6
S.C.E.G.S.	12	T.S.C.	6
T.K.S.	11	S.G.S.	2
S.J.C.	9	S.H.S.	0

Apart from the game against Kings in which we led 16-0 at half time and then, almost unbelievably, saw Kings score 4 tries in the first nine minutes of the second half, the Seconds had only 28 points scored against them in the other six games.

They played fine attacking football. The fact that 15 of their 19 tries were scored by the backs — 9 of them by the wingers — speaks for itself. A. Meagher (4 tries) and T. Flanery (3 tries) were the leading try scorers, while R. Kearins with 5 goals, 5 penalty goals, 1 drop goal and 1 try (31 points) was the team's leading scorer.

The team provided their supporters with some fine moments. Few will forget the game in which they defeated Shore 33-6. This was an historic win, since this was Shore's first defeat in Second XV competition games since 1982! Equally memorable was the 11-4 victory against St. Joseph's, a game in which Andrew Meagher scored two tries.

The success of the team was due to a combination of many factors: their physical fitness (not one player missed a game through injury), the open, attacking style of rugby they adopted plus the great enthusiasm and team spirit of all the players.

I congratulate them on their premiership and on the high standard of sportsmanship which they displayed. I congratulate, also, Shore, our co-premiers.

The best and fairest award went to Damian Tynan, breakaway and Captain to the team, the best back to Duncan McLennan, fullback, the best forward to Todd Murphy, second row.

The point scorers in the competition games were:

Tries (19): Meagher 4, Flanery 3, Kehoe 2, Flynn 2, Schell, Thackray, Kearins, McLennan, Murphy, Dominguez, Shepherd and O'Rourke 1.
Penalty Goals: Kearins 5, McKay 5.
Drop Goals: Kearins 1, McKay 1.
Goals: Kearins 5, McKay 4, McLennan 1.

2nd June v N.C. Away. Lost 12-18

S.I.C. 1 converted try, 2 penalty goals. N.C. 3 converted tries.

The way in which to squander a lead and lose a match by poor play was never better demonstrated than by our play in the second half of this game. Rarely have our games in the opening round of the competition been characterised by sustained effort and this game was no exception.

After Newington had attempted unsuccessfully to kick two penalty goals and after a period in which we appeared to have the better of the Newington scrum and to have them effectively trapped in their own territory, primarily because of Prichard's kicking, our first try came in pleasant circumstances. White's fierce tackle of his opposing centre sent the ball spilling away to be snapped up by our backs who made wide passes to Breslin on the left wing. His infield pass found Weston in position who dived over the line and scored. Hunter's kick from five metres in from the side line was successful (6-0). With Dempsey controlling the forward exchanges most effectively we managed to bottle Newington in their own half long enough for Hunter to kick two penalties (12-0). Just before half time their winger's centre kick bounced tantalisingly and then cruelly away from our two covering players into the arms of their breakaway who scored in the shadow of the posts (12-6).

Relentless pressure was applied with much enthusiasm by Newington for long periods during the first 25 minutes of the second half. Firstly, Hunter's clearing kick was charged down and their half back scrambled over near the posts (12-12).

Then a line out became a maul from which a Newington forward emerged and ploughed his way across the line (12-18). Our play became desperate, filled with panic. Ireland and Magrath made long runs, but their five-eight kept us backtracking by his powerful kicks to the open spaces. Mistakes and careless errors riddled our play until a few moments just before the end of play. For the first time we were back in their quarter when Breslin broke away down the left wing and sped for the line. He actually crossed the line but had the ball jolted from his hands by a last ditch tackle and our chance was lost. Injuries to White and Giffard and the wasted opportunity when a tap was taken from a penalty ten minutes before the end were only part of this second half of frustration and lack of disciplined play.

9th June v T.K.S. At home. Won 12-3

S.I.C. 1 converted try, 1 penalty, 1 drop goal. T.K.S. 1 penalty.

If history was to count for anything we approached this game secure in the knowledge that since 1962 we had lost only 6 competition games to Kings. If memories of last week's disappointments lingered still we must have been apprehensive about our ability to hold an undoubtedly bigger and stronger side who had won their game in the first round.

Our play during a first half that lacked sparkle displayed this apprehension and the tentative nature of both sides' attack made for some dull viewing. Both sides exchanged penalty goals — Riverview's kicked by the unerring Hunter — but there was little else to enthuse about when the half-time bell was rung and the score board showed 3-3. This was not to deny the excellence of our defence, with Dempsey to the fore in a quite masterly display of a lock's game. His covering tackles were inspirational, his head on tackles fearless and his attack, in a game of such limited moves, creative.

As captain he moved the team to put on their best half of football to date in a second half in which we had to counter the losses of Campbell, replaced by the tireless Murphy, and Giffard, replaced by the tyro Crawford. It was Hunter's try half way through the half which Hunter himself converted that inspired us to great deeds. It came at a time when it seemed that we had lost the ability to cross the line. In the five minutes before he scored, we possibly should have scored at least twice, but the final pass was lacking either support or direction (9-3). The six point lead was extended to 9 when Prichard whose game had been helped by the sure-fire passing of Thorp and the protection of an ubiquitous backrow of Weston, Ireland and Dempsey punched over a drop goal ten minutes before the end and put the result beyond doubt (12-3).

The win was both welcome and pleasant. It contained a mixture of more confident positive Rugby during the second half and a measure of determination and commitment which had been lacking during last week's disappointment.

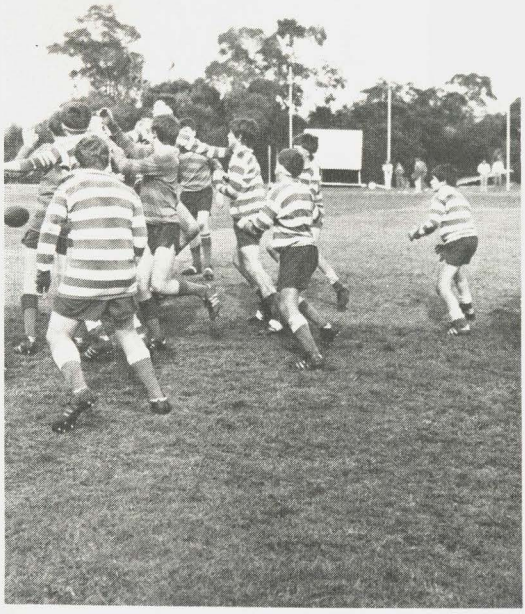

16th June v S.G.S. Away. Won 17-9

S.I.C. 2 tries, 3 penalties. S.G.S. 1 converted try, 1 penalty.

After such a sterling effort in the previous game we must have approached this game with some confidence. However, it seemed that overconfidence would rule the day as we squandered most opportunities and the plethora of possession which we won. For the first time, we played under the amendment to the laws which did not allow for pushing in the scrums. This was undoubtedly to our disadvantage against a smaller pack who stuck tenaciously to their task and disrupted our attacking raids with a defence of much character. The most remarkable occurrence in a first half which was replete with errors was Hunter's missed goals — the first he had missed for three weeks. He kicked his first attempt five minutes after the game began after Prichard's punts had pinned Grammar in their own half, but then missed each of his other shots during the first half. Cummins scored in the opposite corner from his own wing after a scrum win and clever work by Prichard. With much deft ball control Ward and Weston then combined to send Weston over for his second try of the season just before half time (11-0).

Sadly that was to be one of the last passages of enterprise in a game which grew more and more pedestrian. Penalty goals were swapped early in this half (14-3), but our play showed signs of staleness and sameness. The forwards through Magrath, Ireland and Dempsey did their jobs, but a little extra commitment seemed to be missing. The backs shovelled out passes diligently but seemed to make little progress. It seems an extraordinary waste that play should break down during third phase movements. Hunter completed our scoring for the day midway into this half with his third penalty goal (17-3), but Grammar had the joyous last say as they punctured our defence with some enterprising passing, scored near the right corner post and converted from there to end a decidedly satisfactory performance on their part.

23rd June v S.C.E.G.S. Away. Won 7-6

S.I.C. 1 try, 1 field goal. Shore 2 penalty goals.

Nothing that happened in the first sixty minutes of this game could match the last minutes of the day for excitement and tension.

A rather dull first half, during which Shore's penalty was the only score and White's serious injury meant that Prichard moved to centre and Kearins made his debut at five-eight, gave way to a second half of increasingly urgent play. Although the sky was all blue and unclouded both sides were guilty of contributing to the dull nature of the match by kicking without discretion or much thought. However, it was Breslin's try down the left wing when there were only ten minutes left which brought the game alive. He dived and just crept in at the corner and gave us the lead (4-3). When we gave away a penalty with five minutes left and when the Shore kicker carefully piloted the ball through the posts it seemed that the match was lost to us.

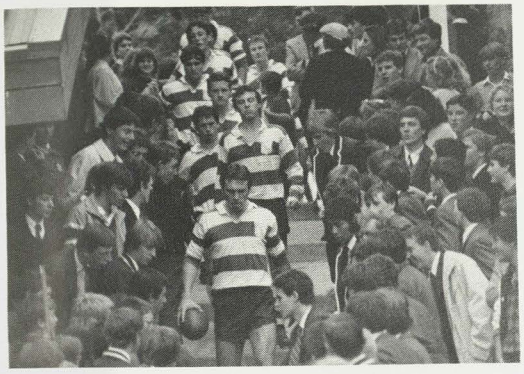

Historically we had rarely rallied in the last minutes to save a match when we were behind, and there was little to suggest that we would do so here. Despite Thorp's strong game our backs lacked initiative. Despite Dempsey's influence the forwards had made little impression on the awesome Shore pack. Kearins' two attempted field goals had swung wide. There seemed few avenues left for a comeback. One last effort brought us to Shore's half and desperate measures were called for. The referee, Mr Jones, took a hurried look at his watch which revealed that thirty seconds remained for play as we won a scrum thirty-five metres out. Kearins swung his left foot out and, to the amazement of all, sent the ball skimming over the bar to give us a 7-6 lead. So close was this to full time that there was no time left for a kick off and we had won a most improbable and unexpected victory.

7th July v S.J.C. At home. Lost 0-17

S.I.C. 0, S.J.C. 3 tries, one conversion, 1 penalty.

In alarmingly bare statistics this was our biggest losing margin to St Joseph's since 1959 when we had lost 3-23. It was also the third successive year in which we failed to score a try against them, who themselves, had had four seasons of such success that they had not lost a competition game during that time.

Despite the convincing look of the final score, we were not without chances, particularly the four penalty goals that were missed in the first half, but they were chances on which we were not able to capitalise. It needed just one of those penalties to go over and surely we would have emerged revitalised in the second half. As it was, St Joseph's kicked their first penalty attempt and scored a strong forward try during this first half where, despite all our endeavours, we could make little impression and they, with increasing confidence, continued to make inroads. Injuries hit us cruelly in this game, but the loss of three potentially devastating forwards, Magrath only after ten minutes and Giffard and Ireland during the second half made impossible inroads on our resources despite the fine efforts of their replacements Murphy, Crawford and Shillington who had contributed so effectively to the win of the 2nd XV immediately prior to this match. A series of unforgivable mistakes near our own line during the second half gave St Joseph's chances which they gleefully accepted. Although Kearins had placed some pressure on the opposing defences with his high kicks our inability to clear cleanly near our own line brought about our failures. Firstly a dropped ball was toed through by their centres and was lost over our line only to be dived on by one of their players under the posts (0-13). Then a loose pass was scooped up by their right winger who showed our defence a clean pair of heels as he scooted over in the corner (0-17). It was ironic as this winger had been wrong-footed only moments before by Breslin's mercurial change of pace in what appeared to be the beginning of a brighter passage for us. The score did not provide all the gloom, since with the many injuries, play did not finish until close to 5.00 p.m. in the fast gathering eerie gloom.

So St Joseph's increased their competition victories against us since 1907 to 68 which towers loftily over our 12 wins in the same time.

14th July v S.H.S. At Home. Won 34-3
6 tries, 4 conversions. S.H.S. 1 penalty.

In the past twenty years we had beaten High at home only twice before this game. The margin of victory today was the largest since 1934 when we beat them 40-0. But all these statistics and, indeed, just about all else in the match, took second place to Will Cummins astounding five tries. Since Riverview's entry into the G.P.S. Competition in 1907 the greatest number of tries scored by one player in a competition game was 4 — shared by Pat Meagher in 1915 and Laurie Henrys in 1917. Now Cummins, with two tries in the first half and three in the second, broke this 67 year old record.

The tries were the result of our enterprising backs, seemingly revitalised after the disappointments of last week. After ten minutes' play Kearins spied a gap, ran into it and kept going. Cummins loomed up on his right, accepted his pass and cut infield past three grasping defenders to score near enough to the posts for Hunter to convert (6-0). His second try, five minutes before the break, was the team's best try of the season. From a loose maul on halfway Thorp's pass found Kearins then Prichard. Hunter joined in the line and made the break that gave Dempsey the room to feed Murphy who had broken quickly from the maul. Murphy's overhead pass went through Hunter and Prichard and finally Cummins dived over a fine passage of eight passes (10-0).

Just after half time, and after High had kicked a penalty goal (10-3) it was Hunter who set up Cummins' third try, when he again joined the line and sent him away to score a try which Hunter converted (16-3). Only minutes later High's quarter line drop out was fielded expertly by Magrath who set the maul confidently. The back line, by this time quite used to passing the ball, got away again, and again Dempsey scooped up a low pass, fed Weston this time who had the great satisfaction of allowing Cummins to equal the record (22-3). In somewhat of a procession, Thorp ran wide from another well-set maul and found Eather. But, instead of Cummins, Hunter had come up to join the back line and it was he, with Cummins outside him, who scored our fifth try, which he duly converted (28-3). Ninety seconds before full time we were on our own line, packing down a scrum with High to put the ball in. All possibility of the record being broken seemed to have gone. However, O'Dea won a tight head and Kearins cleared with a strong kick to the left touch line. From the scrum, after the lineout, the back line swept up the right hand side again and, as the bell rang, Hunter passed to Cummins who cut in, beat three defenders and crossed for his fifth try under the posts (34-3). The cries of congratulations were well deserved.

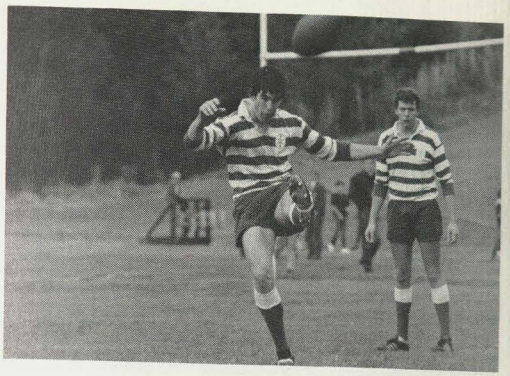

21st July v T.S.C. At home. Won 4-3
S.I.C. 1 try. T.S.C. 1 penalty.

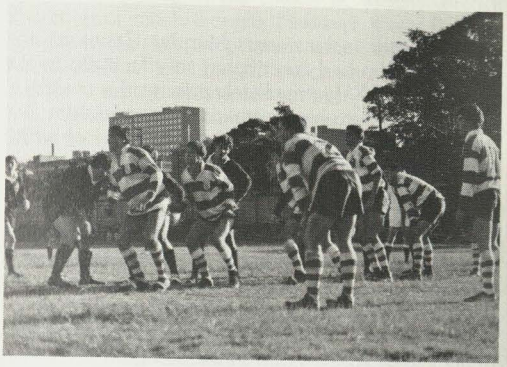

Played in quite warm conditions on the morning of the first test against the All Blacks, this game produced much excitement and sustained pressure from both sides. Our narrow victory took us to second place in the competition and was a pleasant end to the fourteen years coaching career of Mr L. Kirkpatrick.

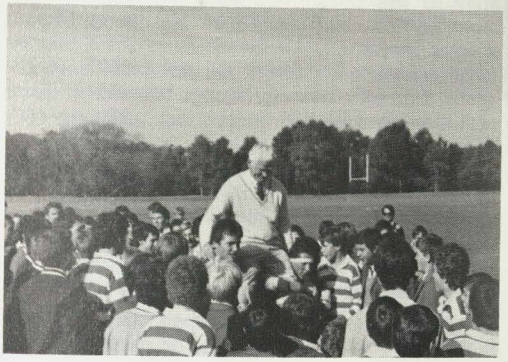

Although we played without Eather and Breslin and had Thackray playing for the first time and Kehoe filling in at centre our backs looked decidedly crisp and businesslike in the early exchanges as Cummins, appetite whetted by last week's extravaganza, went looking for the ball at every opportunity. Scots had been a strong force in their six games, but we handled the high kicks from their inside backs with certainty and Kearins even had them retreating as his left foot kicks made much ground up the blind side.

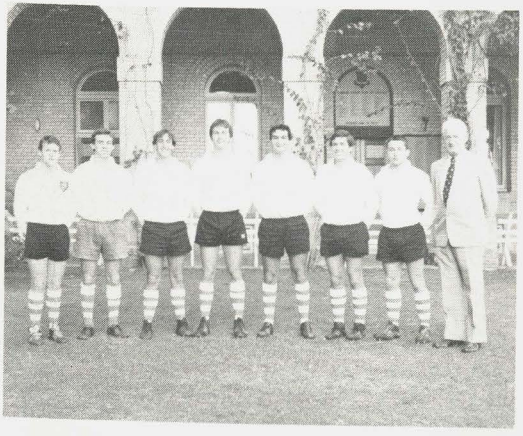

In an extraordinary incident half way through the first half Thorp intercepted the Scots half's pass, intended for the full back and slipped it away to Weston on the blind side and he scored his third try for the competition (4-0). At this stage our defence was solid as Murphy again led the way. Dempsey with damaging running, Thorp with confident passing and O'Dea with quick striking to take three tight heads all, kept Scots hemmed in their own territory and unable to make any substantial impact.

During a gripping second half our defence was called on for sustained effort. A series of five metre scrums on our line left our forwards exhausted but unmoved. Campbell at prop played with magnificent inspiration during this time. A penalty goal reduced our lead to one point (4-3), and this was the lead that we desperately clung to until a much appreciated final whistle. We were not without chances. Steady passing along the back line gave Cummins room on the left wing. His kick ahead and exultant dive for the ball brought nothing for he was ruled to have lost the ball over the line. Hurried drop goals and penalties were missed by both sides in the desperate last moments of the season. But the final whistle brought victory and some emotional scenes as Mr Kirkpatrick was carried through his deserved tunnel for the last time.

There were seventeen teams in this group, the largest group among them the Under 13s — eight teams.

Under 13s

The Under 13s played 69 games, won 47 of them, lost 17 and drew 5 — a good season, if one regards winning games as success. What was even better than their winning was the spirit in which they played, the good sportsmanship, the noticeable improvement as the season progressed and the fun they had each Saturday on which they played.

As is always the case the lower grades were penalised in many ways. It was not always easy to get games for them, and their stars were promoted to higher teams. But the rank and file never threw in the towel, played each game to the best of their ability in true sportsmanship.

The A team played 10 games, won 6, lost 3 and drew 1. They had a happy and successful season and showed such improvement that in the last four games they did not have their line crossed even by St. Joseph's, who until they met our As were undefeated.

The Bs played 9 games against outside teams, won 5, lost 3 and drew 1. Their best back was J. de Carvalho, their best forward D. Phair.

The Cs, ably led by M. Henry, had a fine season. Of the 9 games they played they won 7 (some of them by great margins), and lost 2, both by narrow margins. Their best back was R. O'Dea, their best forward I. Crawford.

The Ds fared even better than the Cs. They won all of their 9 games very comfortably, in 7 of them their opponents did not score at all. They scored a massive 218 points 'for' compared to a meagre 28 'against'. Their best back was B. Pidcock, the best forward N. Long.

The Es played nine games, won 8 and lost 1. Nothing to complain about there! Their best back was C. Robilliard, best forward R. Dougan.

The Fs played 9 games, won 7, lost 1, drew 1. Their best back was T. Lynch, best forward R. Ward.

The Gs played eight games, won 3, lost 3, drew 2. Their best back was R. Webb, best forward P. Burns.

The Hs played 6 games, won 2, lost 4. Their best back was J. Duck (living in the shadow of his distinguished father!), best forward G. Gasnier.

Under 12

There were 3 teams in this group. They played 27 games, won 20, lost 5 and drew 2.

The A team were a talented group. In 10 matches they scored 152 points 'for' to 26 'against'. Their line was crossed by only one team. Shore was their Achilles' heel on both occasions. The forward skills and teamwork improved with every game, while the naturally gifted backs were combining well towards the end of the season. C. Robberds won the best and fairest award, the best back was M. Merzian, the best forward J. Clementson.

The Bs lost only one game in the season, and that, by one point 3-4, to S.J.C. They were a constant challenge to the A team, and three of their best forwards were promoted from their ranks. They scored 180 points 'for' to 20 points 'against'. Their best back was S. Wickman, their best forward A. Wardle.

The Cs won 5 games, lost 2 and drew 2. They were ably led by L. Hickey who had great support from his vice-captain, D. Weston. They scored 162 points 'for' to 58 'against'. Their best back was A. O'Kane, best forward D. Weston.

Preps I and II

The two prep teams played fifteen games, won 3, lost 11 and drew 1. Both teams had a hard season against well-prepared and well-drilled opponents, and it was only towards the end of the season that the talent in both sides began to make itself evident. To their credit they never once gave in. The Prep I captain, C. McGlynn, won the award for the best and fairest player. The best back was S. Childs, the best forward D. Hazard. In Prep II the best back was M. Ward, the best forward D. Last.

Under 11s

The A team had a fine season. They were undefeated, they won all games except for a 0-0 draw, their line was never crossed. They scored 154 points 'for' to 8 'against'. They played as a team, always made the first twenty minutes count by running hard and tackling well; from then on they watched the opposition wilt. N. Hill and I. Tucker were good 'generals'. The latter won the award for best and fairest. The best back was W. Macdonald, the best forward A. Russell.

The Bs were not as fortunate. They won 2 of their games, lost 3 and drew 1. S. Booth was their best back, B. Samuels the best forward.

Under 10s

This was their first season of Rugby for many of the boys in this group, and they had a hard time against more experienced players. Of the 13 games they played they won 2, lost 10 and drew 1. However, they kept to their job, improved gradually through the season and played some fine games.

In the As the best and fairest award went to P. Grattan, the best back was T. Deloughery, the best forward A. Day. In the Bs M. Brentnall was the best back, B. Lynch the best forward.

AUSTRALIAN RULES FOOTBALL

After a lapse of ninety-two years Australian Rules Football was played again on our fields as one of the winter sports. Two teams, an Under 18 and an Under 16, were entered in the North Shore-Warringah Football Association.

Our Under 18 team, known as the 1st XVIII, was composed of a training squad of thirty players, some of whom had played regularly in the past years and others who knew very little about the game. Some of our experienced players had been playing for teams in the North Shore League during 1983, others had played in other states before their families moved to Sydney.

The Under 18 team won three games during the season, and through earning additional points through byes and forfeits only narrowly failed to reach the finals of the competition.

Andrew Wakim and Tony Lambert who had both played for Willoughby in previous years were appointed Captain and Vice-Captain of the team. Their experience and leadership contributed a great deal to the enjoyment of the season. Tony as centre half back and ruckman earned his Best and Fairest award. Andrew who was the runner-up, played most of his games in the centre.

The season may have been completed with even greater success had it not been for injuries to three of our more experienced and skilful players, Dominic Jones, Roger Graham and Michael O'Dell.

Five new players who quickly picked up the skills of the game were Jeremy Gale, John Allsopp, Marc Coleman, Michael Bowers and Karl Nyman. Others who had some experience who provided some depth to our teams, especially when playing against some of the stronger teams, like St Ives, included Tony Tonge, Gerald Stack, David Clark, Tom Parnell, David Clowes and Russell Fisher.

One of the most pleasing aspects of our first season in modern times (!) was the enthusiasm and interest which were generated within the team and the friendship that developed as a result.

Many of the players will be returning to school next year, Stephen Wills, Sean Crichton-Browne, Eric Daley, Andrew Green, Greg Mulley, Richard Harding, Andrew Rennie, so that we can look forward to further progress in 1985.

Mr Frank Monagle, as Club Manager, contributed a great deal to the establishment of the teams during the season. Special thanks should be given to Sam Stephens who was our goal umpire and to Angus Bucknell who earned his Best Team Man award.

This team also played in the North Shore-Warringah District Competition.

In the early practices it became very clear that there were a few experienced skilful players and many keen, inexperienced ones. However, with the help of some Sydney Swans and our own coaches, the skills of kicking and hand-ball developed well. In the early games most of our players were mystified by some of the rules of the game, but these were gradually understood. Then, in spite of many team changes, because of our large numbers, team work developed and to our pleasant surprise we played and defeated Willoughby in the first semi-final. We were defeated in the final by Forest who, in turn, were defeated in the grand final by St Ives. We congratulate St Ives on their fine play and good sportsmanship.

Our Best and Fairest Award went to Luke Sullivan whose skill and determination were outstanding. We had a number of skilful players, among them Alex MacDowell, Bill Allen, Troy Collins, Peter Fallon, Tim Stack, Andrew Ashton, Stuart Rathborne, Jamie Munster, David Webber.

There were too many strong and determined players: Peter Mackay, Tim Shillington, Adam Phillips, Rohan Vanner, John Castley, Sean Cunial, Adrian Grew and Andrew Reid.

These and all the others (there were thirty-eight boys on the Under 16 training list) brought credit on themselves as they helped to establish a new sport. Special thanks must be given to Mr Frank Monagle, Fr Norden, Mr John Murray, Mr A. Webber (who was our permanent goal umpire), Fr B. McCoy, S.J., Mr E. Dooley, S.J., Mr Collins (who provided oranges at every game) and all the parents who gave us their support.

We were pleasantly surprised to be presented with the trophy for outstanding sportsmanship, an award to one team among nearly forty teams in the North Shore-Warringah Australian Football Association.

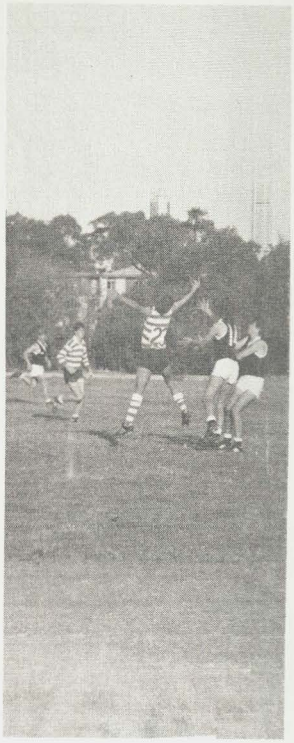

Well done Under 16s!

Soccer made its debut at the school this year, and, after some weeks sorting teams out and settling down we ended up with seven teams. A First, Second and Third XI, an Under 14 and three Under 13 teams. During the season we were able to secure games for most of these teams with the other independent schools who were also playing the game.

If one measures success by wins our results, as was to be expected, were poor, but good, if one is concerned with gaining experience, improvement and wholehearted participation.

The two pleasing features of the season were the success of our First and our Under 12 teams. At the top our senior players performed remarkably well against more experienced players and they improved noticeably as the season progressed.

Their improvement can be gauged from our two games against St. Aloysius. At the beginning of the season St. Aloysius came to Riverview to play the inaugural match. Thjey defeated us soundly, 6-1. Towards the end of the season the two teams met again for the first annual fixture for the Fr Whiteley Cup, a trophy donated by an Old Aloysian. In this match we drew with St. Aloysius, one goal each, and are to share the trophy for the next twelve months.

The success of our Under 12 team was very pleasing. Of the ten games they played they lost only two, and by narrow margins. Their performance promises well for the future.

On the whole the school has accepted soccer well and the future of the game looks bright.

Two players from our Firsts, Wayne Spice and Andrew Wilson, were chosen in a Combined Independent Schools' team to play the combined Associated Colleges. Spice added to his laurels by being selected to play as goalie against the Combined High Schools.

Altogether, a most impressive first year for Soccer here at Riverview.

Wayne Spice, goalie for the Combined Independent Schools.

G.P.S. Athletic Meeting

With the win in the Senior Championships by 17 points the school completed a hat-trick, a feat achieved only four times since 1892. The Junior Team finished a creditable fourth in a competition which was won by the talented Grammar.

Senior Championship

This Championship consists of 28 events, 22 championship and 6 Division events. When there were 9 events still to be run St Joseph's had a lead of 23 points; but we managed to gnaw away at this advantage and win by 16 points. D. Jones completed a rare double by winning again the 100m in 10.8, as he had done last year. The previous week at The King's Carnival he set a new record with a blistering 10.6. He teamed up with R. Smith, T. Hackett and R. Kearins to win the 4 × 100m Relay and seal the championship.

J. Ward showed his usual good form and composure to be well placed in the Hurdles and second behind J. Payre, his arch rival for several years, in the Shot Put.

J. O'Loughlin in his first year of competitive running finished second in the 800 m Division in 1.59.3, a commendable performance.

To run the 4 × 400 Relay A. Dempsey (S.I.C.) and W. Cummins (S.J.C.) came back to the Sports Ground, and together with the rookie of the year, D. Craig, and the steady A. Meagher, were successful; the win was secured by the well-controlled, thoughtful run of the rookie.

J. Dynon, A. Hill and J. Mayo, though they did not win their races, gained valuable points for us.

Among the Under 17 events the wins of M. Frawley and P. O'Brien in the 100m and 800m respectively were fine efforts. Frawley also teamed up with T. Flanery, M. Todd and C. Chalmers to win the 4 × 100 relay and equal the school record. P. Oxenham's run in the 1500m came at a vital stage of the Championship struggle with S.J.C. He ran his best race of the season and edged the S.J.C. runner out of valuable points.

T. Cross, P. Evans, S. Rathborne, J. Madigan and D. Maher completed this age group and all performed creditably.

But the Championship was sealed by two fine athletes, T. Flanery (U17), whose allround sprinting ability gained him first places in the 200m and 400m and an unlucky 7th place in the 100m, and Ray Smith, whose versatility was again to the forefront and he gained for us 95 points on the day. In his six years as a G.P.S. competitor he has amassed 482 points, truly a magnificent effort. His highlights at these sports were his record breaking leap of 6.97m in the Long Jump and his wins in the 100 Division, the 200m and the 400m.

Junior Championship

Some of the highlights were as follows:

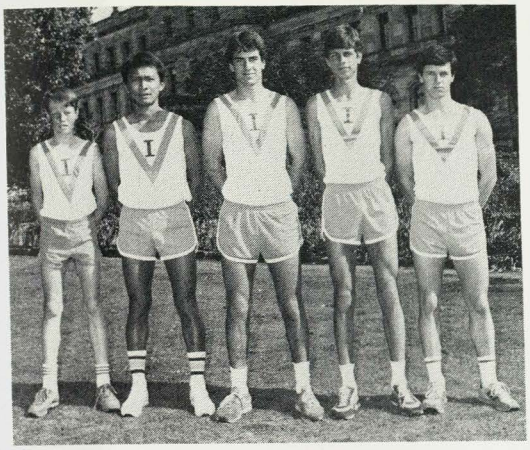

Under 13. J. Gosper showed outstanding ability in the shot put to set a new school record of 12.63 and be one of four athletes to better the G.P.S. record before finishing. C. Delaney jumped well in both the High and Long Jumps and displayed potential as did W. Ryan (Hdls) and N. Berecry, the grade five flyer. C. Phillips also did well on his events.

M. Mallick in the Under 14 Group won the Long Jump in fine style again this year. S. Bennett and D. Russell, the distance runners, improved considerably this year and for them the future looks bright. J. Ngiam, a new athlete this year, strengthened our sprinting events and did well in the 100m and 200m.

In the Under 15 J. Terry, after severely tearing his hamstring muscle during the football season, made a remarkable recovery to win the High Jump with a leap of 1.70m. Our Hurdlers C. Butcher and R. Hunt showed great improvement during the season, as did our workhorse, shot put sprinter D. Shillington.

M. Reede, by winning the 100m hurdles in 14.3 set yet another school record. D. Donkin was our consistent performer with the shot put, as was J. Kwan in the sprints; but the highlight of the group was the winning double of J. Daru in the Long and High Jumps.

The Teams are indebted to the Smith, Flanery and Cheok families for the use of their facilities, their homes and expertise.

Under Age Champion Athletes
C. Phillips, J. Ngiam, D. Shillington, J. Daru, T. Flanery

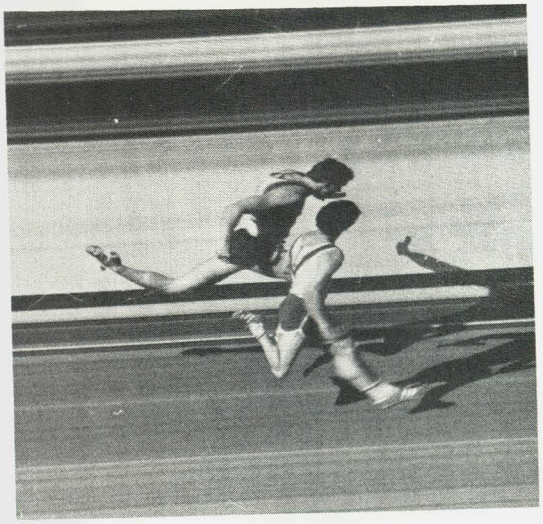

Thanks are due also to the coaches and the whole school for the support and encouragement given throughout the season.

State Relays

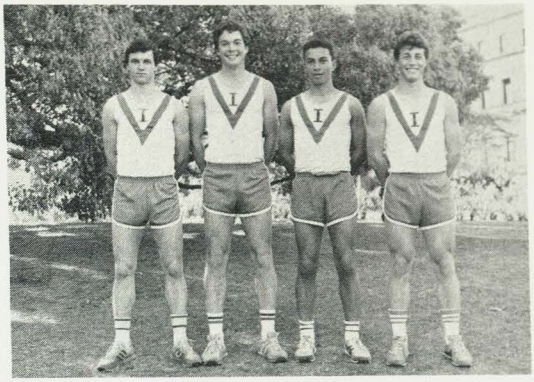

On Saturday, 13 October our Under 17 G.P.S. Relay Team contested the State Schoolboy 4 × 100 and 4 × 200 relays and won both. In doing so they beat Waverley who had not been beaten in five years. Congratulations on a fine result.

In the 4 × 800 Under 17 our team of N. Westhoff, B. Power, T. Cross and P. O'Brien won second place.

Inter-House Sports

This year the Inter-House Sports were held on September 27th, later than usual because the earlier date set aside had been washed out. Because of the closeness of the H.S.C. Year 12 did not take part and events involving the Open Champion Athlete of the School were run off at other times.

The boys of the Junior School, already allotted to their Houses, joined the Senior School for the day.

The weather was perfect, and this contributed in no small way to the happiness and success of the day.

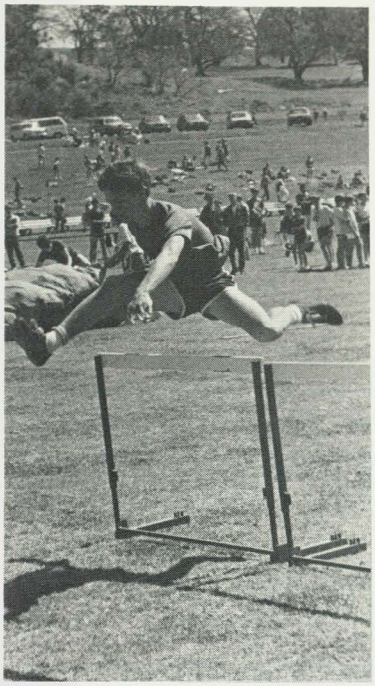

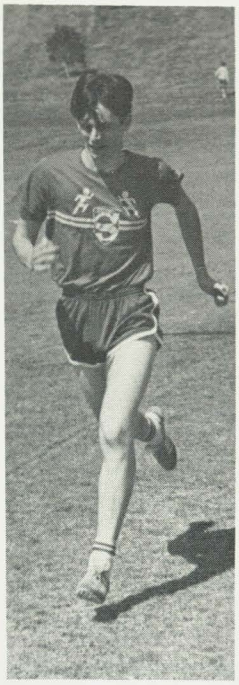

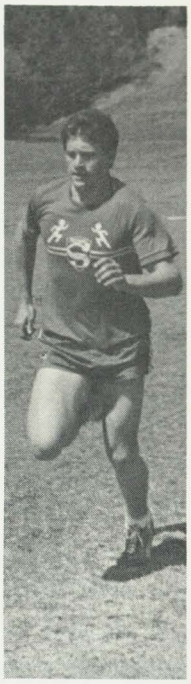

The competition was so intense and so close the final result was determined only with the last race of the day. The results were:

1st	Cheshire	396
2nd	Ricci	394
3rd	Southwell	355
4th	More	342
5th	Xavier	321
6th	Owen	318
7th	Claver	304
8th	Campion	286

The following champions emerged:

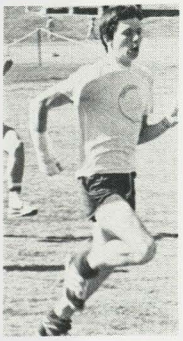

Open and Champion Athlete: R. Smith (Claver)
Under 17 T. Flanery (Xavier)
Under 16 J. Kwan (Claver)
Under 15 D. Shillington (Owen)
Under 14 J. Ngiam (Ricci)
Under 13 C. Phillips (Cheshire)
Under 12 N. Berecry (Claver)
Under 11 C. Fraunfelter (Southwell)

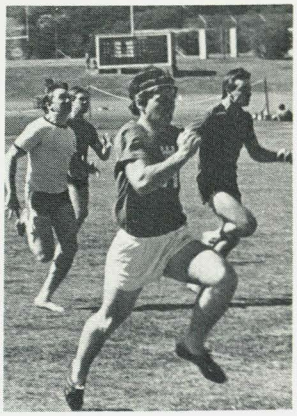

Records were equalled or broken in the fine performances of some individual runners.

CROSS COUNTRY (1984)

A boy who chooses Cross Country as his winter sport is involved in fun runs with thousands of other people, of all ages, as well as in races with a small number of boys of his own age. This mixture of events over roads, grass and bush trails makes the season interesting and challenging.
